STATE WITNESS THREATENED BY POLICE SLAYER

Peter [Piccolo Pete] Pace, confessed slayer of Policeman Patrick J. Ryan, threatened a prosecution witness yesterday in Judge Charles P. Molthrop's courtroom, where he is on trial for his life before a jury. The slayer made the threat in open court as he walked past the witness in custody of a baliff.

Edward J. Bergman, 3317 Palmer street, owner of a saloon at 3328 Armitage avenue, where Pace killed the policeman on Aug. 8, because Ryan refused to drink with him, was the witness whom Pace threatened. Bergman had just told the jury how the defendant had grabbed Ryan's revolver and shot him after blinding the policeman by throwing wine in his face. Pace made his threat as he passed Bergman on his way to an anteroom.

"You dirty . . . you'll get it," Pace said to the witness, in an undertone. The remark overheard by several witnesses was called to the attention of the judge by Prosecutor Charles S. Dougherty.

Judge Warns Defendant.

"You'll have to use different tactics in this court," the judge warned Pace after calling him before the bench. "You are on trial for your life and I want you to have a fair trial. However, if you do not conduct yourself properly I will be forced to take action which might prejudice this jury against you.

"You are the type of a man who would be the first to complain that you did not get a fair trial, yet you dare to come into open court and try to intimidate a witness. The state is also entitled to a fair trial of this case on its merits without threats to its witnesses."

The taking of evidence in the case was concluded as court adjourned last evening. Closing arguments will be made this morning and the case will go to the jury some time this afternoon.

Pace took the witness stand yesterday in his own behalf. He said that Policeman Ryan had refused to drink with him and had called him vile names. He said "in his excitement" he threw a glass of wine in the policeman's face. He told the jury that the policeman then drew his revolver and fired one shot in the air and another which just grazed his cheek. While he was grappling with the policeman the third shot was fired, he said.

No Powder Burns on Coat.

In rebuttal the prosecution produced witnesses who denied that the policeman had called Pace any names prior to the shooting. The coat of the slain policeman was also brought into court to show that it contained no powder burns and that the shooting could not have occurred at close range as Pace testified.

A second murder trial was started yesterday in the war on crime being conducted by the Criminal court judges under the leadership of Chief Justice Philip L. Sullivan. Mrs. Rose Scheck, mother of John Scheck, who is now under sentence of death for killing Policeman John Sevick, went on trial before a jury in Judge Harry B. Miller's court.

Mrs. Scheck is charged with having smuggled a revolver to her son, which he used to kill the policeman in an attempt to escape from a detention room adjoining Judge Molthrop's courtroom. Prosecutor Mal Coghlan is not asking the death penalty in this case. When court adjourned last evening four jurors had been selected in the case. The jury is expected to be completed this morning.

Defense Gets Setback.

At the outset of the trial the defense received a setback when Judge Miller refused to grant a petition to suppress a revolver barrel which was found in the basement of the Scheck home following the murder of the policeman. The revolver barrel was sawed off before the gun was given to Scheck.

A meeting of the Criminal court judges was called yesterday to discuss the crime war which has been lagging for the last week. Only one penitentiary sentence was imposed yesterday to bring the total to 269 since the campaign was started soon after Aug. 1 by Judge John Prystalski.

Plan to Rearrange Calls.

The ten judges now in the Criminal court were busy yesterday but most of them were occupied with minor cases. Chief Justice Sullivan will try,

HUNGER OF ARMY ADDS TO CUBA'S REVOLT PERILS

New Regime Finds Credit Shut Off.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

(Pictures on Back Page.)

HAVANA, Cuba, Sept. 12.—Food and gasoline became generals on horseback in Cuba's revolution today while 400 army and navy officers, beleaguered in the National hotel, and the soldiers doing the beleaguering, watched the battle and wondered when the other side would capitulate.

The officers are demanding that the new government of President Ramon Grau San Martin, who was inaugurated Sunday, the third president in thirty days, resign.

Officers Seize Hotel.

Possession of the hotel was taken by embattled army and navy officers tonight and incoming visitors now are stopped at the entrance by guards demanding the password and countersign.

None is admitted unless identified. The hotel management practically was forced to abdicate its control. Only a few American tourists are left in the establishment. The officers took over the kitchens and refrigerators, which are well stocked with supplies. Two aviation pilots, three artillery captains, and an infantry major put on aprons and served as cooks.

Régime's Credit Shut Off.

Food is running short for the army and navy, which is supporting the government, and the men are down to one square meal a day—and that not so abundant. Gasoline tanks are running low and the question is how long trucks can joy ride through the streets bearing soldiery hither and yon.

Credit is difficult. Food purveyors and oil companies decline to write it on the cuff, not knowing whether it will ever be paid if the next government declares the present one illegal.

The day was devoid of excitement, not even a porrista hunt taking place. The revolutionary forces, speaking of the next projected coup d'état, again fell back on Cuba's favorite word, "manana," meaning tomorrow. For the day, "Yes, we have no mananas" remained the battle hymn of the revolution.

Swear In New Cabinet.

Grau San Martin's new cabinet was sworn in today. Cameras ground away and spectators at the palace cheered. Havana business men say it is a weak cabinet. The members are:

State—Manuel Margues Sterling.
Treasury—Manuel Despaigne.
Justice—Joaquin Del Rio Balmaseda.
Education—Manual Costales Latatu.
Communications—Manuel Moreno.
Health—Dr. Carlos Juan Finlay.
Interior—Antonio Guiteras.
Presidential secretary—Ramiro Capablanca.

The portfolio of public works was offered to Eduardo Chibas, who held the same post under De Cespedes. Chibas did not accept immediately. The administration plans to split the department of agriculture, labor and commerce into two sections, with labor being put by itself. No selection has been announced for either portfolio.

Says Cuba Is "Free Again."

President Grau San Martin posed and spoke for the talkies. He said:

"At last Cuba is again free among civilized nations of the world. Cuba now has a stable government, all that we need for prosperity, and we hope that prosperity will come quickly."

Grau San Martin personally is well thought of among the many now working for the overthrow of his government on the argument that it was established by the five day junta which represented a minority of the revolutionaries.

A tall, lean figure with a long Spanish type visage and a short black mustache like Hitler's, Grau San Martin impresses one as a more forceful figure than De Cespedes, whom he succeeded. De Cespedes was of the ambassadorial type and the complaint against him was that he had no iron hand.

Noted as Professor.

Grau San Martin is a noted professor of physiology and has long been a leading surgeon on the island. In conversation he talks with a bedside manner. Spanish is the most athletic language in the world, and most Cu-

OLD TIME BOXER USES HIS PUNCH TO HELP A COP

An old time prize fighter, Danny Goodman, used his pugilistic skill last night in aiding a policeman who was fighting alone against two men.

The policeman, Roy Coutre of the Town Hall station, was off duty and with his wife when he noticed a disturbance at Wilson and Hazel avenues. He investigated and found two men quarreling with another over a minor motor accident.

Policeman Coutre stepped up and identified himself.

"O, you're a cop," sneered one of the men, according to Coutre's story. Then this man and his companion swung at the policeman. Coutre struggled with the men for more than twenty minutes, fearing to use his gun because of the crowd, estimated at 500, standing around. Just as the two attackers were forcing Coutre to the ground ex-Pugilist Goodman stepped up. He saw the uneven fight and smacked down one of the two men. Coutre took care of the other.

At the station the policeman's assailants identified themselves as Walker Glass, 33 years old, an engineer, and Harley Smith, 23, a salesman, both of 1127 Farwell avenue.

BUSINESS MAN IS SHOT IN BACK AND KILLED BY BANDIT

Nicholas Schwarz, 24 years old, was shot twice in the back and fatally wounded last night by a bandit who held him up in front of his home at 3430 Bosworth avenue. Police said the murder was one of the most wanton ever brought to their attention.

Schwarz, part owner of a filling station at Ashland avenue and Roscoe street, was returning home with the day's business receipts in a small box under his arm when the gunman surprised him from behind.

He forced Schwarz into the areaway between Schwarz's home and 3428 Bosworth avenue. All that happened is not definitely known except that the gunman shot Schwarz twice in the back, picked up the box and fled. He was seen running away by Miss Doris Krockenberg from her home at 3431 Bosworth avenue, across the street.

Police found Schwarz dying in the areaway, and his gun, which he carried for protection, lying in the dirt a few feet away. It had not been fired. It is believed he drew the weapon after being shot. He was taken to the John B. Murphy hospital where he died a few minutes later.

Two Special Sessions Is Horner Plan

BY PARKE BROWN.

There are to be two special sessions of the Illinois general assembly this year, according to Gov. Horner's present plans.

The governor returned to Chicago yesterday from Washington where he announced that a special session of the legislature will be convened on Oct. 3 and will be asked to vote $30,000,000 in bonds to provide funds for the continued operation of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission. When he arrived here he said he thought no other subject should be considered at that session.

The second extraordinary session which Gov. Horner foresees is the much discussed one for the enactment of liquor regulation laws to take effect when the repeal of the 18th amendment is completed by action of the thirty-sixth state to pass favorably upon it. No date has been selected yet for this second session. It is possible the two may run concurrently some of the time.

Wants Clear Track for Relief.

"Nothing must be allowed to interfere with the relief legislation or jeopardize it to the slightest degree," said Gov. Horner in discussing his reason for confining his first call to the one subject.

"One never knows what complications may arise in a legislature when more than one subject is under consideration. Controversies or animosities aroused by one subject may have a serious effect upon another. We must have the field clear for the relief fund bills and they must not be subjected to delays by other matters."

The governor has held for several months that there must be new state legislation when prohibition is terminated and his purpose has been to have it in effect the moment the end of the dry era arrives or as soon thereafter as possible, so that liquor may not flow as freely as water.

A Question of Legality.

But there has been a question whether such laws could be put into force before repeal is an accomplished fact. Some unofficial legal opinions have held that Illinois could not pass laws authorizing the sale of intoxicants so long as that sale is still forbidden by the federal constitution.

"We are looking into that question now," said Gov. Horner. "It may be possible that we can put our statutes on the books even before favorable action by thirty-six states is completed. In that event our legislature could go to work on this question as soon as the relief legislation is taken care of.

"But I do not want to ask the assembly to take up any subject until it is ready for presentation. For that reason I have asked Senator Harold G. Ward, chairman of the special commission on the subject of liquor regulation, to urge the commission to complete its work as rapidly as possible."

Opposes Return of Saloon.

The governor said that he had an open mind on many of the questions concerning the form of liquor control to be established in Illinois. But it is known that he is opposed firmly to two things—to the return of the old saloon and to the state's engaging in the liquor business. He declined to discuss such topics while they are under consideration by the Ward commission

Gov. Horner said he and the other members of the delegation who went to Washington were pleased by the assurance of more federal funds for Illinois relief. He said also that his talk with Secretary of the Interior Ickes satisfied him that Illinois will be treated justly in the matter of federal aid for public works.

SLAYER OF WIFE AND GIRL HANGS HIMSELF IN JAIL

Peter Kowalychyn, 42 years old, who killed his wife and his step-daughter with an ax during a fight in their home at 2921 Haynes court on Monday, ended his life in the county jail last night by hanging himself with a twisted pillow case.

He had been held to the grand jury for murder by a coroner's jury yesterday. At 5 o'clock Kowalychyn was taken to the county jail and placed in a receiving room cell preparatory to transfer to permanent quarters.

Farmers Vote to Keep Milk from Chicago

After listening to several speakers who declared they were "sick and tired of government red tape and inefficiency," 488 farmers voted last night at a meeting in the Woodstock Opera house to go on a milk strike against Chicago, beginning this morning. The vote was 442 for withholding supplies and 46 against.

Two hundred of those present were appointed "Paul Reveres" and agreed to spend the early hours today telephoning or visiting other milk producers in McHenry and Kane counties to urge them to join the strike.

Strikers List Three Demands.

Three demands were made by the striking farmers: [1] The system of paying for milk on a base and surplus system must be discontinued; [2] a flat price near the cost of production must be paid for all milk taken by Chicago dealers; [3] milk must be made a public utility.

At present the farmers receive $1.75 a hundred pounds for milk that is sold to consumers in bottles. For that devoted to other uses payment is on a butterfat content basis and the farmers' return for this is only about 85 to 90 cents a hundred, the whole supply purchased by Chicago dealers averaging about $1.25.

Promised Raise July 1.

"We were promised a raise on July 1," shouted E. L. Bost, a leader of the group. "We haven't had it. I for one am tired of waiting. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace has already said it was up to the farmers to save ourselves. Let's do it."

Another speaker was State Representative Thomas Bolger [Rep., McHenry], who said he had lost faith in the leadership of the Pure Milk association whose 18,000 members furnish practically all the Chicago supply, and that he was ready to hold back his own production.

The strikers said they expected support from the remainder of the 1,800 McHenry county producers and from Kane county. They said they also had the assurance of Walter Singler, radical leader of the Wisconsin milk pool, that his organization would go along with the strike.

Refuse to Delay Action.

Strike talk had been indulged in at a previous meeting Sunday in Woodstock, but it was decided then to confer with the federal milk administration in Chicago and with officials of the Pure Milk association. Delegates reported last night that they had been urged by the milk association to delay action until after Friday, as action was expected in Washington looking toward a price readjustment.

This brought loud criticisms to the effect that the milk code adopted and approved by Secretary Wallace was being freely violated in Chicago, and that there was no use temporizing.

Nearly all of those present are members of the Pure Milk association. The McHenry-Woodstock area has been a hotbed of trouble for months, however, and threats of strikes have been frequent.

The distributing companies, it was said, had no fear of a shortage of milk in the city unless the strike reaches much greater proportions. There is a large oversupply if all available sources of the raw product are drawn upon.

Gets Warrant for Owner of an Unmuzzled Horse

John Jackson, 42 years old, 3117 Prairie avenue, a Negro fruit peddler, was arrested yesterday by Des Plaines street police on the charge of permitting a vicious animal to be at large without a muzzle. The animal was Jackson's horse, "Cookie." Charles Sarsone, 42 years old, 703 West Randolph street, charged that the horse bit him on the jaw as he was passing through the Randolph market.

MARYLAND JOINS MINNESOTA AND COLORADO VOTE

Nine More to Decide by Nov. 7.

But Seven to Go

Three more states yesterday joined the procession lining up for support of the twenty-first amendment which repeals the prohibition amendment of the constitution. They were Maryland, Colorado, and Minnesota, making in all twenty-nine states of the thirty-six required to effect repeal.

Nine more states will vote on their respective prohibition stands by Nov. 7.

Latest returns are:

COLORADO—1,196 out of 1,547 precincts: For repeal, 122,766; against, 55,605.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Maryland today voted nearly 5 to 1 for prohibition repeal. It was the 27th state to go wet.

Not a single dry was elected as delegate to the state's repeal convention—to be made up of six delegates at large and three delegates from each of the six congressional districts.

In Baltimore city the wets polled a 10½ to 1 victory. At midnight it appeared that the drys had taken only one county, Dorchester, though two others were very close.

The Latest Figures.

With 1,303 of the state's 1,371 voting precincts having reported, the vote stood:

For repeal, 197,595; against repeal, 41,309; unpledged, 3,505.

The Baltimore city vote was 119,091 for repeal, 11,295 against, and 2,085 unpledged. That in itself was sufficient to assure the election of a wet convention majority, the city comprising all or part of four different districts.

The other sections of the state, however, followed suit. Former dry strongholds on the eastern shore swung over to the repeal side.

Gov. Ritchie Is Pleased.

Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, a repeal pioneer, in a statement issued tonight said the result "is a splendid justification for the stand against the 18th amendment which the Maryland people have consistently taken."

George W. Crabbe, superintendent of the Maryland Anti-Saloon league, in conceding victory for repealists, said: "From reports in known bootlegging sections it is plain that bootleggers voted wet as all sensible persons knew they would. From other sections it looks like many good people were mixed up in bad company."

Minnesota 2 to 1 for Repeal.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 12.—(AP)—The home state of Andrew Volstead, "father" of the prohibition enforcement law, tonight had repudiated the 18th amendment on the basis of incomplete returns from today's special referendum.

Representative reports, in some cases meager but in others fairly complete, continued to show a majority for repeal of slightly more than 2 to 1.

With 1,672 precincts heard from of 3,693 in the state the vote stood:

For repeal, 267,037; against, 125,904.

The drys displayed surprising strength on the basis of incomplete but representative returns from scattered areas in Minnesota. They drew their chief support in the strictly rural sections and in some instances either carried small cities and villages or were forced to concede narrow margins to repealists.

City Returns Are Slow.

Hennepin county, in which is located the state's largest city, Minneapolis, recorded 13,106 votes for repeal to 3,246 against on the basis of returns from only 50 of 405 precincts.

Ramsey county, with returns from three of 249 precincts, including some from St. Paul, gave 566 for repeal and 114 for retention of the dry law.

Winona county, in the southern part of the state, reported the largest majority for repeal with only meager returns in. Six of forty-one precincts in that county listed 700 votes for repeal and 100 against.

Colorado 2 to 1 Wet.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Wets scored a decisive victory in the Colorado repeal election today, winning, on the face of incomplete returns, by a 2 to 1 margin. The repeal forces carried Denver by more than 5 to 1.

Total votes from 1,196 of the state's 1,547 precincts gave: For repeal, 122,766; against, 55,605.

With Denver returns almost complete the count was: For repeal, 59,106; against, 9,764. Returns from a majority of the sixty-two counties in the state outside of Denver gave: For repeal, 54,251; against, 31,913. The outstate figures were for about 500 precincts out of 1,149.

Edward D. Nicholson, secretary of the Colorado Repeal league, claimed victory shortly after the polls closed at 7 o'clock and the first Denver precincts came in, giving repeal a tremendous majority.

The Rev. R. D. Dexheimer, state head of the Anti-Saloon league, early tonight admitted defeat for the dry cause, saying that in many instances drys remained away from the polls "as a protest."

Clean Sweep in Maine.

Portland, Me., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—With full returns in from yesterday's state-wide election, the big victory of the repealists in this birthplace of prohibition became more notable.

Delegates were elected by counties, and repeal candidates made a clean sweep, winning in every county. Maine becomes the 26th state to vote against the 18th amendment.

With only a few precincts missing, the state wide vote stood: For repeal, 112,249; against, 52,358.

BRITISH BEER IS SMASHED IN IRISH BOYCOTT WAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Sept. 12.—The anti-British beer campaign continued today. Early this morning a group of armed men arrived in a motor truck at the famous "Dead Man's" saloon near Lucan. After having drinks they produced guns and, going behind the counter, smashed dozens of beer bottles.

Then they put one of the proprietors, a man named Murray, a cousin of former President William T. Cosgrave, in the truck, blindfolded him and drove to the Dublin mountains, where they stripped him, took his wallet containing about $100, and left him with only a shirt, shivering in the cold morning air.

When Murray protested he was offered a pair of light shorts, on the seat of which were printed the words, "Boycott British." Murray walked several miles across the mountains before obtaining assistance.

BRITISH CABINET MAN SAVED FROM CRIPPLED BOAT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BRIGHTON, England, Sept. 12.—J. H. Thomas, secretary for dominions, was rescued with three companions today after the engine of his motor fishing boat broke down three miles out at sea.

Mr. Thomas, who is spending his vacation here, and his companions made distress signals with handkerchiefs tied to an oar. Heavy seas were threatening to capsize the boat when a lifeboat arrived and rescued the party.

The cabinet minister set out this afternoon on a fishing trip in his new 16 foot craft from Hove, near Brighton. When the engine failed, the occupants of the boat took to their oars but were unable to make headway because of a heavy gale and an outgoing tide. The boat, which was drifting to sea, rapidly filled with water and all four took turns at the pump until rescued.

PLACED ON PROBATION.

Frank Gutemiedl, 20 years old, 2252 Geneva terrace, who has been a prisoner in the county jail since his automobile injured two persons on Aug. 9, was placed on probation for a year yesterday by Judge Eugene J. Holland.

64 Per Cent of Population for Repeal

In the twenty-nine states which up to and including yesterday have voted on the wet-dry issue (all voting for repeal) there was 64 per cent or nearly two-thirds of the population of the United States. Seven more states for repeal will knock out the eighteenth amendment.

The popular vote on repeal in twenty-five of the twenty-nine states was 10,298,939 for repeal and 3,265,798 against it. In the three states that voted yesterday the total popular vote is not yet obtainable; in Nevada the vote is not announced, though all the delegates elected were for repeal. The figures to date:

| State— | Population | Date of Election | —Result of Vote— | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | | For | Against |
| Michigan | 4,983,000 | April 3 | 850,546 | 287,931 |

Sept. 19, Idaho, New Mexico; Oct. 3, Virginia; Oct. 10, Florida; Nov. 7, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Utah, South Carolina, Kentucky. Altogether thirty-nine states will have voted by Nov. 7. Thirty-six are sufficient to knock out the eighteenth amendment.

HULL TELLS U. S. STAND ON CUBA; NO INTERFERENCE

Lets Island Work Out Own Problems.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Disturbed by increasing threats of an armed clash between the new Cuban government and Havana's besieged army officers, the Roosevelt administration gave notice today it would follow a line of strict neutrality between the island's opposing factions.

Although reiterating both publicly and privately the desire to avoid intervention in Cuba, some officials were known to feel that it might be necessary to land American armed forces should shots be fired in Havana.

Americans in Danger Zone.

The tense conflict of interests centering around the National hotel, where more than 300 defiant officers of the old Cuban army are barricaded, was described by several observers here as presenting dangers analogous to an open powder box.

Ambassador Welles had been a resident at the hotel until today and some other Americans were believed to be staying on there. Should either the heavily armed officers inside or members of the army they once commanded decide to open fire, this country's nationals might well be endangered.

Secretary Hull, determined to offer no provocation to any one faction by siding with another, indicated the United States would pursue a strictly hands off policy until Cuba solved "her own political problems."

The secretary of state late last night awakened his aids to dictate a formal statement to this effect and it was transmitted hurriedly to newspaper offices. Administration advisers today said privately Hull had been motivated, at least in part, by the dangers surrounding the National hotel when he said:

"The government of the United States has no interest in behalf of or prejudice against any political group of independent organization which is today active in the political life of Cuba."

Warship to Stay in Cuba.

Hull himself told newspapermen at a press conference today he did not desire to amplify his statement or interpret his reasons for issuing it at midnight. He said it spoke for itself. It was indicated he felt the formal statement of American neutrality would have a calming effect.

The secretary of state, in telling newspapermen today that early reports indicated the Cuban situation was generally quiet, added that no consideration had been given to withdrawing any of the warships that now are drawn up around Cuba.

W. C. T. U. IS HOPEFUL DESPITE MAINE VOTE FOR DRY LAW REPEAL

Returns showing that Maine had voted to discard the 18th amendment to the constitution failed yesterday to dismay the W. C. T. U. From the national headquarters in Evanston came a statement as follows:

"Maine has gone wet before now. The state repealed its Neal Dow dry law in 1856, a matter mourned by drys and hailed by the liquor traffic. But two years later Maine enacted a law dryer than the old one.

"The present wet strength, which is merely a majority of a very small part of the voters, will give way eventually another great movement."

New Government Finds Credit Shut Off.

bans talk it with leather lungs, with hands, arms, and shoulders getting much physical exercise. The president talks in low, well modulated tones, fluently, and in a professional manner.

One of his favorite words is "ideology," which leads the ABC, revolutionary organization which took the lead in ousting Machado, to ask how much he can raise on that word at the banks. He keeps appointments on the dot at the clinic.

Former President Mario G. Menocal, who said yesterday he would take rooms in the National hotel with the officers as their possible leader, changed his mind today and stayed home.

New Organizations Spring Up.

New organizations of a radical type are springing up like mushrooms. Each of the main organizations, like the ABC and the O. C. R. R., have their own brain trust and the island seems steaming in a fog of isms.

The ice strike is injuring tourist business in Havana bars. The United States cruiser Richmond sought to buy ice this morning, but had no luck. Waterfront orators jumped to the topic and soapboxed the crowds on the theme of "Let the Yankees make their own ice."

Inland conditions were reported critical at many points, with strikes going on and off at every rainstrom.

Near Jiguani Alfred Lora, former governor of Oriente province, was captured by soldiers and put on a train for Havana, to be confined. He is charged with being a leader of la porra, Machado strong arm gang, in Santiago de Cuba.

Underground Intrigue Continues.

Much subterranean negotiation is going on between revolutionary groups and the general sentiment is that the government may be overturned in the near future. Coups are executed overnight in Cuba without advance billing and the excitement generally starts about 10 p. m., after the heat of the day.

Overshadowing the welter of political and revolutionary activity, the humdrum of everyday matters has protruded, such as sugar, tariffs, loans from the United States to meet overdue pay rolls, a new reciprocity agreement with the United States, and recognition of the new government by that nation.

Secretary of the Treasury Despaigne said government employés would have a pay day at the end of September. It is estimated that the treasury had $1,250,000 a week ago when the junta shoved out President de Cespedes, and a month's pay for the army and navy is figured at about $520,000. The soldiers are insisting on a pay day, and without the army no revolutionary government can stand.

United States Ambassador Sumner Welles has left the National and gone to the Presidente hotel, because he could get no meals or service.

An ocean liner docked today. The tourists are getting a kick driving to the National hotel, being held up by soldiers, and then being ordered out of their cars, while the cushions are pulled out in a search for guns. It will be a swell story for the tourists when they get back home with imaginative details of bayonet proddings for garnishment.

CHARGE RUM RING HAS PROSPERED YEARS BY COAST GUARD BRIBE

New York, Sept. 12.—[Special.]—The existence of a large, prosperous rum ring which for seven years has had virtual immunity against the seizure of its rum boats as a result of information on the movements of coast guard vessels obtained through bribery was revealed today.

The federal attorney's office admitted the existence of the ring after it had been brought to light that on Sept. 5 two men, one a former coast guardsman, were secretly arraigned before a United States commissioner and were held in $7,500 bail each.

It is understood the investigation has been under way for months. Additional arrests are expected soon.

The men being held are William Robert Wharton, until last May, when he resigned, a chief yeoman in the coast guard, and Edward Farber, alias Sam Mandell, of Roselle, N. J. Farber, government officials said, is merely a small time member of the ring who served as the link between the liquor runners and Wharton, who is alleged to have supplied the information on the movement of the coast guard vessels.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 12.—(AP)—The epidemic of encephalitis in the St. Louis area continued to grow tonight, adding six to the death list since last night. Since July 30, when the inroads of the malady were first discovered, 126 have died and 741 have been afflicted.

New York, Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Five men stepped out of a sedan at 9th avenue and 24th street yesterday and hijacked a load of raw furs valued at $45,000 from Vincent Szcerbeckie, truck driver.

RESCUED BALLOON PILOTS REACH HAVEN IN CANADA

SUDBURY, Ont., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Still weary from harrowing experiences in reaching civilization, Ward T. Van Orman and Frank Trotter, American balloonists in the James Gordon Bennett race, arrived tonight and were taken to eat.

It was believed they would leave shortly by train for Akron, O., their home city. A six mile hike, a 40 mile ride on a gravel train, and a 25 mile auto ride brought them here from Thor Lake, the first settlement they struck after their crash in the north woods Sept. 3.

The aeronauts were found yesterday about 40 miles north of Sudbury after slowly breaking their way through the dense northern bush, affected by ptomaine poisoning and chilled by the cold nights. They left Chicago in the balloon Goodyear IX. Saturday, Sept. 2.

RUSH O'DONNELL BODYGUARD TO TRIAL AS 'VAG'

Triple Play Combination of Judges Functions.

In order that notorious hoodlums may be put out of circulation a "judicial infield" was functioning yesterday ready to take Sanford "Gimp" Rosenbaum, Edward "Spike" O'Donnell, and Jack "West Side" Barry from Green to Padden to Sonsteby.

Judge Thomas A. Green had issued vagabond warrants for the three. When they appeared before him yesterday and asked for changes of venue they were sent to Judge Frank A. Padden's court. With Judge Padden sat Chief Justice J. J. Sonsteby ready to preside at the trials if any of the defendants demanded a change of venue from Judge Padden.

Choose Judge Padden.

The three chose, however, to be tried before Judge Padden with a jury, so, taking them one at a time, Rosenbaum stepped up to face charges based on his own reputation. Under the new vagabond law, sponsored by Judge Sonsteby, the guilt of a defendant may be established by his reputation as a criminal. The maximum punishment is six months' imprisonment.

O'Donnell, 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighing about 200 pounds in good fighting condition, had preferred that Rosenbaum, who has a crippled leg and is of small stature, but nevertheless acts as Spike's bodyguard, be tried first. O'Donnell told the judge that his wife had a "fine roast pork dinner waiting for him," and besides one of his witnesses wasn't present. Judge Padden told him he would be tried today as soon as Rosenbaum's case goes to the jury.

Green Transfers Case.

Judge Green, before transferring the case to Judge Padden, asked O'Donnell:

"Do you think I am prejudiced against you?"

"No foolin', judge, you are," O'Donnell replied. Under the law he was entitled to a change of venue. Barry also objected to Judge Green, but not to Padden, so his case was set for trial tomorrow.

The selection of a jury in the Rosenbaum case took up most of the day. Defense Attorney Jay J. McCarthy appeared anxious to delay the taking of testimony until today, but when the twelfth juror was chosen Lieut. Andrew Barry was called to the stand as the first state witness.

"Rosenbaum is reputed to be an habitual violator of the criminal law," said Lieut. Barry, using words to comply with the statute defining a vagabond. "He is reputed to carry a gun and to be Spike O'Donnell's bodyguard."

Court Is Adjourned.

After his testimony court was adjourned until today. "Spike" and "Gimp" left after Spike had announced that he would study the law tonight and prepare himself to deliver his own closing argument. He said he would not depend on his lawyer but would ask the court's permission to address the jury in his own behalf. As head of a beer syndicate he is said to have met with considerable success in persuading speakeasy owners to buy his brew.

Rosenbaum, the defendant, has served two terms in prison. The first conviction was for murder, but after going to the penitentiary he was able to cast some doubt on his guilt and was freed. He served a term for "con" game and since then has been arrested several times, mostly with O'Donnell. Usually it was found that Rosenbaum carried a pistol while O'Donnell was unarmed.

Adduci to Face Padden.

James Micelli, who has a reputation as a hoodlum, was arraigned yesterday on a vagabond charge and agreed to stand trial before Judge Green. His case was set for Monday. James Adduci, west side link between politics and crime, was ordered to appear before Judge Padden Friday for trial.

Judge Padden, it appeared yesterday, is likely to be the trial judge in a number of vagabond cases. He was first assistant corporation counsel for many years before being elected to the bench. He has served as acting chief justice whenever his services were needed in that capacity.

His first ruling in the Rosenbaum case was contrary to the precedent set last week by Judge Robert J. Dunne, who held that the state was limited in its evidence of vagrancy to the period since July 10, when the new law became effective. Judge Padden's ruling was that a reputation covers a matter of years, not days.

Judge Green yesterday issued a fugitive warrant for the arrest of James "Fur" Sammons, for whom he previously issued a vagabond warrant. Sammons had forfeited two bonds before Judge Michael Feinberg rather than appear and be arrested on the vag warrant.

The warrant issued by Judge Green calls for Sammons' arrest on a charge of robbery in Baltimore. Bail was set at $100,000.

MUTINY REPORT CALLS POLICE TO EXCURSION SHIP

Rumors of a mutiny plot among the crew of the lake excursion steamer Isle Royale, which is docked at the Michigan avenue bridge, were investigated by police last night and found to have been started by loafers who did not belong aboard the boat.

Police squads under Sergt. John Kratzmeyer were summoned by deputy federal marshals, in charge of the boat, when reports that the crew of 118 planned to flood the boilers were received.

The Isle Royale was seized by deputy marshals Monday on an order issued by Federal Judge John P. Barnes after members of the crew had filed a libel action to recover back wages of $14,000. George M. Cox, owner of the vessel, was ordered to show cause why the boat should not be sold to satisfy the wage claims, the summons being returnable Oct. 2.

DISCHARGE AUTO SLAYER.

Nicholas Jawlinski, 44 years old, 2849 North Hamlin avenue, was discharged yesterday on a charge of manslaughter growing out of an accident in which his automobile struck and killed Joe Bleiweiss, 2439 Walton place, Aug. 10. Witnesses told Judge Thomas A. Green that the accident was unavoidable.

he said, to rearrange the court calls so as to give precedence to five classes of cases considered the most important to the community. These are murder, robbery, burglary, automobile larceny, and rape cases.

The permanent assignment of eleven judges to the criminal court was decided on yesterday by the executive committee of the Superior and Circuit courts. They are Judges Philip L. Sullivan, Donald S. McKinlay, Walter P. Steffen, Francis Allegretti, James J. Fardy, Thomas J. Lynch, Michael Feinberg, Harry B. Miller, William B. Brothers, Charles P. Molthrop, and either Judge Walter L. La Buy or Benjamin P. Epstein. Judge Michael L. McKinlay, who was also given a Criminal court assignment, will hear criminal bail cases in the county building.

The new plan will call for the assignment of one more judge to fill one vacant courtroom in the Criminal court and another judge to hear bail cases in the county building. Under this system all confidence game and embezzlement cases and those of a minor nature can be disposed of in the county building courts, while judges in the Criminal court are pushing to trial crimes of violence cases.

Congressman Visits Courts.

Congressman Hatton W. Sumner of Dallas, Tex., chairman of the house judiciary committee, was a visitor at the Criminal court yesterday. Although primarily in Chicago to make arrangements for his committee to inquire into federal equity receiverships and bankruptcy cases, Mr. Sumner said he was interested in the local crime war.

"Chicago is entitled to the respect of the country for leading the way in cleaning up the crime situation," said Congressman Sumner, after a conference with Judge Sullivan.

FOUNDER OF CULT DEFENDS NUDISM AT FAITH SESSION

Minimizes Sex Interest, Speaker Declares.

Nudism was defined as "a breaking of the taboo on the sight of the body" before the Fellowship of Faiths meeting last night at the Morrison hotel by Henry S. Huntington, one of the founders of the International Nudist conference and a former clergyman.

In the first place, said Mr. Huntington in his attempt to give nudism a place in religious acceptance, it minimizes sex interest.

"This is a primary effect which everybody who has tried nudism immediately notes," he said. "Nudism secures all the physical benefits of sun bathing and much besides. It produces quite remarkable psychological and social results and may have decided effects upon the character. Nudism interests religious people."

Free Spent Brethren.

Early Christians wore nothing when they were baptized, Mr. Huntington said, and in the 13th century the Brethren of the Free Spirit favored social nudity. He also pointed to the Doukhobors as indicative that freedom from clothing may have something in common with freedom of spirit.

Mr. Huntington related several cases in which he said nudism freed individuals of "evil thoughts."

"The nudist has learned that by making a change in one of the physical circumstances of life, there has been a spiritual change," he said. "It has not come by prayer, it has not been by faith, it has not been by a mystic process of so-called union with the infinite, that he comes to this new 'moral' quality. It is by a mere physical change to a custom which, he now has no doubt, fits the human spirit better than does the ordinary custom of so-called civilization."

Earlier in the day Mr. Huntington suggested that nudism would provide opportunities for leisure time under the NRA. He also asserted that employés would find their employés returning to work with fresher minds and bodies after exercise at nudist camps.

Plans for Defense.

Attorney Kenneth K. Krippene, who has been retained by the International Nudist conference to aid a Michigan law firm in defending 30 members of a nudist colony near Allegan, yesterday announced plans for the defense.

"I will invite the judge or the jury to live at, or at least visit the camp," Attorney Krippene said. "Then they can see for themselves that no element of immorality is involved in social nudity as practiced by member groups of the conference."

Several Chicagoans are among the 15 couples, most of them married, who were seized in a woodland retreat ten miles from Allegan. They are charged with indecent exposure and trespassing.

Will Ask for Dismissal.

Attorney Krippene said he would seek immediate dismissal of the trespassing charges against all but Fred Ring and his wife, who operated the Sunshine Sports league camp, as the colony was called. These charges were placed because the nudists allegedly waded beyond the middle of a stream which bounded the 35 acres owned by Ring.

"I not only expect to win acquittal on the exposure charges but I expect many of the people of Michigan to follow the nudist movement after the trial," the lawyer said.

ROBBERY TOLL IN GOLD COAST HOTELS HEAVY

Many Held Up Since First of Year.

Hotels on the near north side, especially those in the wealthy Streeterville and Gold Coast districts, have proved a happy hunting ground for bandits during the present year, an inspection of police records showed yesterday.

At least 36 hotel robberies have taken place, or have been attempted, in that area since Jan. 1. Some of the hotels were robbed two and even three times in the last eight months. Most of the robberies took place late in the evening or in the early morning, when the bandits found lobbies of the buildings deserted except for the clerk on duty.

A list of the robberies shown on police records follows:

CEDAR HOTEL, 1118 North State street, April 11, three men got $133; Aug. 28, two men got $86; Sept. 5, three men got $90.

240 EAST DELAWARE HOTEL, Jan. 29, one man got $125; Feb. 7, one man got $31; April 7, two men got $14.

PEARSON HOTEL, 198 East Pearson street, Feb. 22, one man got $73; May 5, four men got $289.

HOTEL EASTGATE, 162 East Ontario street, June 14, two men got $350; Sept. 6, four men got $150.

HOTEL SENECA, 200 East Chestnut street, June 20, four men got $164; Sept. 11, four men got $1,000.

HOTEL AMBASSADOR WEST, 1300 North State street, May 30, five men got $1,050.

HOTEL AMBASSADOR EAST, 1301 North State street, May 5, four men got $895.

CASS HOTEL, 640 North Wabash avenue, July 3, two men got $170.

DEARBORN PARK HOTEL, 1500 North Dearborn street, $50.

ELM HOTEL, 14 West Elm street, Aug. 15, two men got $300.

MARK TWAIN HOTEL, 111 West Division street, April 27, three men got $50.

LA SALLE MANSIONS, 1039 North La Salle street, May 29, two men got $6.

BERKSHIRE HOTEL, 15 East Ohio street, three men got $130.

HOTEL OAK, 40 East Chestnut street, June 3, one man got $394.

In addition to one successful robbery of the Belden Stratford hotel, a gang of four men was twice frustrated in attempts to hold up the place, on Feb. 4 and March 5. The Lincoln hotel, 1816 North Clark street, was also robbed three times of small amounts of money.

SIX NIGHT SCHOOLS FOR ADULTS TO BE OPENED ON MONDAY

Six evening schools for adults will be opened Monday in the Austin, Crane, Englewood, Fenger, Lake View, and Schurz High schools, it was announced yesterday by Charles J. Lunak, assistant superintendent of schools.

The teachers are paid by the board of education. Instruction is free, although pupils are required to pay a $5 registration fee which is returned to them at the end of the school year if their attendance is regular.

In addition to classes in English for non-English speaking adults and those preparing themselves for citizenship, the schools offer the regular four year high school courses. Special classes are also offered in such technical and trade subjects as heating and air conditioning, radio, linotype operation, and business operation.

The Columbian Exposition opened May 1; A Century of Progress opened May 27.

BY EARL MULLIN.

The south side of Chicago and its one million residents will take over the Fair on Friday with the presentation of an elaborate neighborhood ceremonies. This is the second major program in the drive to bring all of Chicago into active participation in the Fair.

Final touches were given the program last night in conferences between community leaders and J. Parker Van Zandt, Fair official in charge of neighborhood participation. Finals in the beauty contest, out of which will emerge the Queen of the South Side, will be staged today. Fourteen girls will be selected and they will appear in the Court of States tomorrow at 2 p. m., when the queen will be chosen.

The program will include 13 hours of almost every form of entertainment. A few of the features are the beauty queen parade, band concerts, parades, musical and singing societies, athletic competition and speeches by civic and educational leaders.

Only 49 More Days Remain in Which to See the Fair.

2,500 to Present Program.

Participating in the ceremonies will be 2,500 men, women, and children, with 1,200 organizations sponsoring the events of the day. A program will be presented for children, with one thousand tickets sold in advance. The south siders have sponsored a new movement for their day, the "Adopt a World's Fair Child" program, in which tickets, providing gate admissions, lunch money, and admission to exhibits are sold for 75 cents.

Various portions of the program will be presented in the Court of Honor, the Floating theater, the Hall of Science, the Court of States, and in the Illinois Host house. Crippled children from the south side are to be brought to the Fair Monday, but a general program for children will be given Friday in conjunction with the festivities of the day. A feature of this program will be the plays for children on Enchanted island by the Wilson School of Music and Dramatic Art, a south side organization.

A parade will start from the Court of Honor at 3:30 p. m., following the selection of the queen. The following local communities are sponsoring the events: Oakland, Kenwood, Woodlawn, Hyde Park, South Shore, Chatham, Avalon Park, South Chicago, Burnside, Calumet Heights, Roseland, Pullman, South Deering, East Side, West Pullman, Riverdale, Hegewisch, Englewood, Greater Grand Crossing, Auburn Gresham, Beverly, Washington Heights, Mount Greenwood, and Morgan Park.

Quebec Visitors Arrive.

The Canadian steamer Noronic arrived in Chicago late last night carrying 600 Quebec city and province officials, their families and friends to see the Fair. Early this morning the huge vessel docked in the Chicago river near the Wells street bridge. While here the Canadian visitors will use the Noronic as their hotel. The group will participate tomorrow in a program at the Fair which is to be given mostly in French.

Arriving this morning will be the 350 men of the Essex Scottish regiment and the members of the regimental band. They will remain in Chicago all week.

With only routine attractions yesterday the attendance increased more than 20,000 over the low of Monday, when inclement weather kept attendance lower than it had been for six weeks. At 11:30 p. m. yesterday the attendance was 123,843.

The 15,000,000th visitor to A Century of Progress is expected to enter the Fair grounds sometime this afternoon. The lucky person will be given a Fair medal, a dictionary, a free airplane ride to Kansas City and back, tickets to many concessions on the grounds and will be greeted by a group of Austrian maids in native costumes.

OUTLINE PLANS FOR ILLINOIS WEEK AT FAIR

Science day will be celebrated on Thursday, Sept. 28, as part of Illinois Achievement week at A Century of Progress. Plans were outlined yesterday by Mrs. Herbert L. Stern, who with Mrs. Carter H. Harrison and Mrs. Paul Steinbrecher head the committee arranging the week, for Illinois to present leaders in art, literature, education, welfare, and the professions.

Other days of the Illinois Achievement week are: Sunday, Sept. 24, Art day; Monday, Music day; Tuesday, Education day; Wednesday, Literature day; Friday, Welfare day and Business and Professional Women's day, and Sunday, Oct. 1, Drama day.

Toledo, O., Sept. 12.—(AP)—One golfer was shot to death and five companions were robbed by two holdup men who met them late today at the 15th tee of the Sylvania Golf club here. The man slain was J. L. Parker, 38, of Hudson, Mich., salesman for an insurance company.

Indiana's Story Is Narrated to Its Daughters at Fair

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

The frailties of the Hoosier pioneer as well as his strength and virtues, the unflattering as well as the glorious episodes in Indiana history, were described yesterday at A Century of Progress to the Daughters of Indiana, Chicago women who were born in that state.

The women were addressed by Wallace Richards of Indianapolis, director of the Indiana hall in the Hall of States. He interpreted the Indiana mural by Thomas Benton which comprises the principal Indiana exhibit.

"Not all that is shown in this mural is pretty," said Richards, "but it is real. The Klan was active in Indiana, whether we like to admit it or not, so a burning cross and white figures are shown in one place.

"There has often been trouble at the mines in southern Illinois. Therefore we have a figure representing Eugene Debs, who was born and died at Terre Haute, and his sign, 'Don't vote the rich man's ticket.'

"It is a realistic history of Indiana. In one of the first panels, depicting early history, the trader is shown giving the Indian whisky so the trader can get his furs."

One-half the wall space devoted to the mural, which is 250 feet long and runs around the entire room, depicts the industrial and agricultural development of Indiana, Richards explained. The other half depicts the social and cultural phase of the state's history.

The latter begins with the mound builders and their Hopewell culture, then shows the first white man to bring culture to Indiana, the Jesuit priests.

Corn huskings and log rollings and gatherings of tough river boatmen are portrayed. Abraham Lincoln, who spent 14 years in his youth in Indiana, is shown, a lanky youth epitomizing the pioneer.

The medicine man and his quack lotions, an abolitionist parade, a women's temperance meeting, a saloon where the men hang over the bar, all are shown. Culture marches then toward the college graduate and the hospital, the meetings of women who want to vote, and finally to the scientist in his laboratory.

Meanwhile on the economic side, Richards explained, the land was cleared, railroads were built, and farming methods improved.

Industrial expansion, increase of mineral wealth and the building of skyscrapers complete the economic picture.

CENTURY OF PROGRESS NOTES

Plans were completed yesterday for the presentation of Venetian carnival night tomorrow. This program is expected to be one of the most colorful of the entire Fair. Running from 7 to 10 p. m., the program includes music, dancing, fireworks, dance orchestras, and drama. The first part of the program will be given on the floating theater, and the second half, featuring twelve national groups in costume, will be staged in the court of the Hall of Science. During the evening hundreds of small craft, decorated and lighted, will be sent out on the lagoon. The parade of floats and the crowning of the queen will take place at 9 p. m.

Ray Dieden, Kokomo, Ind., will fly to the Fair next month to sing at memorial exercises for Baron von Richthofen, Germany's premier war ace. The ceremony, to be presented in the German-American building, will be sponsored by posts of the American Legion.

P. Rivera Martinez, commissioner of labor from Puerto Rico, arrived in Chicago yesterday to visit the Fair. He is returning to the islands after a visit in Washington, D. C., where he conferred with Gen. Hugh Johnson about the NRA matters in Puerto Rico.

A collection of lithographed posters telling of the attractions for tourists along the line of the Indo-China state railways will be placed on exhibition next week in the hall of the Travel and Transport building. The collection was bought to the United States by Shorb Steele, general passenger agent for the United States and Canada, and will be used to promote tourist travel. The railway is one of the most important of the French colonial transportation systems, and extends from Saigon, Cochin-China, to Hanoi Tonking, a distance of about 1,000 kilometers.

Gov. Floyd B. Olson will deliver the main address at the Minnesota day ceremonies at the Fair on Thursday, Sept. 21. Other speakers will be Senator Henrik Shipstead, Chairman Frank Murphy of the state exhibit and Fair officials.

Two foreign groups arrived in Chicago yesterday to visit the Fair. Sixteen members of the Deutsche Weltwirtschäftliche Gesellschaft party from Germany came to Chicago on board the Michigan Central from New York. The Big Four railroad brought the English-Japanese tennis teams from Cincinnati en route to Los Angeles. The latter group left for the coast last night.

The Chicago Woman's club yesterday presented the first of a series of programs in the Illinois host house. Mrs. Percy V. Pennypacker, Austin, Tex., former head of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke on the "High Ideals of the Century as Embodied in the Life of Jane Addams." Also on the day's program at the state building was an illustrated talk by Dr. C. S. Gates of the Chicago league for the hard of hearing.

CHANGES MADE IN BOUNDARIES OF HIGH SCHOOLS

Board Will Adopt New Districts Today.

The board of education at its meeting today expects to approve sweeping changes in high school districts throughout the city. The new boundaries, as formed by school officials after two months work following adoption of the board's economy and better housing program, were disclosed yesterday.

Eleven junior high schools have been converted into senior high schools, making thirty in all. The junior high school system of instruction was abolished by the board in order to stop the expenditure of $27,000,000 for buildings of the junior high school type in the future and to provide comfortable quarters for thousands of Chicago children.

336 Portables Abandoned.

As a result of the better housing program 336 portable schools—"dog houses" the children called them—will be abandoned. The majority of these tin shanties were infested with vermin and rodents, while all were ill-ventilated. In addition half day sessions, classes in store basements and other devices adopted because of increased enrollment and congestion will be eliminated.

Supt. William J. Bogan has announced that high school permits heretofore issued to students are to be revoked and all students are directed to attend the high school in the district in which they reside as defined by the new boundaries, which are as follows:

AMUNDSEN—Beginning at Peterson-av., and the north shore channel, east to the C. & N. W. R. R., south to Montrose-av., west to Damen-av., south to Irving Park-blvd., west to the Chicago river, northwest along the Chicago river and north shore channel to starting point.

SCHOOLS BEGIN PAYMENT IN TAX WARRANTS TODAY

The board of education will start today to distribute more than $4,000,000 worth of 1933 tax anticipation warrants in lieu of cash to teachers and other school employés for their services during the last half of January and the first half of February of this year. It is expected that it will require 15 days to hand out the securities, which bear 6 per cent interest.

Aaron Kline, chairman of the steering committee of the "Save Our Schools" group, announced that a tax warrant pool for selling the warrants had been established under the direction of Herschel N. Scott at 506 South Wabash avenue. Mr. Scott is vice president of the Men Teachers' union. A charge of one-half of 1 per cent will be made for the service.

The warrants will be sold by the pool to dealers and large tax payers in large lots only, thus making it possible to maintain an orderly market, according to a statement by Mr. Scott. The warrants, issued in denominations of $50 and $25, will be the first of the 1933 educational fund securites to be placed with the public. They will be acceptable in payment of not less than 20 per cent of all 1933 real and personal property taxes in Chicago.

TWELVE JUDGES SOUGHT TO PUSH DRIVE ON CRIME

Civil Courts Face Docket of 100,000 Cases.

A survey of the Circuit and Superior courts was made yesterday after attachés asserted that the determination of the judges to assign at least 12 of their number to maintain speedy justice in the Criminal courts would result in a shortage of judges for the trial of nearly 100,000 cases pending in the civil branches of these two courts.

The Circuit court has a total of 20 judges, one of whom serves in the Juvenile court and three of whom are authorized to serve in the Illinois Appellate court, first district. The Superior court has 28 judges, six of whom are serving with the Appellate court. Thus there are 38 judges available for the Civil and Criminal courts in the county.

26 Judges for Civil Cases.

The court attachés pointed out that with 12 of these 38 judges assigned to duty in the Criminal court, there would be only 26 judges left to hear the chancery and common law cases.

All the nine judges sitting in the Appellate court are considered among the most able men on the Cook county bench. They are Judges William H. McSurely, David F. Matchett, John M. O'Connor, Kickham Scanlan, Martin M. Gridley, John J. Sullivan, Francis S. Wilson, Oscar Hebel, and Ross C. Hall. The Appellate judges are chosen by the state Supreme court from the Superior and Circuit court rosters.

The first district Appellate court is unique in the state in that it has nine sitting judges. The original statutes creating the court provided for only three judges. The law later was amended to allow the formation of "divisions" of any District court if there were more than 250 appeals pending at the beginning of any given term.

Three Judges in a Division.

Three judges were assigned to each division. Each division, according to the statute, is expected to give opinions upon at least 250 cases if it remains a full term in the Appellate court. The statute says that when any division has finished its call it shall return to "its usual judicial duties." To determine the number of judges necessary the clerk is directed to report the total of pending cases to the state Supreme court whenever so directed by the Appellate judges.

It was learned yesterday that at no time during the last ten years have more than 400 cases been scheduled for trial during any term of the first district Appellate court. It also was learned that the clerks of the court have made no reports to the Supreme court on the number of cases during the last ten years.

Justice De Young's View.

When these facts were placed before Supreme Court Justice Frederic De Young he said: "If these things are true, the Supreme court will speedily correct the situation. Not in my memory of 10 years' service on the Supreme bench can I recollect that there was a report on the number of cases pending in the First District court sent to the Supreme court."

"The Supreme court justices have filled vacancies and maintained nine justices in the first district court on the assumption that there was sufficient work to keep all these judges busy. The assumption was that there were at least 600 or 700 cases pending in that court in a given term.

"If there are less than 500 cases on the average, at least three present sitting Appellate judges can be relieved to resume their duties in either the Circuit or Superior courts."

The Appellate Court Law.

The law under which the First District Appellate court exists is found in the 1933 Smith-Hurd revised statutes for Illinois. Chapter 37, paragraph 44 says:

"The clerk of each Appellate court shall report in writing to the Supreme court, whenever so directed by the judges of the Appellate court of which he is clerk, the number of cases docketed and pending and subject to hearing and determination in that term of said Appellate court."

Paragraph 45 says: "Whenever the number of cases . . . pending and subject to hearing and determination in any one of the Appellate courts shall exceed the number of 250, and the justices of said Appellate court shall request the Supreme court in writing, it shall be the duty of the Supreme court to forthwith designate and assign three other judges of the Circuit or Superior courts of the state to duty in said Appellate court."

The Provision for Return.

Paragraph 50 states: "Whenever said branch courts shall have determined all causes and matters assigned to them by the Appellate court of the district in which said branch court shall be constituted, it shall be the duty of the judges of said branch courts to return to their usual judicial duties until the next succeeding term of said Appellate court."

At the office of Sheldon W. Govier, clerk of the First District Appellate court, a docket of the term of last June was procured yesterday. It showed that 180 cases were scheduled for trial before the nine sitting judges.

Joseph Morrison, head clerk in the office for more than a dozen years, explained that the June term each year is the "lightest" of the five terms of the Appellate court. He said, however, that never in his experience had the number of pending cases in any given term exceeded 400. He said he had never known an Appellate court clerk to be directed to report the number of pending cases to the Supreme court.

Mr. Govier said he never had been asked to submit such a report.

2 BULLFIGHTERS GORED IN SPAIN; DEATH TAKES ONE

MADRID, Spain, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Surgeons worked tonight to save the life of Nino de la Palma, one of Spain's leading matadors, who was gored during a bullfight in Lerma, while followers of the Spanish sport were mourning the death yesterday in Alcala de Hinares of the famous banderillero, "Vadillo," whose real name was Paulino Jiminez.

Jiminez was gored Sunday and his death was the first in Spain this year caused by a bull ring accident.

His task was to stand alone, unarmed, in a ring, run to meet the charging bull, and plunge two pins into his withers as the animal streaked past. His life depended on his timing. Sunday he failed.

CLAIMS 85% OF U.S. EMPLOYERS ENROLL IN NRA

Gen. Johnson Addresses New York Rally.

New York, Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Eighty-five per cent of the employers in the United States are enrolled under the Blue Eagle, Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator, declared tonight at a mass meeting in Madison Square Garden.

Before the men and women, rallied by the foreign language press division of the local NRA, Gen. Johnson delivered a philippic against backsliding "now that the long awaited recovery is actually under way."

Asserting that the NRA was not an attempt at "regimentation of industry, but a charter of freedom," Gen. Johnson attacked critics of the legislation, who he said were trying to evade living up to the spirit of the Blue Eagle.

"Have Changed Their Tone."

The same individuals who were crying for an economic czardom in March, he asserted, are saying today that it would be better to go back to the old way "in which the best man or more often the worst man, wins."

Gen. Johnson said that the country had been lifted about "one-quarter of the way out of the inky blackness of March."

"Nobody can deny there was chaos," he said, "then widespread improvement, so certain that nobody now denies it."

He added, however, that the effort toward national recovery had just started, and the country must realize this.

Defends Recovery Act.

Gen. Johnson defended the recovery act and said it was in entire accord with all principles of Americanism. He scored the "misunderstanding and misrepresentation" by men, who, he said, had been and always would oppose the policies of President Roosevelt.

The general condemned destructive criticism, the "few sly and furtive remarks," which, he said, would be found to emanate from the policies that brought the nation to the "precipice of 1929."

"Nobody in this administration that I have seen objects to forthright open criticism," he said. "There is more coöperation and less political partisanship in Washington today than there was under Woodrow Wilson during the world war, and that was practically none."

Many Empty Seats.

At the end of Gen. Johnson's address two small silk flags—the American ensign and the emblem of the NRA, the Blue Eagle—were presented to him by Grover Whalen and the local NRA committee.

It was in expressing his appreciation of the gift that Gen. Johnson revealed that only 15 per cent of the country's employers remained outside the NRA.

There were many blocks of empty seats, but the 10,000 persons present cheered enthusiastically each reference to President Roosevelt, and booed lustily at a reference to Nazi Germany.

Among the speakers at the rally was David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers union.

The rally was a curtain raiser for tomorrow's NRA parade, when more than 200,000 are expected to march up 5th avenue.

Court Settles Cudahy Disputes

Michael Cudahy, wealthy Milwaukee packer, his wife, Mrs. Alice Dixon Pinto Cudahy, on right, whom he is suing for divorce, and her daughter, Peggie. In Milwaukee Circuit court yesterday Cudahy was ordered to continue payments of $1,500 a month alimony and to pay half the $350 monthly rent for the home she occupies.

ORDERS CUDAHY CONTINUE $1,500 A MONTH TO WIFE

Court Also Rules on Child's Custody.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—A temporary settlement of the alimony and child custody disputes between Michael F. Cudahy and his estranged wife, Mrs. Alice Dickson Pinto Cudahy, in addition to his suit for divorce, today was made by Circuit Judge Gustave G. Gehrz.

He directed the wealthy meat packer to continue alimony payments of $1,500 a month, the largest paid in the history of Wisconsin courts.

Richard, their 7 year old son, will be in the custody of his mother, at least temporarily, though his father is to see him over the week-ends, Judge Gehrz ruled.

Mrs. Cudahy also will continue to occupy the Cudahy mansion on Terrace avenue, with her husband paying half of the rent to the city, which now owns the home. The rent is $350 a month.

Victory for Wife.

Today's order was a virtual victory for Mrs. Cudahy, though counsel for both sides expressed dissatisfaction with the ruling. It is expected that the trial of the divorce suit itself, brought by Cudahy and contested by his wife, will begin early in October. The Cudahys were married 12 years ago.

Referring to the $10,000 Mrs. Cudahy said at yesterday's hearing before a court commissioner she had saved, Attorney James Shaw, for Cudahy, declared that $1,500 a month alimony meant "that much more for her lockbox." Judge Gertz stated that "$10,000 savings is not enough to stagger the imagination considering a family like the Cudahys," and ruled that the alimony should stay as it is.

Cudahy is to have custody of the son from noon Saturday to 7:30 p. m. Sunday on one week and from Saturday noon to Sunday after church on the other. This arrangement was satisfactory to neither, but was reached as a compromise.

Tender Note Injected.

After several sarcastic exchanges between the packer and his estranged wife a more tender note was injected in the proceedings. In answer to a question by his attorney Cudahy, on the witness stand, declared that he refers to his wife as "mother or mummie" in the presence of their son. Mrs. Cudahy then volunteered: "I want Richard to adore his father."

PROFESSORS RAP AND PRAISE NRA AT LABOR PARLEY

Gideonse Visions Rise of Commodity Bootlegger.

A group of university professors yesterday discussed the NRA before 500 delegates to the annual convention of the Illinois Federation of Labor at the Congress hotel. While one was pessimistic concerning the recovery program's outcome, others gave the plan their full endorsements.

Prof. Harry D. Gideonse of the University of Chicago declared that the program is even more doubtful of success than was the country's experiment with prohibition.

"It is a safe prophecy that the housewife's instinct for a bargain will be even more irrepressible than the old soak's thirst," he said.

Sees "Commodity Bootleggers."

"The new commodity bootleggers will spread into thousands of branches of business, while the old Capone syndicate had to be content with a more limited range. Many of these new bootleggers will wear the Blue Eagle too.

"The new deal has not repealed certain old maxims which are valid under any economic system. They are worth pondering today. The first is that you cannot create abundance by promoting scarcity. The second is that you cannot promote trade by strangling it. The third is you cannot promote enterprise by destroying its incentives no matter how much urging you do."

Prof. Gideonse told the delegates that in his opinion the country is now willing to pay a high price for stability as a result of a period of acute insecurity in all ranges of social activity but warned that stability in one place is achieved at the risk of instability elsewhere.

Dickinson Praises NRA.

Prof. Frank G. Dickinson of the University of Illinois criticized those who prematurely pass judgment on the NRA. He praised President Roosevelt's campaign, but he warned that it also might bring a prosperity that would result in another depression if prices are forced too high.

"I believe that historians will list President Roosevelt's contributions to economic and social progress as raising the moral plane of business and political activity and the establishment of a new business cycle philosophy as illustrated by his plan to build public works when business is depressed rather than during periods of prosperity," said Prof. Dickinson.

"Stripped of all its innumerable details, the recovery act is an attempt to lift our nation out of the depression, using the strong arm of the federal government by organizing public opinion and through the medium of arguments restricting free competition and freedom of contract. Our severe depression is nothing more or less than the usual decline from high prices after a great war. After every war all economic classes have suffered in the process of returning to a pre-war price level."

Opposes Too Much Optimism.

Prof. Dickinson urged labor not to expect a frenzied prosperity from the NRA and asserted that a new economic philosophy must be evolved to avoid this danger. He said the President had made noteworthy accomplishments in eliminating child labor, setting minimum wages, and in his apparent task of restoring prices to the 1926 level.

"It appears that President Roosevelt hopes that with the dollar at a discount the NRA can finish the work of restoring those price levels," he said, "but that is a very high level, one which has been equaled in only 20 of the last 143 years. It is possible to push prices that high, but it remains to be seen if they can be maintained there or if they will drop and thus cause another period of stress."

Calls Codes Satisfactory.

A third speaker, Prof. Samuel H. Nerlove of the University of Chicago, disagreed with the viewpoint of his colleague, Prof. Gideonse. He said he believed the progress made to date in developing codes of fair practice under the recovery act had been satisfactory considering the complexities involved.

Prof. Nerlove said that balance is the main factor in the success of the plan. If balance between costs, prices, and profits is not maintained every object of the program will fail, he asserted. He stressed the importance of labor studying price fixing clauses and phrases before accepting any of the employers' codes.

His advice that labor rigidly prosecute violations of the code by employers precipitated discussion among the delegates, some of whom related experiences with alleged violators.

An intimation that the strike of 4,500 millinery workers may soon be ended was given yesterday by Max Meyer, member of the national labor board who settled the recent garment workers' strike and was sent here from Washington to settle the hat industry's troubles. He said that he had submitted a formula that may be agreeable to both sides of the controversy.

Meyer declared that upon the arrival here of Max Zaritsky, president of the International Union of Millinery Workers, from St. Louis, he would put to him some propositions that might form the basis of an amicable settlement.

ROBBED OF CAR BY GANG.

Peter L. Formosa, 151 Le Moine parkway, Oak Park, was robbed of his automobile by five men who forced the car to the curb at Jackson boulevard and Loomis street early yesterday.

Famous for her acting in "Passing Present" writes:

"I want to acknowledge my gratitude to you for the help I have received from Vannay reducing tablets. I have taken them daily for three months, and I have lost in weight and especially in measurements. I only needed to lose ten pounds, which I did within the first nine weeks. But where Vannay helped me most was in losing several inches off my thighs—and an inch and a half off my hips.

"I have tried thyroid, exercise, and heavy massages unsuccessfully—as well as strenuous dieting. So I can recommend Vannay tablets wholeheartedly. They are the only means of reducing that I have found successful as well as harmless; in fact, since I have been taking Vannay, I have felt infinitely more alive."

A NATIONALLY known writer has lost 53 pounds of fat in three months, a prominent doctor's wife lost 14 pounds in 30 days. Many prominent society women are reducing easily and safely by the scientific Vannay treatment.

Vannay is an absolutely harmless tablet that contains no Thyroid extract, Iodine or laxative drugs of any kind. It was developed by a great physician who has specialized in research with the Pasteur Institute of Paris and famous clinics of America.

Now it is absurd for anyone to take dangerous drugs, or a daily dose of laxative salts that rushes food through the body half digested, and leads to chronic constipation. Vannay is a safe, natural regulator of the digestive ferments (Lipases) which control the production of fat in all human bodies.

You don't have to starve yourself or go through painful exercises. You simply take the tablets each day and continue to eat three hearty meals. The fat disappears at just the places where you want to lose it. Avoid fattening foods.

Start the treatment at once and all your fondest dreams of health and slim loveliness should come true.

DECIDES FIRST NRA LABOR CASE IN UNION FAVOR

Wagner Board Rules in Woolen Mill Strike.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—In its first ruling upon the labor provisions of the NRA, a ruling highly significant because of the pending nation-wide controversies over those provisions, the national labor board today decided against industry and in favor of organized labor.

The board, set up by President Roosevelt to rule upon disputes between employers and their workers, handed down a formal decision holding that an industry must recognize representatives chosen by its employés, whether the representatives are selected from among the workers' own ranks or outsiders.

While the decision marked one major development during the NRA day, another of equal import came with the announcement by Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, taskmaster for industry, of a program to be set in force immediately for the detection and prosecution of industrialists and other employers who have refused or failed to enlist under the NRA, who have been violating the terms of approved codes, or who have joined under the blue eagle and have been guilty of what Gen. Johnson calls "chiseling," or cheating.

Brings Up Union Issue.

The decision of the national labor board, announced by its chairman, Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York, was in an attempted settlement of a strike at the Berkeley Woolen mills at Martinsburg, W. Va.

Seven employés of the company were discharged early last month, and they charged as the reason for their dismissal their activity in behalf of the United Textile Workers' union. A committee of other employés was formed and asked the management of the company to recognize the union and give the discharged employés a formal hearing.

This request was denied, according to the facts set forth in the decision, which states that the president of the company announced that he would recognize any union composed entirely of the workers of his own company but would not recognize any outside union or representatives.

A strike was called on Aug. 15 and the mill has since remained closed. The employés filed an application with the national labor board for a hearing and, as stated in the decision, the president of the company at first agreed to appear, but later, declaring the dispute had been fully adjusted, refused to come to Washington. The decision set forth that the board learned the dispute had not been settled and when the president of the company still refused to appear the hearing was held without his being present.

Setting forth that the company comes within the jurisdiction of the textile code, in which the right of workers to "organize and bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing" is asserted, as required by NRA, the decision then stated, in part, as follows:

"We fail to see how it is possible to put any interpretation on the phrase, 'representatives of their own choosing,' which would make it necessary for employés to choose these representatives from a particular class or a particular group.

Interprets Code Words.

"The statement to the effect that representatives must be chosen by the employés cannot, by any reasonable interpretation, mean that representatives must be chosen from the employés. To give to the code the interpretation sought by respondent would nullify the employés' right to organize as they choose, for, in effect, it would limit each employés' organization to the individual plant and prevent employés of a plant from joining any organization already in existence. Such a result would be opposed to both the letter and the intent of the industrial recovery act.

"We rule, therefore, that employés have the right to choose any one they may wish as their representative and are not limited in their choice to fellow employés.

"We rule, further, that the respondent's refusal to deal with representatives of the employés, unless these representatives are workers in the mill, is an attempt to interfere with and restrain the employés in the designation of their representatives, and is a violation of the code which covers the industry of which respondent is a member, as well as a violation of the industrial recovery act.

"We recommend that the strike be discontinued and that the employés return to work. We recommend that all employés be rehired without discrimination and that the respondent accept and deal with, as representatives of the employés, any persons the employés may choose to elect or appoint as their representatives."

The decision was signed by all members of the board.

To Enforce Codes.

The plans of Gen. Johnson to take to task any employers who are failing to comply with the codes, who are displaying the Blue Eagle without authority or are otherwise failing to live up to the terms of NRA, call for the establishment of boards of seven members in every city and town in the nation. They will be given the duty of seeking out and prosecuting violators of codes and to "educate" nonconformists to the doctrine of the new deal.

The boards, under the plan made known by the administrator, are to have the following functions:

1. Hear complaints of noncompliance with the President's agreement.

2. Hear petitions for exceptions under the agreement which permits such exceptions, where strict compliance would "create great and unavoidable hardship."

3. Hear petitions for permission to operate on the longer hour schedule of existing union contracts instead of the maximum hours of the President's agreement.

Formation of Boards.

The setup of the local compliance boards, as made known by Gen. Johnson, follows the same rigid formula for organization he has previously prescribed for sovietizing industry.

"Each compliance board will consist of two employé representatives," the announcement read—one to represent industrial employés and another to represent employés in retail or wholesale trade; two employers—one representing industry and another retail or wholesale trade; a consumers' representative, preferably a woman, and a lawyer recommended by his state bar association. The members are to be nominated by a committee chosen by the chairman of local NRA committees and representing local chambers of commerce, manufacturers' associations, labor organizations, women's clubs, and bar associations.

The six members thus named will elect a seventh member, who will be permanent chairman of the board and who must be free from any connection—political, financial, or otherwise—which would cast any doubt on the impartiality of his decision.

COAL CODE HEARING LASTS HALF HOUR; RICHBERG TELLS PLAN

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Hugh S. Johnson continued today his efforts to obtain a code for the soft coal industry. The first public hearing on the code he proposed for that industry was held today. It lasted 30 minutes. In that time Donald R. Richberg, general counsel for the NRA, outlined a new form of machinery for future negotiations.

Two committees of nine members each are to be formed by the wrangling coal operators, under Johnson's plan. Each of five arbitrary geographical divisions of the industry is to be represented on each of the committeees in proportion to the division's importance in the industry.

One of the committees, according to Mr. Richberg, will "consider especially administration of the code."

"The other," he said, "will study the rest of the code as a whole, with the exception of minimum wages, for which there will be separate consideration. A limited but representative advisory group to work with the administrative staff is what we desire."

The second division of the industry, which includes Illinois, Indiana, and Iowa, chose the following four operators to represent their interests on the advisory committees: Illinois, Thurlow G. Essington, head of the Illinois Coal Operators' association, and George Read, vice president of the Peabody Coal company, both of Chicago. Indiana, Charles Hall of Terre Haute, of the Walter Bledsoe & Co., and R. H. Sherwood of Indianapolis, of the Central Indiana Coal company. In addition George Heaps Jr. of Des Moines was selected to sit in on the committee conferences as representative of the Iowa operators.

A razor blade shortage —and its cause

AMAZING public response—far exceeding our most optimistic estimates—greeted Gillette's drastic price reduction.

At this writing many wholesalers and retail dealers are out of stock. The factory cannot keep pace with demand. The reason for this is very simple. Quality must be maintained at any cost. This instruction is law in our factory.

In fact—today inspection is even more rigid than ever. Each operation is supervised with extreme care. We are pledged to a continuance of the highest standards of excellence.

Expansion to meet present demand without lessening quality now is being attained. If your dealer is out of blades his stock should be replenished within a few days.

In the meantime we ask your indulgence and trust you will have no difficulty in finding a store which has Gillette, Probak and Valet AutoStrop blades.

CHEMISTS FIND NEW PATHS TO BETTER LIVING

Tell Their Discoveries in Sectional Meetings.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

High lights of chemistry, which is fundamental in all the changing pattern of modern society, were discussed at various divisional meetings of the American Chemical society at the Hotel Stevens yesterday. Chemistry takes on new meaning to life and industry every year. Some of the latest interpretations and discoveries may be summarized as follows:

CATALYSIS—Discussed by Prof. J. N. Bronsted of the University of Copenhagen. If you mix hydrogen and oxygen in proper proportion at ordinary temperature nothing will happen. If you introduce a trace of platinum black the two substances unite at once with great violence, forming water. The platinum is quite unaffected by the reaction. A catalyst, therefore, is a substance which makes possible or accelerates a chemical reaction without being in the least altered itself. Life is inextricably dependent upon chemical reactions in the body and the removal of catalysts producing these life processes invariably leads to destruction. A great many important substances are made by catalysts. The catalysis of acids and bases is a particularly interesting field.

PANTOTHENIC ACID—Reported by Dr. Roger J. Williams and Carl M. Lyman of Oregon Agricultural college—a growth promoting acid, the most universal stimulant ever found, probably a catalyst. It is a constituent of all living things, humans, worms, plant moulds, bacteria, milk. The latest extract, taken from liver, is so potent that a single droplet the size of a pin head speeds up the growth of yeast in 250 gallons of liquid.

CAROTENE—Reported by Dr. A. F. O. Germann of Cleveland—a food substance found in fruits, vegetables and milk. It is the latest aid of chemistry in fighting common colds, which afflict 50,000,000 persons a year, by strengthening the tissues which line the nose and throat. The health of man apparently depends in large measure on the amount of this yellow plant pigment he can store in his body. Most of us would be better physically if we ate more carrots, spinach, whole milk, butter and other fruits and vegetables containing carotene. Colds and many minor ills would almost disappear.

CELLULOSE—Discussed by Dr. Gustavus J. Esselen of Boston. This is the chief part of the framework of plants and our forests. Farms and gardens are described as vast storehouses of cellulose, which, when utilized, will increase wealth enormously. Cellulose acetate, which enters into safety glass, is increasing in production rapidly. Nitrocellulose, used in cement for women's shoes, is doubling in output. Wood pulp is being used in making fine gauge insulated wire. Another development is a combination with rubber for inner soles, auto rim strips, etc. Cellulose is available in large quantities. Wood is cellulose in a crude form. Our rapidly increasing knowledge of cellulose chemistry makes it destined to continue as one of the most important raw materials.

Reports on Rayon Changes.

Dr. Esselen also reported on the outstanding development in the synthetic fiber or rayon industry. This is the change in the public demand from materials with high luster to fibers with a very subdued luster. Delustering is now done by combining small proportions of suitable finely divided pigmentlike substances inside of the fiber itself. This changes the reflection of light from the surface.

The subject of allergy was discussed by Dr. Armand J. Quick of the Fifth Avenue hospital, New York City. A drug like cincophen, which has been widely used in the treatment of gout, rheumatism, and neuralgia has been found responsible for numerous cases of severe liver damage known as acute yellow atrophy. This and related substances, even aspirin, have produced in certain sensitive individuals symptoms very similar to anaphylatic shock.

Since they produce no demonstrable damage in normal persons it must be concluded that they possess a latent or potential toxicity. This type appears to belong to the same class as hay fever, asthma, sensitivity to certain foods, all of which are covered by the term allergy.

Treatment of Hay Fever.

Dr. Marjorie B. Moore and Dr. Leon Unger of the Abbott laboratories, North Chicago, reported that the best method so far found by physicians for treatment of hay fever and asthma caused by the pollen of certain plants consists of repeated hypodermic doses of an extract of the pollens causing the trouble. The activity of pollen extracts in causing reactions in hay fever patients is greatly reduced by digestion with pepsin, an enzyme found in the stomach.

Progress in the field of synthetic rubber was reported on by Dr. Wallace H. Carothers of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. of Wilmington. Del. Du Pont chemists have synthesized a large number of new compounds closely related to isoprene, a rubber compound. At least two of these, chloroprene and bromoprene, are enormously superior to any other materials as starting points for the synthesis of rubber.

Materials Equal to Rubber.

These products are the first synthetic materials to equal rubber in strength and elasticity and they are the first ones to resemble it in the ability to crystallize when stretched. They are not only fully equal to natural rubber in most respects, but in some respects they are very much superior.

The synthetic rubber problem, however, is by no means concluded. The chemical mechanism underlying the synthesis is by no means clear, and the reasons for the remarkable physical behavior of rubber are not fully known. Further studies of the behavior of giant molecules are expected to throw light on these questions.

Dr. F. M. Dupont of Chicago reported on the necessity of using extra pure water to make good beer. Water may be good enough to satisfy the health authorities without being good enough for beer making, he explained. Iron in water, Dr. Dupont said, is always bad for the beer. All oil must be carefuly removed, for it makes a surface tension through which the foam cannot rise readily. Foaming is likewise lowered by too much calcium sulphate in the beer water.

Sodium chloride, or table salt, is good for beer, he said. It gives what the chemists call a full, round taste. Lime and acetic acid are added to restore the acid balance. Soft water is better than hard water.

The outstanding event of this meeting of the chemical society will be the Willard Gibbs dinner and medal award to Dr. Richard Willstatter of Munich, considered the greatest chemist of this era. The dinner will be in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Stevens this evening.

INQUIRY TO BE HELD ON CHARGE OF GAS WASTE

Chairman Benjamin F. Lindheimer of the Illinois commerce commission announced yesterday that he had invited representatives of the engineering firm of Mariner & Hoskins, Inc., to appear before the commissioners today and explain the basis of its charge that faulty adjustment of gas burners in the city is responsible for a great amount of wasted gas. Experts employed by the commission and engineering representatives of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company are also to be present.

Chairman Lindheimer said a full investigation will be made and if it is found that the equipment used by gas consumers now is not fitted to get the best results from the mixture of natural gas and manufactured gas the proper steps will be taken. If there is waste, and it is found to be the company's fault, the rate to be charged will be affected, he said.

NAZIS HUMILIATE EX-CABINET MAN IN STREET PARADE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Sept. 12.—Heinrich Hirtsiefer, for eleven years Prussian minister of welfare and Catholic Centrist leader, was paraded through the streets of Essen yesterday by Nazi storm troops.

A formidable opponent of the Nazis for years, Hirtsiefer recently left to live in the Saar basin territory. He returned to Essen yesterday and reported his presence to the police in accordance with regulations. He was arrested and put in the hands of the Nazis.

Storm troopers suspended a sign bearing the words, "I am the hunger victim Hirtsiefer," across the stomach of the former minister, who is a rotund man of 57. An umbrella was placed in his hand and he was compelled to walk in the middle of the street. A large crowd followed.

Crowds Rejoiced, Paper Reports.

In commenting upon Hirtsiefer's humiliation, the Dortmund General-Anzeiger, a Nazi newspaper, said today:

"There was great rejoicing at the return of Hirtsiefer, who did not look as if he had suffered from hunger, for his stomach had increased rather than diminished.

"In order to let the populace share in the joy of seeing Hirtsiefer again, a propaganda procession was organized for this most beloved of all ministers. Heinrich had to put up an umbrella against the sun and wore on his stomach a neat placard with the words, 'I am the hunger victim Hirtsiefer.'

Woman Leader Sentenced.

Elizabeth Stuebenrauch, leader of the women's section of the Nationalist party, was sentenced to five months in jail on the charges of uttering disparaging remarks about Chancellor Hitler's government at a public rally.

In order to take care of the rapidly growing number of political prisoners, Nazi authorities are transferring inmates of the Missler concentration camp to a modern "convict ship." The vessel has been anchored in the Weser river.

A former fortress, near Bremen, also has been converted into a concentration camp. Nazis have announced that "dangerous prisoners," who have persisted in anti-government propaganda, will be confined there.

Bare Plans of Red Putsch.

Details of an alleged putsch which the communists planned for last spring were published today in a book issued by the German anti-communist league. The league timed the volume's release so that it would appear shortly before the trial of the five communists accused of setting the reichstag building on fire. Their trial has been set for Sept. 21.

The book says that the date of the putsch was fixed for midnight on March 5 and was to have been initiated by the assassination of Chancellor Hitler or President Paul von Hindenburg. The burning of the reichstag was to have been the signal for a general uprising.

The premature reichstag fire [on Feb. 27], the book states, enabled the Hitler government to nip the rebellion and "to completely destroy the last possibilities of a communist revolution."

Advertising Under Dictator.

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Sept. 12.—Advertising in Germany was put under government control by a decree passed by the cabinet today. Under the new law Dr. Joseph Goebbels, minister of propaganda, becomes dictator of what may be advertised in Germany and who may advertise. A council on advertising is to be set up.

"Every advertiser requires the approval of this council," says the new law. "The granting of approval may be made on independent payment of a fee, the amount of which shall be fixed by the minister of enlightenment and propaganda and the finance minister. Other financial conditions may be imposed on the applicants."

Officials said the law was considered necessary because of the lack of "unitarianism" in German advertising. There was a "constant splitting of effort and even counter effort," it was said, "and huge sums of private and public money have been spent fruitlessly." Another complaint is that German advertising hitherto has failed to evoke public confidence. "All propaganda," it was said, "depends for its effectiveness on the credence given it. All advertising must be true."

Claim Spy Ring Discovery.

BERLIN, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The G. P. A. [secret police] claimed tonight to have discovered a huge Polish espionage system through the arrest last week of a Polish agent, Walter Kedziersky, who allegedly confessed he was sent to Germany to gather information. The investigations revealed, the police said, that the agent had received payments through Kazimir Zelinski, employed in the Polish legation in Berlin. Zelinski died suddenly last Friday after he had been visited by a reputed relative.

Banned, Lawyer Ends Life.

SAMADEN, Switzerland, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Prof. Max Alsberg, rated as one of the most prominent criminal attorneys in Germany, committed suicide here today. Prof. Alsberg, of Jewish origin, was not permitted to practice law in Germany under the Hitler régime. He is survived by a wife and two children.

AUSTRIA TO SET UP DICTATORSHIP, VIENNA NEWSPAPER INSISTS

VIENNA, Sept. 12.—(AP)—A report that an Austrian cabinet shakeup was impending and would result in the establishment of a dictatorial triumvirate appeared in a Vienna newspaper today at the close of ceremonies during which the leader of the Austrian Fascists demanded that the Socialists be thrown out of the city government.

"It is an unbearable humiliation to the genuine citizenry of Vienna," shouted Prince Starhemberg, the Fascist leader, as he pointed to the city hall, "to know that in there the bolshevist still rule."

The dictatorial triumvirate, the newspaper Acht Uhr Blatt reported, will be composed of Dollfuss, the prince and Emil Fey, minister of public security. This report could not be confirmed.

FINDS PEPPERS EXCEL ORANGES IN VITAMIN C

Doctor Says Cabbage Is Better than Lettuce.

BY KATHLEEN M'LAUGHLIN.

Oranges are threatened with exile from the breakfast table, and in their stead the working world may nibble at a green pepper. The possibility was discovered yesterday at the sessions of the American congress of physical therapy at the Palmer house, as Dr. Victor Levine of the school of medicine of Creighton university announced that the green pepper had been found to contain almost twice as much vitamin C as the citrus fruits, oranges and lemons, up to now considered the richest source of that element.

Dr. Levine, professor of biological chemistry nutrition, toppled lettuce off its dietary throne in favor of the cheaper cabbage. Eaten raw in the form of cold slaw, he declared, cabbage has ten times as much vitamin C as lettuce. Sweet potatoes, he added, are better for nutritional purposes than Irish potatoes, and green peas are better than beans.

As for chicken—fried, stewed, or baked—it is "valuable only for social reasons," Dr. Levine asserted firmly. It is only about a tenth as nutritious as liver and hardly a fourth as nutritious as ordinary meat.

Three Types of Diet.

In somewhat the same vein, Dr. J. W. Torbett, superintendent of his own sanitarium in Marlin, Tex., affirmed that mankind is divided into three types, according to diet. There is, he said, the "cat and dog" type, which needs a large amount of proteins, such as meat and eggs. There is the "cow and donkey" type, which goes in for vegetables, and there is the "Eskimo type," which craves fats.

Food fads, Dr. Torbett said, are the curse of the American people. His recommendation was a highly varied diet of simple foods to maintain health and resistance to disease.

Dr. M. Joseph Mandelbaum of New York surprised the convention by exhibiting a tiny ultra violet lamp, so constructed that it can be inserted in the bronchial tubes for treatment over a space of minutes in cases of tuberculosis. This method of combating the white plague has proved to be highly beneficial, but the impossibility of introducing a lamp of ordinary size into the body cavities made it imperative that a miniature one capable of radiating sufficient energy be designed.

Description of Light.

The device shown is a small quartz bulb mounted on the end of a catheter tube, emitting cold, short wave ultra violet waves, through monopolar conductors.

Electrosurgery as a method of stimulating a serum within the body which will act as an antitoxin on the focal centers of various infections was described by Dr. Lewis J. Silvers of the Ocean Hill Memorial hospital, New York. In applying the treatment to diseased tonsils or similar areas, he stated, electrocoagulation not only kills the inflammation by use of the current, but sets up a bodily reaction resembling the process of serum injected into the blood, which clears up the infection.

LIQUOR BOARD HEARS FRIEND, FOE OF SALOON

Student, 18, Asks Low Age Limit for Drinkers.

The commission appointed by Gov. Horner to draw up a state liquor control system for use after repeal of national prohibition opened hearings on the subject last night in the county building.

Out of the welter of opinions solicited from the interests concerned, the commission hopes to have a plan ready to submit to the state legislature at a special session. With repeal of the 18th amendment generally expected about Dec. 6, the proposed state liquor law would be drafted to become effective immediately thereafter, a two-thirds vote of both houses being necessary for enactment.

Reeves for Quebec System.

Whether to permit or prohibit open saloons, set up state liquor stores, bar brewers and distillers from the retail trade, and impose high or low taxes upon manufacturer and retailer were some of the questions raised. Col. Ira L. Reeves, western manager of the Crusaders, advocated the Quebec system of state liquor stores, while Dr. George B. Safford, superintendent of the Illinois Anti-Saloon league, demanded county option for the protection of dry communities under any plan adopted.

State Representative Michael Hannigan of Chicago, appearing for Retail Malt Beverage Dealers' association, came out for return of the old fashioned saloon, operating under a low tax, with brewers and distillers barred from owning an interest.

Attorney Maxwell Herman, former counsel for Kentucky distillers and expecting soon to resume that function, urged a plan giving the people "all they want to drink," under a high tax. Representative Hannigan had contended it was a high tax that gave the brewers and distillers their grip over the saloons in pre-prohibition days.

18 Year Old Student Heard.

William Huster, 18 years old, son of a Glencoe grain broker, a student at an eastern preparatory school, and founder of the Junior Crusaders, declared a high tax would foster continuance of bootlegging, and warned against setting the minimum age requirement for liquor consumption above 17 years, lest the frequent breaking of the law bring it into contempt. Mrs. Ella Boole, national president of the W. C. T. U., was the only invited witness who did not attend.

Senator Harold G. Ward of Chicago, chairman of the commission, called Col. Reeves as the first witness. Among the fifteen commission members present were John P. Harding, Chicago restaurateur; Ralph M. Shaw, and Conrad H. Poppenhusen, Chicago lawyers; State Senators A. H. Roberts and F. J. Huckin, and State Representatives David E. Shanahan, William W. Powers, and Matt Franz.

Want Laws with Teeth.

"Repeal of the 18th amendment seems indicated for December," said Col. Reeves. "The Crusaders are not here to raise any controversial issues, nor are we under obligations to any of the special interests that may profit through repeal. We go on record as favoring the strictest enforcement of any laws adopted. We hope you will put teeth in them.

"Much has been said about the old style saloon. It is not a name against which we must legislate, but the evil which has attended retailing alcoholic beverages, both before and since prohibition. Prohibition was directed more at the evils of the saloon and its political affiliations than at alcohol itself. Let us now devise ample safeguards against the return of those evils.

"Should you impose unreasonable taxes, the bootlegger will find it profitable to continue. Of course, we want revenue, but keep the revenue reasonable. The Crusaders earnestly recommend that you give consideration to the Quebec plan with a view to adapting its provisions to the needs of Illinois."

The Rev. Dr. Safford, who used to crack the whip over legislators at Springfield by theatening the wrath of the church vote, was the next witness called.

"There have been three referendums on the liquor question in the last 11 years," he said. "In the election of 1922 70 per cent of those voting marked the ballot on the referendum, in the election of 1931 there was 51 per cent, and in 1933 only 47 per cent. While the voting on the liquor issue has declined, the population of the state has increased.

"I warn you that there is a mighty vote which in the past has helped neither drys nor wets, but will now make itself manifest if you go too far. I believe that in the end this repeal movement will be reversed and prohibition will come back. But I do want to urge that you provide for county option, giving dry communities the privilege of passing on whatever plan you propose."

A Plea for Open Saloon.

Representative Hannigan opened his plea for the open saloon by recalling fragrant memories of the past. He declared 90 per cent of the old time saloon keepers were good fathers, good neighbors and good citizens and that only the 10 per cent in the employ of the brewers and distillers were "scamps."

"There are reports that some members of this commission favor some plan for selling liquors in packages for consumption off the premises," Mr. Hannigan remarked. "As an ideal, such a plan is alluring, but we believe the last 13 years have taught the futility of legislating against human freedom of action. Such a plan will continue the hip flask and bootlegger."

Voice of a Student.

Young Huster, who is a student at Lawrenceville school near Princeton, N. J., brought a girl friend, Catherine Thompson, to hear him speak. Some of the commission indicated by their close attention that they found his remarks more interesting than all the others.

"The first violators of the 18th amendment were in the younger set," he said. "I am convinced that to set a minimum age requirement in excess of 17 years would result in a further disrespectful sentiment against liquor legislation. It is unreasonable to assume that the generation now used to drinking will suddenly stop because of the law."

SUICIDE VERDICT IN GIRL'S DEATH ON YACHT PARTY

A coroner's jury yesterday, under the direction of Coroner Frank J. Walsh, returned a verdict of suicide at the inquest into the drowning of Miss Clara Moore, 22 year old artist model, who early last Wednesday morning leaped unclad from the yacht Pal-O-Mine, while on a party with a group of business men.

A. E. Gundelach, 3600 Pine Grove avenue, owner of the yacht, testified that because of Miss Moore's actions the members of the party had left her to herself in the rear of the boat. Other witnesses said that the girl had appeared morose earlier in the evening, saying that "Life isn't worth living."

After the inquest, Miss Anna Belle Latiak, 26 years old, sister of the victim, who had come from Lakewood, O., with her mother, Mrs. Anna Latiak, expressed dissatisfaction with the verdict.

Friends of the model have announced they will bury the body, as the members of the family say they have no money for a funeral.

PAIR HELD ON HOLDUP CHARGE.

Alvin Boe, 24 years old, 6248 South [illegible] street, and Melvin Brandel, 20 years old, 3328 West 59th place, were held to the grand jury yesterday on charges of robbery by Municipal Judge John Gutnecht in connection with the $1,000 holdup last Thursday of the Loose-Wiles Biscuit company offices at 3659 South Ashland avenue.

DONOGHUE CALLS PARKING LEASE CHARGES 'HOKUM'

So. Parks Superintendent Explains Contract.

Reports that Mayor Kelly and two other members of the south park board were in danger of fine and imprisonment because of the operation of two auto parking lots on park board property were termed "hokum" yesterday by George T. Donoghue, general superintendent of the park system. State's Attorney Courtney assigned an assistant, William Touhy, to look into the complaint.

The charges were based on the theory that the civil service powers of Mayor Kelly, president of the park board, and Commissioners Phillip S. Graver and William H. McDonnell had been exceeded. These three commissioners serve as the civil service board of the park system.

The parking lots in question are being operated by W. C. Kominske, retained as an employé of the board but with no civil service rating.

Make Employment Contracts.

"The south park board has entered into a number of transactions to provide parking space for World's Fair visitors," said Mr. Donoghue, "and, on the advice of the board attorney, George E. Gorman, it was decided that the best way to handle the matter was by employment contracts.

"The civil service law is outside the question. The south park board, and other municipalities as well, have employed architects, engineers, and lawyers when needed for special work. For example, the park board employed Holabird & Root, architects, to draw up plans for the Soldiers' field stadium."

Board to Get Improvements.

Mr. Donoghue pointed out that the contract with Kominske is for five months. All improvements on the parking lots, such as grading, filling in with cinders, electric wiring, and two small buildings that can be used as comfort stations will revert back to the park board, he said. Mr. Donoghue estimated that the improvements, which Kominske has paid for as well as his operating costs, have cost approximately $20,000.

Out of the gross income derived from the parking area Kominske is paying 10 per cent to the park board. Records of the park board show that Kominske had paid $2,950.83 to the board up to July 31, indicating that the receipts from the parking areas were $29,508.30.

FUGITIVE FROM MARYLAND CELL TO BE TRIED HERE

George ["Red"] Kelly, alias Jack Hart and James Connolly, who twice escaped from the Maryland state prison, where he was serving a life term for murder, will remain in Chicago and be tried for the wounding of three youths in a beer tavern brawl in Cicero. State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney announced last night that he had decided to keep Kelly in Chicago for trial.

The return of Kelly to the Maryland state prison was discussed yesterday afternoon at a meeting in the Congress hotel in which J. Bernard Wells, assistant district attorney at Baltimore, pleaded for his return to the east.

Flying Notes

American Airways is inaugurating a second fast round trip between Chicago and New York via Detroit and Buffalo tomorrow morning to supplement its present round trip daily which operates in the afternoon. The new trip leaves Chicago at 9 a. m. [standard time], arriving in New York at 3:49 p. m. The westbound plane leaves New York at 9:30 a. m., arriving in Chicago at 2:57 p. m. [standard time]. Fifteen passenger Condor planes [two Wright motors] will be used on the new service.

The sixth annual Miami All-American Air races will be held at the Florida city on Jan. 11-13 next year it has been announced by Mayor E. G. Sewell. More than 360 civilian and military planes attended the air races last winter, and even a larger crowd is expected next year.

Two Catholic Boy Scouts Win Scholarship Awards

William J. Schumacher Jr., 6505 Laflin street, and John Gallagher, 7216 Rhodes avenue, were announced yesterday as winners of the first annual scholarships to be awarded to Catholic Boy Scout members by Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, of the Chicago archdiocese. Schumacher, eagle scoutmaster of Troop 690, will enter St. Viators of Bourbonnais, Ill., and Gallagher will go to Campion, Prarie du Chien, Wis.

DRUG CLERK AS BANK RECEIVER STIRS UP STORM

Haverhill, Mass., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—The uproar created by the appointment of a 30 year old drug store clerk to be the receiver of a closed national bank in this city has placed Senator Walsh, Gov. Ely, and Mayor Curley of Boston in positions where they are content to transfer all responsibility for the distribution of federal patronage in Massachusetts to the shoulders of James Roosevelt, son of the President.

To young Roosevelt has gone the credit for elevating John E. Donahue of Haverhill, member of the house from the second Essex district, from the prosaic job of mixing prescriptions and concocting ice cream sodas to the post of receiver of the Essex National bank.

Experienced Man Loses Job.

Representative Donahue today appointed Walter T. Rocheford, present city solicitor and former mayor of Lawrence, to act in the capacity of attorney for the receivership.

Robert A. Macgregor, an experienced banking man, was removed recently by the federal controller of the currency from his position as conservator of the bank to make room for the elevation of Mr. Donahue, whose salary has been set at $4,000 yearly and whose job probably will last from two to three years.

Protests, it was learned today, have been made against the Donahue appointment to the big three of Democratic politics in Massachusetts, but they apparently are helpless to interfere in the situation because of the influence of the President's son.

Depositors Protest.

The Donahue appointment accompanied that of Daniel W. Mahony, a former mayor of Lawrence, to be receiver of the First National Bank of Haverhill.

Some of the depositors in the two closed national banks have expressed the opinion that the remaining assets of the two banks eventually would pay them greater dividends if the receivers were experienced banking men and residents of the city in which the banks are located.

Route forecasts for 12 hours ending at noon:

Evansville-Atlanta—Overcast to broken clouds with some probability of local showers and thunderstorms.

FREED ON FIRST CHARGE, FACES A SECOND TODAY

John Casey, 35 years old, who escaped prosecution in the court of Municipal Judge Joseph H. McGarry last week after he had been arrested on a charge of annoying girl workers in the Mallers building, surrendered last night to the Lawndale police who had been seeking him on a second warrant charging indecent exposure.

Casey will be arraigned this morning before Judge McGarry. The second warrant was taken out by John L. Johannesen, manager of the Mallers building, after it was found that Casey had been freed on the first charge for want of prosecution.

It was charged by Johannesen that the first case had been fixed. He asserted that he and his witnesses were on hand all day, waiting for the case to be called. It was never called out in court, he declared, and when he inquired about it he was informed by the clerk of the court, he said, that Casey had been discharged for want of prosecution.

Judge McGarry said he did not recall the circumstances of the case when the matter afterward was brought to his attention. He declared, however, that all cases of indecent exposure taken before him have always been dealt with severely.

JUDGE AROUSED BY RECEIVER'S DELAY ON TAXES

Jarecki Charges Racket, Demands Accounting.

TAX COLLECTIONS.

Real estate tax collections yesterday were $2,573,098, making a total of $64,259,477 collected since the enforcement of the Kerner-Skarda act was started on April 28. The day's collections of real estate taxes and the uncollected taxes for the last four years follow:

| | 1928. | 1929. |
|---|---|---|
| Sept. 12...... | $ 71,532 | $ 107,502 |
| Uncollected .. | 17,624,438 | 47,659,203 |

| | 1930. | 1931. |
|---|---|---|
| Sept. 12...... | $ 101,619 | $ 2,292,445 |
| Uncollected .. | 74,166,344 | 82,062,348 |

The action of the Metropolitan Trust company, receiver for a property at 6900 South Michigan avenue, in purchasing refrigerators for the building instead of paying taxes was condemned yesterday by County Judge Jarecki. The building, which has 24 apartments, owes $5,759 in back taxes, and only $500 has been paid in three years.

Judge Jarecki ordered attorneys for the Metropolitan company to file a complete accounting and announced that he would have it investigated. He also ordered Assistant State's Attorney William T. Crilly, in charge of the tax collection department of the state's attorney's office, to file an information against the receiver, and set the hearing for Sept. 27.

Assails Icebox Expenses.

"Invariably, every time a receiver goes into a building, ice boxes go in also, and all I hear about is expenses for new refrigerators," Judge Jarecki said. "These properties get along for years with their old iceboxes, and I don't see why they don't continue to do so.

"This is just a racket, and is getting worse all the time. You can talk about Al Capone, but he's just a piker and a panhandler compared to some receivers. I've talked grand jury many times in these cases before me, and I mean business in two or three cases."

Attorneys for the trust company were unable to tell the court how much the refrigerators had cost, but said that the amount was sufficient to retard the payment of taxes. Judge Jarecki ordered the receiver, in the accounting, to itemize completely the cost of the refrigerators.

The judge also declared that "milking of properties" would be stopped if a law were passed requiring the publishing of the list of bondholders on a property. He said that if the bondholders knew each other's identity, they could band together and prevent "extravagances by receivers."

Orders 46 More Receiverships.

Judge Jarecki continued his enforcement of the Kerner-Skarda act yesterday by appointing County Treasurer McDonough as receiver for 46 income bearing properties to enable him to collect delinquent taxes totaling $174,372.

Treasurer McDonough filed 100 tax receivership petitions in the County court, naming properties owing an aggregate of $496,927.

The treasurer also distributed $2,925,000 to seven taxing agencies, as follows:

|---|---|
| City of Chicago.................... | $2,000,000 |
| State of Illinois.................... | 200,000 |
| Forest preserve district........... | 50,000 |
| Sanitary district .................. | 300,000 |
| South parks ........................ | 250,000 |
| West parks ......................... | 75,000 |
| Lincoln park ....................... | 50,000 |

The money was collected in tax payments within the last few days and will be used by the government to retire tax warrants and pay bills.

A Lithping Robber Geth 30 Thenths in Thickup

Peter Damiani, 17 years old, 957 North St. Louis avenue, and Myrtle Wilkenson, 23 years old, 441 North Central Park avenue, were sitting in an automobile in front of Damiani's home early yesterday when a man approached and drew a revolver. "Thtick 'em up," the bandit ordered. A search of Damiani and Wilkenson yielded 30 cents. "Well, thirty thenth ith thomething," the bandit announced and departed.

CAMP ALGONQUIN CLOSES; LAST OF CHILDREN RETURN

Brown and Sturdy, They're Ready for Winter.

With buttons at the bursting point across solid little chests, the season's last contingent of youngsters came home last night from Camp Algonquin, the vacation haven for the underprivileged supported by contributions from TRIBUNE readers. Summer was over for them, and they showed it in brown skins and bright eyes, and the energy with which they burst into the North Western station as they swarmed from the train, 280 strong.

Homeward bound commuters watched in amazement as the throng of boys and girls surged down the runway and into the waiting room. In a few minutes everybody was smiling, having caught the infection of excitement in the adventure of these bundle laden vacationers. It was something to have seen them.

Eighty at Camp All Summer.

Eighty among the group had spent the entire season at camp, because of the extent to which they were undernourished. They had drunk gallons of pure sweet milk and downed bushels of wholesome vegetables and simple meat cuts. They had slept long and well in properly ventilated rooms. They had learned to play in the open, under the big trees.

Each had gained weight during the summer, and several had difficulty in donning the clothes in which they had made the trip to the camp on the Fox river. They were strong and hearty, ready for what the winter might bring.

Two thousand outings in all, to 1,660 individuals, had been given when the camp was closed yesterday. Both mothers and children got vacations of two weeks, a different group going to the camp and another returning to the city semi-monthly. It was one of the finest seasons in the history of the camp, according to Joel Hunter, superintendent of the United Charities, which supervises Algonquin.

A Good Time for All.

"We can't tell yet just how much weight the children gained, or what the average will be, until all the records have been tabulated," he said. "But we could see without figuring it out that the entertainment there was much better than it has ever been before, partly because of the interest of the dramatic instructor, who was a volunteer, and partly because all the counselors gave their best efforts to the work.

"Our stage in the recreation hall was better lighted and our settings more adequate than before, and we found that the audiences for the frequent dramatic productions there gave the closest attention to the programs they ever have shown. Each individual participated more than once in these programs during the time at camp.

"The mothers displayed a great deal of pride in the quilting bees they held. Many of them are bringing back quilts they made at camp, for which they took patterns from THE TRIBUNE.

MRS. MEEKER SAYS MATE LOCKED HER UP; GETS DIVORCE

(Picture on back page.)

Mrs. Ruth Campbell Meeker, obtaining a divorce yesterday before Circuit Judge Walter J. La Buy from Lawrence A. Meeker, testified that her husband on one occasion shut her up in a closet for several hours as a disciplinary measure.

The couple have been prominent in New York and Chicago society. Meeker, a former broker, who is now in the insurance business, is a nephew of Arthur Meeker, the packer. Mrs. Meeker is the daughter of the late Mrs. Virginia Adams Campbell. She is living at the College club, 196 East Delaware place.

Mrs. Meeker charged that her husband shut her in the closet in March, 1930, when she chided him "for something his mother had said." She also charged that he struck her on two occasions.

Meeker was represented by counsel but did not oppose the suit. He agreed to pay Mrs. Meeker $50 a month for the next year while he is establishing himself in his new business, leaving the alimony order open to modification at the end of that period.

"Blatz Old Heidelberg Beer Instantly Approved by Windermere Guests"

says WARD B. JAMES
Managing Director HOTELS WINDERMERE, Chicago

DINING ON THE WINDERMERE EAST TERRACE
Gay awnings, greensward and shrubs add a continental atmosphere to dinner enjoyed on the Windermere East Terrace. Here, choice food artfully prepared becomes doubly appealing when served with appetite-provoking Blatz Old Heidelberg Beer, properly chilled, on draught or in bottles.

"Guests of the Windermere Hotel naturally expected us to serve them none but the very finest brews," says Mr. James. "Happily, our selection of Blatz Old Heidelberg Beer met with their instant approval. The smooth, mellow flavor of Old Heidelberg is the equal of famous German brews. It has a zest and tang that is remarkable, never failing to satisfy the most critical and discriminating. Old Heidelberg is truly a wonderful beer . . . and we are proud to serve it to our guests."

READ TESTIFIES THAT HE WOOED CLAIRE WINDSOR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—When Alfred C. Read Jr. wooed Claire Windsor he did so "after probably 100 quarrels with my wife over other men and other women," he testified today in his ex-wife's suit for $100,000 damages from Miss Windsor.

Read was watched by a courtroom full of women as he testified as defense witness for Miss Windsor.

Read depicted for a middle aged jury—five women, seven men—a household of discord before Miss Windsor was mentioned there.

Read told his wife's attorneys he felt embarrassed because this was the seventh anniversary of his marriage to Marian Young, red haired beauty of the University of California. Attorneys for the ex-wife, Marian Young Read, told him to "go ahead."

Says He Courted Claire.

Taking Read through his meeting with Claire Windsor, on an east bound train from Los Angeles in September, 1931, Wilbur Pierce, attorney for Miss Windsor, asked: "Did you solicit her affections?"

"Yes, I solicited her affections. And on the second night, on the observation car, she let me kiss her," Read replied.

Mr. Pierce continued the questions, the witness replying:

Q.—Did Miss Windsor assault you? A.—What?

Q.—Did she assault you affectionately? A.—Why, no.

Q.—Well, did you become infatuated with her? A.—Yes, I was infatuated with her, and there seemed to be a mutual exchange of affection. I suggested to her that either myself or my wife would go to Reno for a divorce. I had proposed marriage to Miss Windsor and I wanted to meet her as a free man by Christmas.

Q.—How many quarrels did you have with your wife over other men and other women? Would you say five, or ten, or a hundred? A.—Oh, a hundred, anyway.

Read Tells of Rows.

Q.—Tell us something about some of those quarrels. A.—Well, in August, 1931, at Fallen Leaf lodge on Lake Tahoe, Harold Belasco brought a young woman, a Miss Alberta Evans, to the lodge. I was introduced to her, and she said, 'Why, I know Al,' Well, maybe she did, but I didn't know her at the time [naïvely turning to the jury]. My wife upbraided me, but later learned she had herself introduced me to her at a formal party.

Q. — Anything else? A. — We had other quarrels, some over women that never existed, and some over men. Once we quarreled over a Mr. Parker. He attended a party I gave at Cal-Neva. He was no friend of mine, just a member of the party, and he said to me, "You don't care if I take care of your wife, do you?" and I wasn't suspicious at the time and was busy with other guests, and I said, "All right." Later I heard that Parker and Marian [Mrs. Read] had been together out in the swing on the lawn all evening and I took her into the maid's room and we had a quarrel, and Parker came in looking for her. I shoved him out of the room and told her if she didn't stop it I would throw Parker down the hill.

Mrs. Read Laughs.

Mrs. Read nudged her counsel and laughed at this stage of her ex-husband's story. Mr. Pierce continued his questions and Read his answers:

Q.—Do you remember other quarrels? A. — Yes, on numerous occasions — some of these were terrific fights — over my secretary, Clarice Champion. We also had disagreements over a girl named Duncan, and another girl named Jean McBrier, and once another married man and I took two girls to Del Monte over the week-end. I'd rather not mention this man's name, because he is still married.

Read said his wife once told him, "I know you have been much in love with Claire Windsor, but don't you worry about that because I am even with you." He indicated he referred to a trip by Mrs. Read to an Oakland, Cal., party and that she had forgotten the key to her home. Read testified "her escort went around to our bedroom window and got in that way, and she entered the house by the same entrance, but I would not rather tell about this."

Read said he had been on the private car of Miss Windsor's stage company from Los Angeles to Frisco a few days after the early morning raid which Mrs. Read's detectives made on Miss Windsor's bungalow at Agua Caliente, Mexico, in April, 1932. Read was not in the bungalow, he testified, and Miss Windsor had expressed great anger, saying, "I doubtless had been deceiving her about my marital relations."

Miss Champion, Read's former secretary, was another witness. She said Mrs. Read had accused her and she called Mrs. Read "a damn liar."

AUTOMOBILE THEFTS.

Automobiles stolen, 61; recovered, 60; stripped, 7 [from police records for the twenty-four hour period ending at midnight Monday].

An automobile owned by Judge John J. Sullivan of the Appellate court was found stripped yesterday in the New City police district. Not long afterward Detectives Michael O'Donnell and Edwin Berger of the stolen auto detail arrested two brothers, Albert Zabawa, 17 years old, and Stanley, 19, in their home at 1256 West 50th street.

In a shed in the rear of the Zabawa home the policemen found the front and rear bumpers of the judge's car. The brothers said they had found the accessories in an alley. Both were charged with auto thievery and receiving stolen property in complaints later signed by the judge's son, John J. Sullivan Jr. In the last six months two of Judge Sullivan's car have been stolen and stripped.

KILLED WHILE WASHING WINDOW.

Sam Goldblatt, 51 years old, slipped on a piece of soap yesterday while washing a window in his second floor apartment at 3240 Evergreen avenue, fell to the ground, and was killed.

PICTURES EARTH AS GRANDMOTHER OF THE UNIVERSE

Globe 2 Billion Years Old, Astronomer Says.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LEICESTER, England, Sept. 12.—Expanding at the rate of 15,000 miles a second, the universe is getting bigger and bigger, with the promise of bursting some day like an overinflated balloon, Sir Arthur Eddington, famous British astronomer and mathematician, told the British Association for the Advancement of Science today.

Sir Arthur asserted in his paper that evidence seems to indicate the age of the earth is about 2 billion years. He declared the earth is older than other heavenly bodies which were formed when the congested mass comprising the universe broke up 200 million years ago.

Stars Running Away.

"Outside our own galaxy of stars there are millions of other stars which appear to us like islands," he said. "It has been found that these galaxies are running away from us and the greater their distance, the faster they move. The speed is proportional to the distance.

"That progression of speed with distance has been traced up to 150 million light years, and at that distance it means a speed of 15,000 miles a second. Whether the universe has always been expanding and will continue to expand is another question. I should say this theory is not universally accepted and in some quarters is regarded with skepticism."

One of these quarters was represented on the platform in the person of Prof. A. E. Milne of Oxford.

"If he [Prof. Milne] is holding to the theory that cosmical repulsion is zero, then I say he is wrecking the relativity theory and knocking the bottom out of space," said Sir Arthur. "From our theories it appears that the beginning of the universe from congested masses took place 200 million years ago.

"There is great difficulty in not assigning an age of at least two billion years to the earth, so we seem to be coming to the theory that the earth is older than the universe itself. It looks as if we will have to limit the evolution of the stars to somewhere about 100 million years."

The scientist then recalled that the late Lord Kelvin once told the association that the limit of the age of the sun and the earth was 50 million years.

"We laugh at that limit now and some future British association may laugh at the limits we have placed today," Eddington continued. "Speaking of the beginning of things, one feels one may as well be hanged for a sheep as a lamb.

"Astronomical observations indicate that the spiral nebulae are scattering apart. Their distances from us and from one another become doubled in about 1,300 million years."

Discussion after the address was suddenly interrupted when an unidentified man rose and in a loud tone of voice moved a vote of sympathy be drawn up for Dr. Albert Einstein.

There was a silence of two minutes until the chairman arose and said:

"I think we had better think it over and reach our decision tomorrow."

Gas Heat
puts a stop to this drudgery for thousands

To prove that every home can afford to heat with gas... we will install it at our expense and remove it at our expense, if you don't like it.

SHOVELING coal and ashes is a dirty, messy job. Plain drudgery, week in, week out, all winter long. And so unnecessary in the twentieth century. Automatic gas heat banishes all furnace slavery. It's just as simple as turning on an electric light. Be modern. Install gas heat in your home now. Then you can fire your furnace from your easy chair.

Gas heat ends days and nights of back-breaking coal shoveling . . . dirty hours of hauling ashes . . . the nuisance of chopping kindling . . . the anxiety of watching fires, setting dampers. Your home is kept spotlessly clean—free forever from dust, grime and soot. Just set the thermostat for the temperature you want and you'll have it—even, correct day and night. Gas heat brings new comfort, new convenience, better health through even heat for the entire family.

Every home can afford it

Now at new low cost, every home—even the most modest, can afford to heat with gas. Cost of gas heat is one-half of what it was in the 1930-31 heating season. But we don't ask you to purchase any equipment to install gas heat. Just tell us that you want it and we'll put it in at our expense. During the nine heating months of the first year you pay only $3.00 a month rental for the equipment in the average home. This charge will be included with your gas bill. You pay nothing during the summer months.

If at any time during the first year you decide that you don't want gas heat you order it out. And out it comes. We replace your former equipment in good workmanlike order. If you decide that you can't do without the comfort of gas heat in your home, the rental you paid applies on the purchase price of the equipment.

Mail coupon today

Decide now that you want to try gas heat. Learn from your own experience that what we say is true. Then and only then will you know the full facts. It's easy. Just mail the coupon for full information.

What $16,000 buys in The American Weekly

A full page in color more than twice the size of any other magazine page in the world . . . more than 5,000,000 families at a cost of about ⅛ cent per family . . . The attention of the entire family instead of a single buying factor.

● American Weekly—Snorting brontosauri with swarms of pterodactyls perched on their backs go gallivanting from the primordial slime across the toes of fabulous princesses, heiresses and actresses who, swooning in ermine negligees with hot love-letters stacked around them, "confess all" under the shadow of Science's latest mechanical star-splitter, a device for laying the centuries end to end so that they will reach from the pearly minarets of wicked Constantinople to the awesome depths of the profoundest ocean abyss yet plumbed by man!—(TIME Magazine—May 1, 1933)

CLEVER, Brother Time, but you haven't said the half of it.

For, as a matter of fact, nothing less than the whole world of human interest rolls through the colorful pages of The American Weekly every Sunday of the year.

This Mighty Magazine deals with the elemental and fundamental yearnings of life, with all its human hunger for love, for knowledge, for happiness.

The difference between the way The American Weekly deals with these and the way other publications are edited is simply this:

The American Weekly recognizes that love can come alike to cottage and to castle; that the lamp of learning has been lighted even more often on the homely mantel than beside the throne; that happiness may flute as clearly in the peasant's whistle as in the prince's song.

"To walk with kings nor lose the common touch" is no ordinary fact; its sustained successful appeal to millions of people is the reason behind The American Weekly's success.

Is the editor right to plunge both hands deep into life, dredge the palpitating facts of the world's romance, science, progress, and spread them in all the fascinating actuality across these pages?

Or should he respond to heart-hunger, mind-hunger, body-hunger with a stone of chill judgment and outworn recital?

The American Weekly has made its choice. Gorgeously, humanly, accurately it portrays this world of ours as it is, as it was and as we would have it be, to this living world of readers.

And in return, more than five million homes open their doors every week to this Mighty Magazine, paying to it a tribute of loyalty that never changes except to grow and deepen.

In the bond that exists between this publication and its readers there is something for you, Mr. Manufacturer, to consider thoughtfully if you have goods or services to sell.

For $16,000 you can buy a full page, a big page the size of this advertisement, printed in four colors, and make your sales appeal in the world's most interesting magazine to the world's most interested audience, the responsive millions in the 5,000,000 homes which welcome The American Weekly every Sunday.

ANOTHER FARM PLAN ON THE ROCKS.

The same editions of THE TRIBUNE which announced the expected abandonment of the international sugar control plan as a failure report the progress of Secretary Wallace's schemes for controlling the production of hogs and wheat.

Mr. Wallace's wheat plan is merely an adaptation of the Chadbourne sugar plan. Get all the producing nations of the world to agree to reduce acreage and then, so runs the Wallace argument, watch the price rise. The sugar agreement was signed and carried out. Cuban production last year was more than a million tons less than the year before. Javanese production was reduced by a million and a half tons. The five exporting nations of Europe reduced their output by more than three and a half million tons. Meanwhile the price of raw sugar has dropped as low as .57 of a cent a pound in Cuba and today is about 1.61 cents, only a tenth of a cent higher than it was a couple of years ago when the agreement was signed.

If the plan didn't work for sugar, where really drastic reductions in output were imposed, why expect it to work for wheat? Sugar is a commodity produced in large part by a few hundred or a few thousand units. In the United States alone there are hundreds of thousands of wheat farmers. The difficulties of control are proportionately greater.

Mr. Wallace intends to get the wheat farmers to agree to reduce their acreage by 15 per cent. That may or may not reduce output in proportion. Fertilizer is cheap. If the money advanced by the government is spent by the farmers for fertilizer the results may prove astonishing. The average production of wheat in the United States in 1931, a favorable year, was a little more than 16 bushels an acre. In the same year the average production in England and Wales was nearly twice as high, 30 bushels an acre, and in Belgium the yield was just under 40 bushels an acre. The difference is accounted for in part by rainfall but also and to a very considerable extent by the use of fertilizers. The price of sugar did not rise even though the attempt to reduce output was highly successful. There can be no parallel expectation of reducing the output of wheat.

Much the same judgment must be reached regarding Mr. Wallace's now famous scheme for raising the price of hogs by exterminating 4 million young pigs and a million sows. It is significant that the farmers have been swamping the markets with their young pigs but the receipt of the sows has been disappointing. That can only mean that the farmers propose to take advantage of the government's offer by raising more pigs than ever. Even if the million sows do come to market the effect will be only temporary. Better care of the next litters and more intensive breeding can bring the supply of swine back to normal in less than a year.

Every one now agrees, with the memory of the Hoover farm board still fresh, that it is futile to attempt to raise prices merely by pegging them with government money. We are on the way to learning that it is equally futile to attempt to raise prices by giving bounties for reduced production. There is no certainty that the production will actually diminish and every reason to expect the farmers to exert their brains to defeat the scheme. If prices do tend to rise as a result of the bounties and the artificially produced scarcities, there is still the danger that the higher prices will seriously reduce consumption. If that happens, as it seems already to have happened in cotton, the oversupply will not be reduced and it may well be increased.

Agriculture may recover, but if it does it will not be because of Mr. Wallace's efforts but in spite of them. The real hope for agriculture, today as always, is not in reducing output but in increasing the demand. That can be done by restoring to our farmers their lost markets abroad. It can be done, also, as Dr. H. E. Barnard, director of the Corn Industries Research Foundation, told his fellow chemists at their convention, by discovering new uses for corn in industry. He estimates that these new uses will absorb an additional quarter of a billion bushels a year. That is the best news which the corn belt has heard in many a year of professional farm relieving.

NAZI STATESMANSHIP.

M. Herriot, on formal mission, has been visiting at Moscow, where he exchanged public compliments with M. Stalin and presumably gave his blessing to the Stalin régime. Stalin has invited Marshal Pilsudski to visit him at Moscow. Mussolini has recently signed with the Russians a pact of "friendship, nonaggression, and neutrality." Great Britain, France and Iitaly have consented to the increase of the Austrian military forces. The Belgian parliament has voted 60 million dollars to strengthen the fortifications of the Belgian-German frontier. The French president and officials have just finished an inspection of the new fortifications of the Franco-German frontier.

Old imperial Germany bitterly complained of encirclement. No doubt we shall hear the same from the Nazi statesmen, but there will be even less sympathy from the outside world. The Nazi statesmen protest their peaceful intentions in international affairs, but no government in Europe is willing to take them at their word. On the contrary, they are taking measures of coöperation and defense which clearly reveal their belief that the Nazi régime is preparing for war. Bismarck used to arrange very carefully for neutralities before he embarked on war, but the Nazi government has managed to weld Germany's neighbors into a chain of vigilant restraint. It seems to have concentrated all the conflicting fears and hostilities of the stormy European family against itself. Kaiser Wilhelm, in all his shining armor, never did so complete a job. He frightened the British eventually out of their ancient hostility to France and out of their friendliness to Germany. He brought Russia and France together. He turned the Italian ally into a foe, and he worked upon the imagination of the American people until they were ready in the final event to give his dynasty the coup de grace. Why this procedure should have no meaning for the present régime in Germany, and it seems to us to be wholly ignored, it is difficult for us to understand.

Apologists for the Nazi movement declare it has done wonders to restore and unify the German people. But that German morale and unification must be purchased at the price of turning the world against Germany we cannot believe. The Nazi government declares officially that it is all for peace in Europe, but its spirit and conduct cancel its assertions. What the world sees is the regimentation of the German people on military lines and a recklessness of pronouncement and policy that gives no assurance even of selfish caution or self-control. The kaiser's conduct of foreign relations had lucid intervals, but the Hitlerites seem to have adopted only the worst of his inspirations.

"NONINTERFERENCE."

An Associated Press dispatch from Buenos Aires reports that the Argentine government has addressed a note to the American embassy expressing the hope that the United States would not intervene in Cuba. The note, says the dispatch, expressed sympathy for Cuba and laid stress upon the principle of noninterference by a foreign power, declaring that Argentina has followed this principle.

It might be suggested to the Argentine government that its note to Washington is not precisely an example of the principle of noninterference. The Argentine foreign office seems to forget that what it protests as interference by a foreign power is the fulfillment of a legal responsibility, the exercise of an explicit legal right growing out of special conditions in the relations of this country and Cuba. It would be proper for the American government in response to the Argentine communication to recall that the United States is responsible for the release of the Cuban people from Spanish sovereignty and for the establishment of an independent government in Cuba. The American nation fought a war against Spain for this purpose and in so doing assumed an international responsibility, the terms of which are expressly defined in that part of the constitution of Cuba called the Platt amendment. This agreement imposes upon us the right and duty to intervene in the affairs of Cuba whenever necessary "for the preservation of Cuban independence, for the maintenance of a government adequate for the protection of life, property, and individual liberty, and for discharging the obligations with respect to Cuba imposed by the treaty of Paris on the United States now to be assumed and undertaken by the government of Cuba."

The reluctance of our government to intervene in Cuba is manifest, but if it occurs it will be in the fulfillment of obligations and in the exercise of legal rights which have no bearing upon the principle of noninterference by foreign powers to which the Argentine communication adverts. Latin-American politicians who find it expedient to foster and exploit sentiment unfriendly to the United States may ignore our special relations to Cuba, but their protests have no basis in law or international right.

We would also suggest that intervention of the United States in Cuba for the protection of the persons and property of foreigners lawfully in Cuba and for the maintenance of a government adequate to protect life, property, and liberty in that island deserves not the protest but the approval of every government in the Americas or elsewhere. If events in Cuba compel it, it will be misinterpreted by influences throughout Latin America anxious for their own ends to disparage the United States. This is realized and regretted in our country, but it cannot release our government from its duty to exercise its rights in the fulfillment of express national and international obligations.

COSTLY SNEEZES.

[Rockford Register-Republic.]

For upwards of 3,000,000 luckless Americans the sneezing season now is at its height. Until frost ends their torment, there can be little relief for them.

Economic consequences resulting from the prevalence of hay fever during August and September are discussed by the Chicago information bureau which studies the ravages of this persistent disease and attempts to discover how some measure of comfort may be attained for those afflicted with it.

The bureau estimates that the loss resulting from hay fever cases totals more than $35,000,000 annually, due to incapacity for normal work, to costs of medical attention, to the necessity for seeking relief on long trips into the north, and other items.

"Individuals in this group have been found to be peculiarly sensitive to more than 350 different foods, pollens, and other substances which scientists, according to recent findings, believe produce an excessive amount of histamine, or a histaminelike substance in the blood, bringing on hay fever attacks," a newly issued bulletin states.

"Histamine, which is an animo acid composed of poisonous protein products, may be produced in excessive amounts in certain individuals by products ranging all the way from canary feathers to veal, strawberries, and the protein elements observed in the pollen of many plants and grasses.

"The term 'hay fever,' however, often is loosely used since the ailment is by no means caused exclusively by wind borne pollen irritants rising from the hay fields to be blown in many instances several hundred miles. Treatment of the disorder lies in prevention, where such is possible, by removal to noninfected or reasonably pollen free areas. Protein free diets and inoculation of the patient with the particular pollen to which he is susceptible are frequently resorted to."

Hay fever, the report concludes, usually is most active during August and September when the anemophilous plant life is most energetic in reseeding itself.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

THE PERSPIRING REPORTER.

He asks five people a question every day (unless they see him coming).

THE QUESTION.

"WITH DRY MAINE voting for repeal and only ten more states needed to complete the required number, do you not think there is a good prospect of the return of alcoholic liquor to the United States before Christmas?"

THE ANSWERS.

DELANDO DRINKERO, business man, 9899 Bluce avenue—Shouldn't wonder a bit. But I'm too busy to talk. Here's a dozen customers waiting in line for their whisky, which I am supplying them at three bucks a pint. Certainly, you can have a case or a dozen cases right now. No prescription needed. Yes, I think there is every likelihood that before many months alcoholic liquor will return.

BYRON HAM'N'EGGS, waiter in the Nevershut Nite club, 21144 Daffydill road—It does look as though there was a fair chance for likker to come back. For instance, look at this tray I'm carrying to the guests. You see on it two gin rickeys, two Scotch highballs, six cocktails, and four whisky straights. We sell to one and all now for fifty cents a drink. I haven't time to talk any more, but I would say offhand that there does seem to be a fair chance of likker coming back before the end of the year or before next summer, anyhow.

MRS. ARABELLA STILLGOTCOIN—Oh, yes, indeed. All that is needed now is ten more states, and Colorado, Maryland, and Minnesota will vote today; that leaves only seven to hear from. But we must all be patient and wait. Will you have a cocktail? I have plenty of gin now; I buy it in two gallon tins just like I used to buy maple sirup. And it's much cheaper. Yes, again I say in reply to your question that I think alcoholic liquors will soon return. Here's looking at you!

MISS IMA PEACHE, home gal—What's that? Say, jest ask me that there question again. Lissen, you fresh guy, what are you tryin' to put over? Is whisky a coming back? Say, another crack like that and I'll call a cop and have you taken to somebody's nut college for examination.

MALCOME HIGEAR, financier—There does seem every prospect of a return in the not far distant future of hard liquor. But I know a reporter's job is a tiring one. If you will kindly get off my desk—somehow you reporter guys always sit down on my desk, although I have plenty of chairs around—I will be glad to open this compartment where I keep my drinks. What will you have—Scotch, Irish, Canadian rye, twenty year old bourbon, cognac, vodka, or sherry? Say when—and then we'll drink to the speedy repeal of the 18th amendment and the return of alcoholic liquor.

A LA MODE.

All day I see them going by in trucks—
Chickens and gawky geese and witless ducks,
Their heads thrust from the coops, their vacuous eyes
Viewing their strange environment with surprise
And just a hint of fear. And, as they go,
Hens squawk, ducks quack, courageous roosters crow
With masculine bravado. On the way
(As who of us, indeed, is not today!)
To market—death—Nirvana; or, perchance,
Reincarnation. Will it much enhance Their worth, I wonder, if they wake to find Themselves a part of prideful humankind?

Peaceful, protected, canopied and cool;
Out of the jungle, out of marsh and fen,
Where quaked the ancient forbears, frail, of men;
Out of a thousandfold millennium
Of prehistoric heritage they come,
Victims, at last, of that primeval law,
Preserving them till now, of tooth and claw.
Still from their prison apprehensive eyes
Scan, as they jostle on, the trembling skies
For swooping hawk or eagle. Chickens, ducks,
Riding to doom ironically in trucks.

"BANDITS COMPEL Office Employés and Customers to Lie on Floor While Place Is Robbed."—Headline. Health Exercise for Today. Ready! ONE—Stand erect. TWO—Flop forward briskly to floor, being careful not to bump too hard and getting bruises besides crushing your cigars or lipstick. THREE—Roll to the left—then to right. This allows the bandits to rifle the pockets without unnecessary trouble. FOUR—Flop again to the floor, keeping the face closed; careless and illtimed remarks often provoke the bandits, who are very sensitive, and may cause them to start shooting. FIVE—After bandits are gone count one thousand and then raise the head cautiously. If all is clear return to position number one and repeat the exercise a dozen times.

INDIANS are queer judges of beauty. They picked a girl in the Indian village at the World's Fair as the beauty queen, but yet her photographs do not reveal her showing all her teeth and legs and most of her epidermis. Then how can she be called a beauty queen? The Indians are still uncivilized.

AND NOW, after scientists have labored night and day for years and finally succeeded in splitting an atom, they have gravely and somewhat sadly announced that a split atom has no power and is of no use to anybody anyhow. On the other hand, a split infinitive saves a lot of trouble and makes easier reading. It seems needlessly cruel to split a poor little atom, but I will split an infinitive without blinking an eyelash.

CANCER AND INHERITANCE.

THE average person over 50 years of age stands one chance in ten of dying from cancer. The other nine chances are divided between the heart diseases, which head the list; the pneumonias, apoplexy, Bright's disease, prostatic enlargement, diabetes, automobile accidents, and a galaxy of diseases of less importance.

There are some families in which the chances of dying from cancer are as high as one in five. Such families are sometimes designated as cancer families. It is generally accepted that to a certain degree and in a certain sense cancer, or a weakness toward cancer, is an inheritable quality in human beings. It is known that in some animals this tendency toward cancer inheritance is much greater than it is in humans. There is a variety of mouse in which this tendency is so great that the family is sometimes called the cancer mice.

Dr. Maude Slye has devoted most of her life up to this point in studying the inheritance of cancer as she has observed it in this mouse family. Her opinions are accepted as the last word, so far as concerns mouse cancer. Those who do not think inheritance to be an important factor in cancer in human beings make no effort to challenge what Dr. Slye says about mouse cancer. They go no further than to say that men are not mice and conclusions as to mouse cancer do not apply to human cancer.

The opposing opinions are read and pondered by Dr. Slye, but she continues with her work without being unduly influenced by them. She is raising mice that are more than one hundred generations removed from the mice with which she started. One hundred human generations would nearly carry us back to the Garden of Eden.

The individuals in this more than one hundred generations have been observed daily. Diaries have been kept for them. When they died autopsies have been made.

Dr. Slye is of the opinion that inheritance is no negligible factor in human cancer, though of course far less so than in mouse cancer. A part of her opinion is that people, by the selection of their husbands or wives, can increase or decrease their susceptibility to cancer. In two generations of wise selection of marital mates a definite cancer tendency can be wiped out of a family strain.

Without intending it Dr. Slye could have accumulated a considerable amount of information on the subject of inheritance of other qualities in mice. However, she has not been without intention. She has had an interest in inheritance in general, along lines other than those of cancer, and she thinks some of her observations can be applied to humans. If they are to show race wisdom the human animal will take note of the known facts of inheritance in selecting marital partners. In proportion as families and racial groups do this they will survive or remain dominant. In the human subject the problem of cancer of the internal organs appears to be unsolvable. She has noticed that mice rarely have cancer of these organs. This has led her to a line of experimentation on the effect of different diets in cancer of the digestive organs. She hopes that this experimentation may help to solve the relation of foods and food habits to cancer of the stomach in human beings.

ATHLETE'S FOOT.

A Reader writes: Can shoes be worn after a person with athlete's foot has had them on?

REPLY.

Yes. It is well to sterilize them, however. To do this, wipe them out with a watery solution of hyposulphite of soda. After that, expose them to sunlight and air. Place them so that the rays reach the interior of the shoe toward the front part. Some use formaldehyde fumes.

PROBATING ESTATE.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. A deceased sister left a will for her third interest in an undivided estate. She asks that all real estate be sold after her death. The real estate is all in the parents' name. She leaves two sisters. 2. The will was drawn in 1921 when land prices were high, and now there is no ready sale for it. The witnesses claim they know nothing about signing the will. In this event, would it be necessary to have the will probated? Also, the executor refuses to act, claiming he will have it probated. Could the heirs settle this, or what would be the most economical way to settle it, as there is no money? 3. Shall the sister continue taking charge of the business affairs as she has for the last fifteen years? 4. Can the homestead be sold without sharing with the legacies while [5] she had a third interest in it, but indebtedness to the sister who kept the home? S. C. E.

1. No question asked.

2. It seems probable that the will could be probated, but the presence or absence of a valid will has nothing to do with the necessity for probate. If all parties interested, including possible future purchasers of real estate, are satisfied, probate can be dispensed with.

3. See 2.

4. Probably not. We cannot advise without having the wording of the will before us.

5. Who is "she"? We do not understand this sentence.

UNPAID TAXES.

Sidney, Ill., Sept. 6.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Is there a law in effect in Illinois that a home or farm owner can remain on and retain ownership of same without paying taxes? 2. It is claimed here that a home owner can call the place he lives on a homestead and thereby not be put off for nonpayment of taxes. 3. When a place is sold for taxes, what rate of interest is earned if the owner redeems the place? 4. How long before the buyer gets final title and ownership to the property he buys? H. M. R.

1. It is a fact that ordinarily no effort is made to evict the original owner for tax defaults under Illinois law.

2. Homestead has nothing to do with it.

3. Twelve per cent each six months.

4. Two years after the tax sale a tax deed will issue. If the grantee goes into possession under this deed and pays the taxes for seven years he will then have a title which he could clear by court proceedings. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

HURRICANE INSURANCE.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Is hurricane insurance compulsory on real estate in Chicago? 2. Is it a law? 3. Can we obtain a refund of the money paid thus far on such insurance? J. S.

1. Not unless the party has signed an agreement to furnish it.

2. No.

3. No, since you have enjoyed the benefit of the possession.

FRIEND OF THE FARMER

[Inquiries on farm management, financing or governmental regulations addressed to this department must be accompanied by stamped, addressed envelope for reply.]

A. P. asks: I own a farm of 40 acres and understand the government is paying farmers to reduce acreage. How can I qualify?

Answer: The only payment being made farmers is for those who have grown wheat during the last three summers, and the reduction is set at 15 per cent of the average for the three years. It would not apply in your case for that reason.

M. A. F.: When I wanted to ship my pigs to market yesterday to collect the government bonus I was told that I couldn't ship without a permit and that the government was getting more pigs than the packers could handle. Why can't they make good their promise to the farmers and take our pigs without all this red tape?

Answer: The latest report is that the government has contracted with 135 packing plants, owned by 92 packing concerns, and located in 83 processing points in the United States. We are advised also that the glut of pigs has now been removed and you should be able now to ship your pigs by getting in touch with your local shipper. A permit must be obtained, however.

R. T. S.: What is the official method of reckoning the amount of corn in a crib?

Answer: The common practice in estimating corn crib storage space is to figure on 2½ cubic feet of space per bushel of corn. To determine the amount of corn, multiply the length, width and height of the corn pile, in feet, multiply this cubic volume by 4 and divide by 10. Corn with husks on will reduce the capacity of a crib about one-fifth. Shelled corn occupies about 1¼ cubic feet per bushel.

R. O. C. asks: How much salary are the men being paid who go around the county signing up farmers on the government's wheat reducing scheme?

Answer: No funds have been provided to pay any one except the county agricultural agent in each county. However, when the applications have been signed the signers will form a county association, which in turn may select its officers and determine salaries or expenses, if any, of solicitors. The expenses would come from deductions made on each signer's final wheat payment next spring.

NRA Question Box

Requests for information concerning the NRA will be printed in this column. It is urged that questions be stated briefly. Following are some typical questions occasioned by the national recovery act and their answers:

QUESTION—I work for a manufacturer of rubber stamping devices. Do we come under the code?

ANSWER—Yes, you do. A code for the marking devices industry will come up for hearing this week. In the meantime, it is the duty of your firm to work under the President's reemployment agreement. Hours petitioned for in the marking devices industry code are 40 per week, averaged over a 13 week period; not more than 48 in any one week or more than 8 hours in any one day. Minimum wages for most employés are $13 a week.

FISHING IN THE PARKS.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—I noticed an article in THE TRIBUNE stating the lagoons in the city parks had been opened for carp fishing, all other fish caught to be put back, fishing for carp being allowed on account of the carp feeding on the other small fish. It's a well known fact that carp do feed on the spawn of other fish during the spring or spawning season, but there's no record of carp being caught on live bait, such as minnows and frogs. Catching a few carp on hooks and lines may help get rid of them, but it will also get rid of more bass, blue gills, etc., than it will carp. Very few carp will be caught in comparison to other fish caught, and the greater part of the other species caught will be destroyed, for unless a fish is very carefully released it will not live very long on account of the injury caused by the hook and being handled. If the park boards really want to get rid of the carp and save the game fish there's only one way it can be accomplished successfully. They can be seined out and the game fish put back by means of dip nets, and by proper handling very few game fish would be destroyed. There are plenty of market fishermen who would be glad to seine the lagoons for the carp and rough fish they caught, and replace all the others at no expense whatever to the city.

There's no reason whatever there isn't good fishing in all the lagoons for a few weeks each fall, as the Lincoln park hatchery could place the fish they raise in the lagoons instead of dumping them in Lake Michigan to feed the lake trout. And after a short time the lagoons would be well stocked and the park boards would get many a dollar for boat rent that they now are missing.

A LAYMAN ON THE STEGOSAURUS.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—I am just another layman, but perhaps some scientist can explain why the stegosaurus on top of the "World a Million Years Ago" at A Century of Progress has typical herbivorous teeth, and the stegosaurus in the free Sinclair exhibit of dinosaurs has unmistakably carnivorous teeth, and is represented as browsing on plants, a thing obviously impossible for any animal with sharply pointed teeth.

DISCRIMINATING AGAINST ILLINOIS.

Park Ridge, Ill., Sept. 8.—"Cash N. Carry" expresses my sentiments exactly. The great injustice in this milk situation is the fact that it applies to Illinois only. Wisconsin roadside dealers are selling milk for as little as 15 cents a gallon and Indiana independent distributors ask 25 cents a gallon.

MRS. C. C. LENZEN.

R. F. C. INTEREST RATES.

Riverside, Ill., Sept. 5.—In your issue of Sept. 2 you had an article which informed your readers that because of the reduction in interest rates to closed banks by the R. F. C., Mr. Dawes' closed Central Republic Trust company will save approximately $690,000 on the $69,000,000 remaining unpaid from the original loan of $90,000,000. That is very fine.

However, why is it that Mr. Dawes' closed institution, which benefited to such magnificent extent by the big heartedness of the R. F. C., in face of this interest reduction to 4 per cent, continues to charge its own debtors a rate of 6 and 7 per cent? The general public probably little realizes that many, many small banks, now closed, in the past used the Central Trust for a clearing channel, and often borrowed money on collateral from it. When on that black day in June, 1932, twenty-one neighborhood banks were closed in Chicagoland because they were refused succor by the R. F. C., while Mr. Dawes' bank was bolstered by a $90,000,000 R. F. C. loan, these small bank loans were held by the Central Trust. These collateral loans in turn were used, at least in part, as the basis for the $90,000,000 loan made to Mr. Dawes' bank. Now Mr. Dawes' bank, which is given a reduction down to 4 per cent, itself continues to charge closed banks 6 and 7 per cent interest.

If the R. F. C., which was devised to help rehabilitate the country, is to live up to its intended purpose, why does not its governing board insist upon the benefits given institutions like the Central Trust being extended in turn to the borrowers of the latter? Or is it true that the R. F. C. is for helping the big banker, the big railroad, and the big fellow, and that the little fellow is obliged to wait for only such crumbs as might trickle down to him, if any? J. L. T.

A TALL TALE.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Recently I made an extended fishing trip throughout the northern part of Wisconsin, and while visiting at the home of a certain farmer I was asked this question, "Is it true that on the last day of September the World's Fair grounds are going to sink into the lake?" I just smiled and told them to have no fear. On my return trip I stopped at Watertown, Wis., and there was asked the same question. I replied that when the Exposition did sink into the lake the land around Watertown would rise 150 feet in the air and that the people in that area would find it necessary to use ropes and ladders to come down from their farms.

Finally they realized what an asinine rumor this was. I have been to the Fair grounds on four different occasions and am going twice more before it closes. Great! Nothing like it.

R. G. USELMAN.

FRENCH MINISTER LEADS GOOD WILL FLIGHT TO RUSSIA

Mission Aims to Foster Trade with Reds.

LE BOURGET, France, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Following an invitation by the soviet government to visit Moscow, three large tri-motored airplanes carrying Air Minister Pierre Cot and a group of 11 associates hopped off for Russia today to "sell" Franch commercial aviation to the soviets.

The planes, manned by crews totaling 14 men, will make an eight day visit to the soviet union.

The aerocade will be followed on Thursday by a nonstop flight from Paris to Moscow by Paul Codos and Marice Rossi in the Joseph Lebrix, the plane with which they recently established their new distance record from New York to Rayak, Syria.

Relations Grow Closer.

The visit of Air Minister Cot comes at a time when France is negotiating a new commercial agreement with Russia. Only the soviet government's approval of the preliminary terms, providing for an exchange of products between the two countries, is awaited.

Political relations between France and Russia were drawn closer last year by the signing of a non-aggression pact and the two countries have been seeking to place trade relations on a better basis. There have been several expressions of amity between France and Russia recently, including the cordial reception given former Premier Herriot on his unofficial visit to Moscow.

Planes of Latest Type.

The Cot squadron includes two latest models of commercial transport planes and a military machine, representing different manufacturers, which will be demonstrated to the Russians. One ship carries twelve men, another eight and the third six.

The flight is officially described as one of "courtesy and propaganda," intended to display French aviation progress, with Air Minister Cot, who recently became a licensed pilot, as a sort of super-demonstrator.

Refueling stops were scheduled for Strasbough, Prague, Lemberg, and Kiev on the way to Moscow. The round trip will cover about 3,850 miles, with a possible stop at Warsaw, Poland, on the return journey.

Lindbergh Defies Warnings; Stunts in "Unsafe" Plane

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 12.—Disregarding the warnings of the Swedish military air force, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today flew an airplane of a type which aviation students had been forbidden to use as unsafe. The Swedish air force has had several accidents with these planes and after the last disaster, in which two officers lost their lives, the army training school banned them. Lindbergh remained up in one of the planes for more than an hour, repeatedly sending the plane into a spin and pulling it out. He declared the machines were not to blame for the recent accidents.

TURKEY SIGNS 10 YEAR AMITY PACT WITH GREECE

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Premier Tsaladris of Greece and Premier Ismet Pasha of Turkey today signed a ten year Turko-Greek amity pact at Ankara, guaranteeing reciprocal frontier security against aggression, a common understanding before deciding on domestic and international questions and mutual representation at international conferences.

The pact, establishing an entente cordiale between the two nations, contained the following agreements:

1. Both nations guarantee reciprocal security for their common frontiers against a third party.
2. A common understanding before deciding all questions of interest to both countries and also international questions.
3. Each country may represent the other at international conferences.

Conversations between the two premiers further effected a decision to abolish within ten months the mixed commission for exchange of population by the two countries.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, Spain, Sept. 12.—The Spanish republic took a decided swing to the right today when Alejandro Lerroux, 69 year old leader of the Radical party, practically the most conservative party in the country, achieved the premiership for the first time after 40 years of political life. He received from President Alcala Zamora approval for his cabinet of 13 members.

Six members of the Radical party, which Lerroux founded in 1908, have portfolios. The important ministry of interior is in the hands of Diego Martinez Barrios, the party's most clever politician. Another Radical, José Rocha, occupies the war ministry, an important key position which former Premier Manuel Azana kept in his own hands from the day of the proclamation of the republic until today. Azana and his wife had lived in the ministry.

Ill feeling between the Redicals and the Socialists has not been improved by the naming of Ricardo Samper to the ministry of labor. Seven of the ministers represent former governmental and other parliamentary groups whose views are too conflicting to make it likely that the tail will wag the dog in this cabinet.

The political guile of Lerroux is seen in the fact that the ministers of agriculture and education, who must carry out the difficult job of putting agrárian reforms into operation and substituting educational facilities for 300,000 children now educated by monks and nuns, have been chosen from parties other than the Radical.

The Socialist left and monarchist right loom up equally menacing in the path of the new cabinet, which is likely to face serious difficulties in the cortés. Perhaps if the financiers, who tightened their purse strings as a protest against the Radical program of the last government, now reverse their process and business undergoes a minor boom, material prosperity will help the new cabinet out.

RUSSIA ORDERS DEATH PENALTY IN WAR ON GRAIN STOCK ROBBERS

MOSCOW, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Ivan Akulov, all-union prosecutor, today issued a decree threatening the death sentence for persons who rob state grain elevators and collection stations.

The decree was looked upon as indicative of the seriousness of reported widespread activity by grain thieves. It particularly was directed against railway agents and elevator employés guilty of collusive criminal schemes and it warned that the stern decree of August, 1932, providing the death sentence for the misuse of state property, now is mandatory throughout the soviet union.

Local prosecutors were ordered to complete their cases against accused persons in five days. The purpose is to provide quick examples in the hope that they will serve as a deterrent.

MICHIGAN JUDGES REQUEST DEATH FOR MURDERERS

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Legislation providing for capital punishment in cases of "unprovoked murder" was asked today in a resolution adopted unanimously by the Michigan Judges' association.

Judge Neil E. Reid of Mount Clemens, who on Saturday sentenced four confessed slayers of Joseph Nesbitt, Detroit business man, presented the resolution.

The legislature adopted a death penalty act in 1931, after having had no capital punishment law since territorial days. Foes of the act, however, and those who believed it faulty in legal structure, forced a referendum at which the measure was decisively beaten by popular vote.

Al Capone and J. P. Morgan were pictured as the outstanding enemies of the nation's present form of government in an address by Judge Edward J. Jeffries of Detroit. Treatment of the two "public malefactors" by the government has brought the government into contempt, he said, and "if value has anything to do with the enormity of the crime, then it would seem to me that Morgan's evasion of the law was like an ocean compared with Capone's dewdrop." He criticized "sycophancy and cringing of the national government toward this man Morgan."

INDICTED FOR SHOOTING.

Merrill J. Seymour, 39 years old, alias Robert Finch, a perfumery salesman, who shot and wounded his wife and attempted suicide at the Hotel Baker in St. Charles a month ago, was indicted yesterday by the Kane county grand jury on a charge of attempted murder.

INSULL STRIVES TO GET PAPERS IN CASE AGAINST HIM

Hires "Agents" to Learn Details of Indictment.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ATHENS, Greece, Sept. 12.—With several days' delay likely before the American authorities here present the documents supporting the request for extradition of Samuel Insull, fugitive Chicago utilities man, Insull's agents are making desperate efforts to obtain the extradition papers or copies of them.

So far Insull has been unable to pierce the government's wall of secrecy and his attorneys consequently are in ignorance of the details of the case against their client. The government is seeking Insull's extradition on charges of fraudulent bankruptcy.

Insull holds conferences with his attorneys each morning in his hospital prison. At night he has interviews with his other agents, at which schemes to get hold of the papers are discussed, it is understood.

Papers Carefully Guarded.

The job is difficult because most of the papers are locked in the American legation strong box. The others are carefully guarded by Forrest A. Harness, special assistant attorney general, and Gerhard Gade, second secretary of the legation, at the town of Serres, near Saloniki, where photostatic copies are being made by an American engineering company. The papers were taken there because the authorities feared if the work were done by an agency other than American, copies of the photostats might get into Insull's hands.

Last year copies of the Cook county indictment against Insull and other papers in the case were secured by Insull's American agents, so he had full knowledge of the brief against him weeks before the case came up.

Harness and Gade are not expected back from Serres until late this week. It is likely that the papers will not reach the Greek courts until some time next week. The opinion of some authorities tonight was that a decision on Insull's extradition is not likely to be forthcoming before the middle of October.

It is contended that it might be possible for Insull to obtain a postponement from the court in order to get further evidence for his defense.

PLUNGES 18 STORIES TO HIS DEATH FROM THE MATHER TOWER

John L. North, 55 years old, of the Glenn hotel, 4940 Winthrop avenue, plunged to his death yesterday from a 19th floor window of the Mather Tower building at 75 East Wacker drive. His body struck an automobile and fell to the ground in a parking lot beside the building.

The police learned that North, a widower, had been the western representative of North Brothers Shirt Manufacturing company of Baltimore, operated by his father, until the concern went out of business a year ago. Since that time North had worked as a shirt salesman. Friends said that he had been despondent over his financial condition.

James E. Flynn, clerk at the Glenn hotel, said that North stopped at the desk yesterday morning as he left the hotel and asked for an envelope. After some hesitation, Flynn said, North took his watch from his pocket, placed it in the envelope, and gave it to the clerk.

"Keep this for me, will you?" he asked Flynn. "My son, Roland, will call for it in a few days." The son, Roland North, 4061 Sheridan road, was notified of the death plunge by police.

INJURED IN FIGHT; DIES.

William Landry, 30 years old, colored, 4419 South Dearborn street, died yesterday in the county hospital of a fractured skull incurred in a fight with Walter Reynolds, 30 years old, 4358 South Dearborn street, another Negro.

DAYLIGHT SAVING PROPOSAL BEFORE ALDERMEN TODAY

The city council judiciary committee will hold a special meeting today, called by Ald. Frank J. Corr [17th], chairman, to consider the extension of the daylight saving period until the end of October, a step which has been requested by World's Fair officials. Unless the date is extended by action of the council at a special meeting or by a proclamation of Mayor Kelly pending the first regular council meeting on Oct. 4, Chicagoans will turn the clocks back on Sept. 24, the last Sunday of this month.

DIES AS RESULT OF FALL.

John Meserich, 58 years old, 7520 West Sixty-Second place, Summit, a laborer employed by the Eagle Lead company in Argo, died in the Holy Cross hospital last night of injuries incurred Sunday when he fell off a scaffold in the plant.

YOUTH ARRESTED ON RAPE CHARGE ESCAPES POLICE

Joseph Plachno, 15 years old, an automobile thief who escaped in July from the St. Charles School for Boys, and who was arrested Saturday in Evanston on charges of attempted rape and several minor crimes, escaped yesterday from two Evanston policemen who had taken him to his home at 1410 North Campbell avenue.

First arrested on charges of stealing a bicycle, the youth was identified by Miss Yvonne Evans, 6189 McClellan avenue, as the one who on Sept. 5 attempted to drag her to a prairie near her home and robbed her of her purse.

Sergts. Philip Reiman and Edward Bussean of the Evanston police took Plachno to his home yesterday to search it for stolen goods. As they were going up the rear stairs the youth broke away from them, vaulted a fence, and escaped. Sergt. Bussean, attempting to follow him over the fence, broke his ankle.

A sailing every Thursday from New York

Every Thursday a President Liner sails from New York by way of Havana and the Panama Canal to California, thence to the Orient and Round the World.

There is no other service like this anywhere. It permits you to stopover when and where you please, make interesting sidetrips, and continue on the next or another President Liner. The minimum time by President Liner is 110 days. But you can extend this to the full limit of your ticket—two years!

Staterooms? Every President Liner stateroom is outside and high midship, with deep-springed beds, not berths.

Meals? Ask anyone who has ever sailed on a President Liner. Fresh fruit and fresh vegetables are carried throughout the voyage.

Fun? No one ever had a dull time on these ships. Deck games, dancing, swimming in the outdoor pool, talking movies under the stars. And best of all, the stimulating company of world travelers.

If I Were A Great National Advertiser

If I were a great national advertiser, in the midst of momentous and encouraging times, I should look for the most enduring and most effective bond between me and the people who buy my products.

My search would end in the knowledge that the love of good stories is the common meeting place of all intelligent minds.

Literature—which is tomorrow's opinion of today's great stories—continues to be written, I am sure. Whether we recognize it or not, we are reading it—even though we know it simply as the best fiction.

For fiction, generally speaking, supplies most literature, because fiction more than all other writing is based on emotion and emotion moves mountains because it moves men and women.

So to find the people who can be moved to buy my products I should see where they read the best fiction.

Naturally I would look at the magazines wherein a mature authorship is presented to an adult readership. I would start with Cosmopolitan.

I would be interested in its background. I would know that Mark Twain, Rudyard Kipling, H. G. Wells, John Galsworthy, O. Henry, F. Marion Crawford, David Graham Phillips, Owen Wister, Jack London and Arnold Bennett wrote some of their finest stories for Cosmopolitan.

But I should be much more interested in its present authors. I should note that while Cosmopolitan properly gives more space to the established literary values of Pearl Buck, Louis Bromfield, Edna Ferber, Somerset Maugham, Fannie Hurst, Joseph Hergesheimer, Ellen Glasgow, Ernest Hemingway, Dorothy Parker, Katherine Brush, Mary Roberts Rinehart, Kathleen Norris, and Rafael Sabatini, it is notably receptive to new writers whose work has distinction.

While I should note the authority and conviction of its articles, I should watch particularly the vitality and strength of its novels and short stories. I should see how they stimulate those fundamental emotions that are the mainspring of human action. I should estimate this emotional appeal in terms of a new car, or new clothes, or a new refrigerator, or a trip to new places.

Only then would I look for more factual values. I would look at Cosmopolitan as it was recently printed in a limited edition in the ordinary type and paper size of the familiar novel. I would marvel that this volume of 463 pages (exclusive of the advertisements or the illustrations) could be made to sell for 25c.

And then I would realize that literature is not a matter of the way in which great fiction is printed but in the way it is written.

So I should make full use of the literature of my time to carry my message to the intelligent people of my time—and I could find no sounder way, I am convinced, than by advertising in Cosmopolitan.

For the men and women who respond to Cosmopolitan's literary values are bound to respond to its advertising values. For they in truth do make Cosmopolitan the class magazine with more than one and one half million circulation.

A Two-Part Story by Kathleen Norris

WARWICK DEEPING

In October Cosmopolitan, now on sale, begins this great story. Critical judgment has repeatedly confirmed Deeping's literary importance. This story of post-war life will be welcomed by the hundreds of thousands of people who appreciated "Sorrell and Son." We think it is greater than that great novel—more sure of permanent literary rank.

Seven Men Came Back

Illustrated by the famous painter DEAN CORNWELL

SOMERSET MAUGHAM

the master tale teller, whose short stories have won him the title of "The English de Maupassant," begins a new series of absorbing stories in October Cosmopolitan, now on the newsstands. In "The Three Fat Women of Antibes" he writes, with genial humor, of the tragi-comedy of dieting to reduce. You will find it an absorbing tale, full of human drama.

The Three Fat Women of Antibes

Everyone along the Riviera knew them—
ARROW—fair, fat and forty, but who still had hopes—
BEATRICE—comfortably widowed, who liked her food too well—
FRANCES—called Frank, the fattest of the three who didn't care—
But everyone didn't know how close to tragedy those

IOWA LAW DEAN QUERIES: WHAT PRICE RECOVERY?

Sees Act as a Danger to Constitution.

Quoting gravely from "Lest We Forget," Dean Eugene A. Gilmore of the University of Iowa law school, former vice governor general of the Philippines, raised the question yesterday as to whether the national recovery program is not overlooking basic principles for which the founders of this nation stood firmly and uncompromisingly.

He was the speaker at a luncheon in the ballroom of the Hotel Sherman sponsored jointly by the Rotary club of Chicago and the Constitution Educational association as the opening feature of the observance of Constitution week. His subject was "What Price Recovery?" and he answered his own question with another of whether the price may not be too high.

Recalls Lincoln's Course.

Beyond this he did not go, but he made his point by recalling that Abraham Lincoln "refused to pay the price" of peace when that price was the dissolution of the Union. In general, he spoke of the present federal processes as a surgical operation or series of operations about the result of which some doubt must exist.

"Let us hope," he said just before closing, "that we are not bartering principle for a temporary result."

Dean Gilmore compared the attitude of the national recovery administration to that of the church in the middle ages when excommunication was practiced against the unsubservient.

"Those who do not see the light," he said, "and do not come under the talons of the Blue Eagle, or, having come under it, violate the rules, will meet economic death—a species of excommunication, as it were."

He said that he read recently of a governor who was quoted as saying no judge would dare knock out laws passed to meet the emergency.

"A sort of judicial ex-communication," he suggested.

Confusion Over Program.

The speaker commented on the confusion exisiting in the mind of the man on the street because so many "experts" are purporting to describe the program and at the same time asserting that nothing fundamental is being done.

"Equally confusing," he said, "and more distressing is the apparent challenge to the existing legal order and to the political philosophy embodied in our constitutional system. Men are seriously discussing whether the constitution is passing, are wondering whether we are to have a new constitution."

He exressed a similar thought after discussing at length the essential priciple of the division of government into the executive, legislative, and judicial branches, speaking of the intrusion of one branch upon another.

Beyond Power of Congress.

"The question in the minds of many," he said, "is whether nullification is not the price of recovery."

He also said that lawmaking and rule making cannot overcome the differences between individuals.

"Rugged individualism," he put it, "represents a biological problem that is beyond the power of congress or any code to modify."

The dean decried what he sees as a tendency of the states to look for more and more federal aid. He compared the "great myth" of Uncle Sam to the Indian belief in the "Great White Father" in Washington.

"It has been said that an expert i just an ordinary man far from home," he continued, "and Washington is just the state government far from home."

About 100 members of the Rotary club of Madison, Wis., joined with the Chicagoans in the luncheon.

11 Firemen Are Overcome Fighting Army of Crickets

Lynn, Mass., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Three companies of firemen battled an army of crickets with poison powder today but gave up with 11 firemn overcome, the others in retreat—and the crickets chirping merrily on. The pests have taken possession of a large dumping ground. For more than a week they have withstood attacks from fire, water, and oil. Today's powder barrage only added to the city officials' difficulties. It seems the poison brought out roaches and rats which hitherto had not figured in the combat.

MURDER MYSTERY SOLVED; FATHER OF 10 CONFESSES

Charges Victim Poisoned Family; Accused by Son.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Wausau, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Unsolved for ten months, the murder of Paul Shepanik, 50, Mosinee, Wis., paper mill employé, who was shot to death as he was about to enter the yard of a paper mill for night duty on Nov. 16 last by a "passing motorist," was cleared up here today when Walter Patz, 50, farmer near here, pleaded guilty to a murder charge in County court before Judge G. J. Leicht, who bound him over to Circuit court without bail.

Patz previously had accused Shepanik of poisoning him, his wife and their ten children by polluting drinking water on his farm in July, 1931, and immediately after the shooting he was arrested on suspicion.

After two days of questioning he was released.

Son Accuses Father.

Patz, who was being held in the Marathon jail on a charge of assault and battery upon his wife, was to have been arraigned in County court this afternoon on this charge. His son, Joseph, 21, was called in by District Attorney O. L. Ringle and questioned in regard to the family troubles and also quizzed him about the murder.

Joseph willingly confessed details of the murder, the district attorney said, pointing the finger of guilt at his father whom he drove from their farm to scene of the shooting.

The father said he "was justified in killing Shepanik because he poisoned our family." Although accused by Patz, Shepanik never was arrested in connection with the poisoning. When Patz and eight of his children were released from the hospital, after their confinement for nearly a year, the father sought Shepanik's arrest by interviewing a former Marathon county district attorney and former Gov. Phil LaFollette, but without success, he said. Patz furthered his cause by writing government officials in Washington, he told officers. The slaying was considered for months to go down as "unsolved" and it was the only murder in Marathon county to be unsolved until the admission today.

Claims He Mistreated Daughter.

Barney Patz, 20, died from effects of poisoning in Marathon county hospital two weeks after he and others were affected.

Patz and Shepanik had been at odds for more than a year prior to the poisoning. Patz, who roomed at the Shepanik home one winter while both worked in the paper mills, claimed he caught Shepanik mistreating one of his daughters. Although Patz never told of the incident, he said, the feud between them began them. Patz said Shepanik threatened his life to fellow workers.

HELD UP BY GUNMAN.

George Weinberg, 2441 Blaine place, was robbed $15, a watch valued at $50, and his automobile by a gunman who held him up in front of 1242 North Kedzie avenue early yesterday.

$20,000 IN CHECKS STOLEN FROM FAIR VISITORS

More than $20,000 in express money orders has been stolen by pickpockets from World's Fair visitors since the Exposition opened. This was revealed yesterday by L. C. Eldridge, a special agent for the Railway Express agency, who appeared as a prosecuting witness in the Felony court against Bert G. Burley, 42 years old, 1723 East 53d street.

Burley was held to the grand jury by Judge Thomas A. Green in bond of $3,000 on a charge of operating a confidence game. He was arrested after he had passed $100 worth of stolen express orders on a loop restaurant owner. Burley said that he did not know the orders had been stolen and told police that he had been given the checks by Joe Martini, said by police to be a well known pickpocket.

"Nearly every visitor who comes to Chicago to the Fair purchases express money orders or travelers' checks," Eldridge told the court. "Then some one shoves them in a crowd and their checks are gone. The pickpocket sells the checks to clever forgers and they are cashed. There were 234 complaints of this kind in July. There has been a decrease in losses since the drive on these thieves began, and if we can get the coöperation of the police and judges we expect to clean up the city completely."

10 Men Rob Bank; Kidnap, Then Release an Employe

Farrell, Pa., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Ten men, armed with sawed-off shotguns and revolvers, robbed the S. J. Gully bank of $20,000 today, kidnaped Carl Wild, 21, an employé, and fled across the state line to Ohio in two cars. At Youngstown they released Wild, unharmed.

SEIZE PAROLED CONVICT AFTER GIRL ACCUSES HIM

Theodore Economakos, 40 years old, a paroled convict and part owner of a restaurant at 1177 South State street, was arrested yesterday and charged with pandering and violation of parole. His arrest followed charges made to the police by Miss Margarette La Gette, 28 years old of Jacksonville, Fla., who accused him of holding her a prisoner for a year, forcing her into vice, and frequently beating her with a razor strop.

The young woman, a tall brunette, told her story to the State street police after she had been examined by Police Matron Mary Sullivan, who found her body covered with bruises. Miss La Gette said she had been a nurse in her home city before coming here a year ago seeking work.

"I met Economakos in a cafe near the bus station soon after I arrived here to look for work," Miss La Gette told the police. "He offered to give me a job as waitress in his restaurant, which I accepted, although no salary was specified.

"I had been working only a few weeks when he took me to a room on the second floor above the restaurant and immediately flayed me with a razor strop. He forced me to work without pay as a waitress and continued the beatings, sometimes with his fists, to make sure I would not escape. I knew the Central police station was only a few doors away from the room where I was held prisoner, but I was afraid he'd kill me if I ran away.

"Esconomakos solicited youths who ate in his restaurant. He made me give him all the money. I turned over more than $600 to him in this manner. Three weeks ago I was in bed for four days as a result of the beatings."

Police records show that Economakos was sentenced to the penitentiary for 1 to 10 years in 1929 for burglary and receiving stolen property. He was paroled after one and a half years.

Miss La Gette will be held until she makes a statement to the Board of Pardons and Paroles and then returned to her home. Economakos will be tried on the girl's charges and he also faces the prospect of completing his prison term for burglary.

ILLINOIS TO HAVE 26 CONSERVATION WINTER CAMPS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Twenty-six civilian conservation corps camps in Illinois state parks, which are to be continued in operation through the winter, were announced today by Robert Fechner, director of emergency conservation work.

Fifteen of the Illinois camps, it was said, are already in existence, while eleven are new. Mr. Fechner said additional winter camps for Illinois are expected to be named shortly. At the same time the conservation head published names of eight winter camps in Michigan, five in Wisconsin, and six in Indiana.

The Illinois camps already established, in which work is to continue during the cold months, are:

CONVICTS PLACE KIDNAPING 6TH ON CRIME LIST

Prisoners in the Joliet penitentiary regard kidnaping more seriously than do school teachers. This variance of opinion was made public yesterday by Ray Mars Simpson of the state department of public welfare in a talk at the American Psychological association meeting, held at the University of Chicago.

At the prison, he said, 200 convicts rated kidnaping the sixth most serious crime, while 272 Gary and Joliet teachers ranked it ninth. The prisoners put burglary eighth in their votes and the teachers made it twenty-second.

Prisoners and college students, Mr. Simpson said, agreed closely in their analyses of crime importance, in general stressing those of men against men, while biblical morality gives greater importance to crimes of men against God.

'TORCH WIDOW' ORDERED HELD TO GRAND JURY

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Earl Hanson was held to the October grand jury today for the murder of her husband, found dead in his flaming automobile last Aug. 13.

Justice John R. Snively rejected the defense motion for dismissal on the ground that the evidence did not show a crime had been committed. Mrs. Hanson exhibited no emotion as she heard witnesses describe the burns her husband suffered.

Senator Beique, President of Montreal Bank, Dies

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 12.—Senator Frederick Ligori Beique, president of La Banque Canadienne Nationale, officer of the Legion of Honor of the French Republic, and one of Quebec's leading French-Canadian lawyers and industrialists, died today. He was 88 years old.

MELT AWAY
Your Stomach Fats
And You'll Feel Like a Billion Dollars
Sleepless nights, dog-tired days, headaches, pains in all parts of the body—indigestion—gas. Do you suffer from one or all? No medicine has helped.
No wonder, for you, like thousands of others have probably been treating yourself for everything but the right thing. If your digestive juice doesn't flow freely, then your food sours, putrifies, stomach becomes filled with gas and acidity.
From the world's greatest chemists comes a simple, pleasant means to make this digestive juice flow freely, and put you on the sunny side of life—Magnesia Oxoids, little white tablets that release pure oxygen.
Take two Oxoids after each meal—and before retiring—drink plenty of water—put your digestive juices to work—and you'll jump out of your skin for joy. Such new health! Such robust vigor! Get Magnesia Oxoids today from your druggist.

KIWANIANS HOLD CONVENTION BALL AT MOOSEHEART

Delegates to the sixteenth annual convention of the Illinois-Eastern Iowa Kiwanis convention in Aurora wound up the day's program last night by attending the annual governor's ball and banquet at Mooseheart.

Today's business will include the election of the district governor and the adoption of a resolution pledging 100 per cent Kiwanis support to the national recovery program.

Yesterday's program included a greeting from Mayor C. M. Bjorseth of Aurora, and memorial services for Horace McDavid, a former international president, who died in December on Monday. At one of the sessions, Dr. Thomas Carter of Waukegan, cited an example of how Kiwanis is helping underprivileged children. The example was Julian Stripe, a cripple, who was aided in a vocal career by the Waukegan Kiwanis, and who won a tenor contest in the recent Chicagoland Music festival sponsored by THE TRIBUNE.

Miss Andrea Marsh, 18 years old, 5528 Hyde Park boulevard, an entertainer with a loop orchestra, was injured early yesterday when the automobile in which she was riding struck the rear of a bus at 35th street and Cottage Grove avenue. Miss Marsh, who suffered a broken arm, was taken to the Michael Reese hospital. Truman Bradley, 28 years old, 1250 Stone street, a radio announcer, who was driving the car, was slightly injured.

There were no automobile fatalities yesterday in Cook county and the toll for the year remained at 724.

Joseph Skvorek, 42 years old, of Hammond, was killed yesterday in an automobile collision there.

George Packard, 47 years old, 1619 Ridge avenue, Evanston, was killed Monday night when an automobile he was driving overturned near Venedocia, O.

N. Y. Girl's Engagement to Prosecutor Broken

Announcement was made yesterday in New York that the engagement of Miss Sylvia Beinecke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Beinecke of the Plaza hotel, to Thomas Dodd Healy of Chicago has been broken. Mr. Healy, who is the son of Mrs. Thomas J. Healy of 5039 Ellis avenue, is a former assistant United States district attorney and is now on the staff of State's Attorney Courtney. Miss Beinecke, whose betrothal was made known last March at a dinner dance in the Central Park casino given by her parents, came to Chicago in May for a visit to her fiancé's home, and the wedding date had been set for the early fall. Mr. Healy said last night that he had no comment to make, "except that we just decided not to get married."

TAG DAY DRIVE TOTAL WILL BE TOLD TOMORROW

The total of receipts of the tag day last Monday will not be known until tomorrow, Miss L. Ellen Babcock, president of the Chicago Federated Charities, reported yesterday. Employés of the First National bank are tabulating the funds in their spare time, she explained, their services being provided free. The total revenue will be somewhat less than usual, it is expected, owing to the rain which halted the tagging for a time.

No date has yet been set, Miss Babcock said, for a conference of the heads of the 47 institutions benefiting from the tag day to decide upon the method of dividing the returns. All but three of the participating institutions were satisfied with the locations assigned their taggers and want the proceeds turned in by their own groups, but a meeting will be held later with Mrs. Elizabeth A. Conkey, commissioner of public welfare, to satisfy the three groups who held that they had been discriminated against in the assignments of corners for their taggers.

PRINCE OF WALES TO BE INVITED TO LEGION RALLY

Milton J. Foreman, chairman of the distinguished guests' committee for the American Legion convention here the first week in October, has sailed from New York on the steamship Paris, carrying invitations to the prince of Wales, President Le Brun of France, and many other European notables to be the guests of the Legion at its convention.

President Roosevelt has already signified his intention to attend and is scheduled to address the veterans at their opening session. Guglielmo Marconi will be present as the official representative of Italy. He will display his recent inventions in short wave radio to army officials.

Hanford McNider, past national commander of the Legion and former minister to Canada, will arrive by plane today to address 1,200 Legionnaires and guests attending the inauguration of Edward F. McGinnis as commander of the Cook county council of the Legion at the Medinah Michigan club.

Hilarity Stirs Both Thoughts and Laughter

"Mandoa, Mandoa" Is Cheered by Book Critic.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"Mandoa, Mandoa," by Winifred Holtby. [Macmillan.] Published yesterday.

As much of a find as Mandoa was to Prince's Limited will Winifred Holtby's novel be for the jaded novel reader. Prince's Ltd. (you will soon discover in its pages) is the greatest international travel bureau in the world, and its head, Sir Joseph Prince, is a bouncing boy in the late seventies, always out for unexplored and unpromoted Edens where school teachers and widows can find romance. He BELIEVES in travel and his creed has lined Prince's walls with gold.

WINIFRED HOLTBY.

When, through the chance capture by a hostile tribe of a moving picture company on location in Africa, Mandoa feels for the first time the pulse of modernity not only does Mandoa go "civilized" but Prince's has one more bead to add to its rosary of travel. "Mandoa, Mandoa" is the story of both of those acquisitions, "civilization" by Mandoa and Mandoa by Prince's.

Nothing Commonplace in Story.

But there is nothing commonplace about that story—not as Miss Holtby tells it. She has that rich, subtle satire that English women writers of a certain type seem to have a special corner on—Rose Macaulay, Rebecca West—a satire that plunges a scalpel into any phase of life—political, social, economic—and with the turn of the knife exposes to the reader not only the irony of life but his own bumptiousness.

It is extremely good for a reader to have his thought processes stimulated, and when, as in "Mandoa, Mandoa," the stimulation is administered in the delectable form of a novel of adventure and excitement, intelligent readers cry for such castigation the way a baby cries for a lighted match.

Miss Holtby has written an amusing satire on (a) savagery, (b) civilization. Her savage hero is a gentleman who yearns for movies, bathtubs, radios, airplanes and pants, but he wants to keep his savage comforts, including dirt, slaves, and wives (in the plural). Her civilized heroes yearn for the joys of savage adventure, the conversion of the simple folk (any simple folk . . . just to be converting) into trade, but they want to be safe, sound and dress for dinner during the process.

Hero Sees Laughs in Both.

The outstanding civilized hero of the book is a ne'er-do-well who has a way with the savages because he, strangely enough, understands just when the laughing point in both the contentions has been reached. He can see his own vaunted kultur as ridiculous in the eyes of Safi Talal as Safi Talal himself sees it.

Part of the book is just plain hilarious. The attempt of Safi Talal to civilize his country takes forms so logical and yet so utterly incongruous that it would take a man with his mouth sewed up not to burst into occasional guffaws. One slip on the author's part and the whole Mandoa scene would be pure farce. She never makes that slip, however. "Mandoa, Mandoa" is no burlesque, although it is so near to being one that only high art keeps it from being.

Foolery becomes a high art in Miss Holtby's pen. And that is because it is the foolery of skilled irony. The solemness of the young Durrant elected to parliament that he may be a help to Prince's is almost as funny as the solemnness of Safi Talal.

"Mandoa, Mandoa" is, I believe, Miss Holtby's first novel. She is, however, well known in England as a magazine editor and writer. She belongs to that group of brilliant Englishwomen who think no more of piecing together an international reputation for their work than our grandmothers thought of piecing together a quilt—skill and a flair for design and ingenuity, and there's a work of art!

Of its kind—and it is a rare variety of novel, this satiric, vivified picture of life, civilized opposed to savage—"Mandoa, Mandoa" is a gusher in the too often dry oil fields of literature.

Tells Story of Fur Trade.

Also published yesterday is "Beaver, Kings and Cabins," by Constance Lindsay Skinner [Macmillan], which is factual savagery versus civilization—the romantic record of the American fur trade from the early French cod fishers on the Banks, who erected fur trading posts in Quebec, to the English colonial traders in the Indian towns on the Mississippi and the arctic posts of today.

Swedish Author Visits Chicago.

Mme. Anna Lenah Elgstroom of Stockholm, the foremost woman critic of Sweden, a novelist, short story writer, publicist of renown, has returned to Chicago [after a short visit a few weeks ago], and last night she lectured before the American Daughters of Sweden on "Modern Swedish Literature." Mme. Elgstroom is the holder of the American-Scandinavian Foundation stipend for 1933, and her especial task in America is to gather material for a book about modern American literature to be used in Swedish schools.

Author to Autograph War Volume.

Tomorrow and Saturday between 2 and 3:30 p. m. Leslie Langille, author of "Men of the Rainbow," will be in the book section of Marshall Field & Company to autograph copies of his stirring record of the Rainbow division in the great war.

Good Morning!

Tell me, Engineers, Einsteins and Able Seamen, is it within the realm of practicality to anchor an airdrome in midocean?

Not that it matters—in so far as this movie is concerned. For "F. P. 1" [Floating Platform—One] is different and entertaining melodrama; vastly intriguing because of its new plot idea. It has a Jules Verne savor—which makes you think again; because "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea" is, in this day of submarines, no longer the fantastic tale it once appeared to be. Who knows—or who doesn't know—but that, one day, the oceans will be peppered with convenient landing places for trans-Atlantic airships?

The story unreeling over at the World Playhouse tells of a young inventor, Captain Droste, whose plans for a mid-Atlantic sea base have been accorded no attention from the owners of the shipping concern in whose drafting department he's employed.

Major Ellissen, famous aviator and Droste's buddy of world war days, perpetrates a highly sensational and original scheme for bringing the "F. P. 1" drawings to the notice of the father and son who own the business. The ocean airport gets under way.

Dirty work on the part of some of the sort of men who always buck progress, and the love that Droste and Ellissen both come to feel for the same girl—Claire, the shipping magnate's daughter—brings about cataclysmic events.

For a while things look mighty black for "F. P. 1," and all whose interests are tied up in it. But only for a while. . . .

Excellent acting is contributed by Conrad Veidt, Leslie Fenton and Jill Esmond. The first presents an arresting character study as Ellissen, eccentric soldier of fortune. The men [names unknown] who play the shipping heads are a pair of stuffed shirts but they aren't around much. Several small rôles are notably handled and mass effects are generally good. Photography, direction and sound pass muster. Dialogue is unremarkable.

Believe in "F. P. 1" or not—here's a piece that gives evidence of brain and imagination behind its writing.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

The complimentary adjectives that will be used to describe Mardo Pattou's looks when she is older would be just as fitting now but it hardly would be appropriate to apply them to a young lady quite so young, for this daughter of the Albert Brace Pattous is only twelve. It will be at least another year before she even goes away to school and it will be six or seven before she is a debutante. Like most of her friends who have spent this summer at home in Lake Forest she has spent most of her time swimming and playing tennis.

Fall Wraps Are Discarded as Sun Shines on Onwentsia Tennis Fans

BY INDIA MOFFETT.

THE tennis court on which Australian and American stars played such magnificent tennis yesterday afternoon at the Onwentsia club didn't have to prove that it was, as advertised, a waterproof court, for the dark, overcast morning developed into a perfect afternoon, warm and sunny.

In fact, it was much too warm and sunny for those who had gone to Lake Forest from the city dressed in warm woolens. The only comfortable looking ones in the large audience which filled the grandstands and overflowed into the one and only tree that shades part of the reserved seat stands were those who lived near enough to the club to have dressed at noon in summer clothes.

Wraps were discarded, but how is one to take off a turtle neck sweater or a high collared woolen dress, smart, but decidedly too warm for such an afternoon as yesterday turned out to be? It just cannot be done and consequently many of our socialites sat and wilted and sympathized with the players, who, of course, were dripping with perspiration a few minutes after they started playing.

It was a gala occasion and there was cause for the satisfied smile the popular "Chuck" Garland was wearing, for he was in the main responsible for the matches being played here. The fact that he was comfortable in white linen may have added to his enjoyment of the afternoon, to be sure. With him were Mrs. Garland—she was all in white, too—Mrs. Wirth S. Dunham and her daughter, Miss Jane Dunham, who had motored over from Wayne for the matches, and some of the players.

Miss Jean Schweppe Hostess to Players.

Near by in another box sat Miss Jean Schweppe, who, with her cousin, Miss Mary Reed, had planned the entertainment for the tennis stars, with Frank Shields of New York and Lester Stoefen of California, two of the stars, and Mrs. Shields. Adjoining the Schweppe box was the Reed one in which Miss Reed was hostess to Miss Jean Wilhelm and Joseph C. Belden Jr.

When Miss Schweppe wears a small hat one decides that she never should wear anything else, but when she appears in a large one like the one she wore yesterday one changes her mind and is certain that nothing could be more becoming to this attractive young lady than a broad brimmed hat. She is so vivacious and has such a piquant beauty that it is no wonder she is one of the most popular young women in Lake Forest.

Miss Reed, too, is lovely, more quiet and much fairer in coloring, and yesterday she was looking particularly smart in a soft pink coat and a narrow brimmed white hat. Mrs. Shields, a fragile, willowy blonde, was wearing a huge white hat and a polo coat. One of the most admired young women was a tiny little blonde who looked exactly like a French doll and who intrigued all the reporters, none of whom knew her. This wasn't strange, for the season is much too young for all the debutantes to have become known by sight even to society reporters, but the unknown beauty turned out to be Miss Margaret Taylor of Pittsburgh, the house guest of Miss Josephine Templeton, who made her formal bow to society last Saturday.

Wears Rich Gray Woolen Frock.

Miss Taylor was wearing a rich gray woolen frock, buttoned with red buttons tight up to her chin, and a tiny gray jockey cap. Miss Templeton, too, was unusually chic in a brown knitted outfit, tied under her chin with a brown bow, and a tiny brown hat. Mary Elizabeth Reid's wee cap of flower petals was most effective and she looked like a whole bouquet of garden flowers, for she was wearing a flower printed frock also. Miss Fleury Leonard, who always is hatless, and whose long, blond, wavy hair makes her one of the most noticeable persons wherever she is, was smart in a brown high necked gown, over which she wore for part of the afternoon a lemon yellow tweed coat with a huge fox collar. With her was her sister, Hope, and near them was sitting Mrs. Frederic McLaughlin.

Miss Marjorie Goodman was one of those who had anticipated a cold afternoon, so she had with her when she arrived a heavy tweed coat with a beaver collar. Her younger sister, Kay, was in the same party, smart in school girl togs consisting of a blue skirt and cardigan and a blue, red, and white horizontally striped sweater. Twin sweaters were worn by dozens of the best dressed women, some with matching skirts and others with contrasting ones.

Mrs. John L. Cochran was one of those who had chosen a contrasting skirt and hers was of yellow and brown checks, chic with a yellow cardigan and sweater. Mrs. S. Louis Reinhardt, the former Elaine Rosenthal, also wore yellow "twins" and with them a yellow skirt and hat. Miss Lydia Swift was stunning in a brown felt hat, brown tweed suit, and brilliant green turtle necked sweater. Mrs. Howard Linn looked as if she had just come from the Rue de La Paix in a black high necked frock and

THIS week's nominee for the Hall of Transitory Fame is William Comstock, governor of Michigan, because of a display of poise under difficult circumstances. Some friends who were with him on a hunting trip in Canada tell the tale.

Poise—
Wild Life—
Re-birth—
Tattooing.

Mr. Comstock was tired out after the first day's hunting, and declining dinner, was boosted by his friends into his second-tier bunk. Soon after he had retired, one of his fellow campers brought in a buck he had shot, and, by way of playing a joke on Mr. Comstock, hoisted it up to his bunk, where it lay, its antlered head on the pillow beside him. Then his companions sat down to play cards, thinking he would wake up during the night. It happened that the fatigued Mr. Comstock slept until morning. Then they heard him stir and waited to see what would happen. There was a moment's silence followed by Mr. Comstock's voice saying:

"O, hello, deer."

THE shooting season is on and our heart sinks as friends gleefully plan shooting trips. We recall a recent magazine article in which wild life researchers conclude that one duck is lost for each one bagged. The chief blame is laid on hunters' laziness in looking for wounded birds and their tendency to try overlong shots. A 50 yard range limit is recommended and more use of dogs as retrievers.

Animal lovers are not so much concerned with creatures that meet swift and merciful death. It is the maiming and injuring of birds and wild creatures they would like to prevent; creatures that slowly bleed to death, or that die of hunger or thirst because they are too badly hurt to go in search of food and water. Probably nobody contemplates the picture with pleasure, even those who kill for sport, but a little more punctiliousness on the part of hunters would cut down the number of wounded animals left to die.

She is in evening dress, and on her right arm is tattooed "Clark Gable." On the other arm, however, there is a kind of blue smudge where formerly "Jack Gilbert" had been tattooed.

WHICH brings to mind the story of the girl who a year or two appeared about the town with various young bloods, and then got engaged to a minor Hollywood actor. A few days before the marriage she was seen to be limping. It seems she had had her former husband's initials tattooed on her hip and thought it more tactful to have them removed before her second marriage.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Aileen Pringle, movie actress, instituted divorce proceedings today against Charles M. Pringle, a prominent planter.

"I got a divorce in Mexico last April," Miss Pringle said in Los Angeles a couple of months ago, "and then was notified by my husband, or ex-husband, whichever the case may be, that he had to have a divorce in Jamaica before he could be free to marry there."

Eugenia Bankhead to Wed Scotchman; Will Be Her 7th Marriage

LONDON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The engagement of Eugenia Bankhead, sister of the film actress, Tallulah Bankhead, and Kennedy McConnell, son of a retired Scottish coal magnate, was announced today. It will be her seventh wedding ceremony.

The date for the wedding has not been set, said McConnell, explaining that his fiancée intends to visit her sister, who is in the United States recovering from an illness.

"Maybe we'll be married in the United States or England," he added.

"The first time I met Mr. McConnell was about five years ago," she said. "We met again this summer. I have been married six times, three times to Morton Hoyt, a Washington millionaire. We were last divorced in 1929; we were first married 13 years ago when we were both under 20."

McConnell, who is 28, is the son of James Irvine McConnell, and lives in Milford, Surrey.

BLOOD MONEY

By IRVIN S. COBB.

SYNOPSIS.

Uncas Cresap and his Chinese servant are found dead in the upper room of Cresap's boathouse on Kettle pond, near the eastern end of Long Island. Gilbert Jonathan Redd, Cresap's stepbrother, keeps a written private account of developments in the case. A blow on the forehead from a slender, sharp edged implement killed Cresap. The cause of the Chinaman's death is not apparent. Capt. Bray, a special investigator, is an old friend of Redd's. Redd is a former police reporter. Florence Dane, Cresap's niece and an orphan, lived with him. Redd was fond of Florence's mother. He bought a home near Cresap's in order to protect Florence. Cresap made his fortune in the far east. Redd freely admits to Bray his hatred of Cresap, who was a drunkard and a debauchee. There seemed to be some secret bond between Cresap and his servants, the Chinaman and a dwarf, Sabino. Bray finds a new will, disinheriting Florence. As it is unsigned the old will stands. Cresap disapproved of Florence's moneyless sweetheart, Gregory Thorpe. Thorpe disappears. He is found in a hospital, victim of a hitch-hiker, before Cresap's death, which exonerates him. Florence takes a room in the hospital. Bray plans to interview Hilda, Florence's maid.

INSTALLMENT XXXIII.

A DOG'S BURIAL.

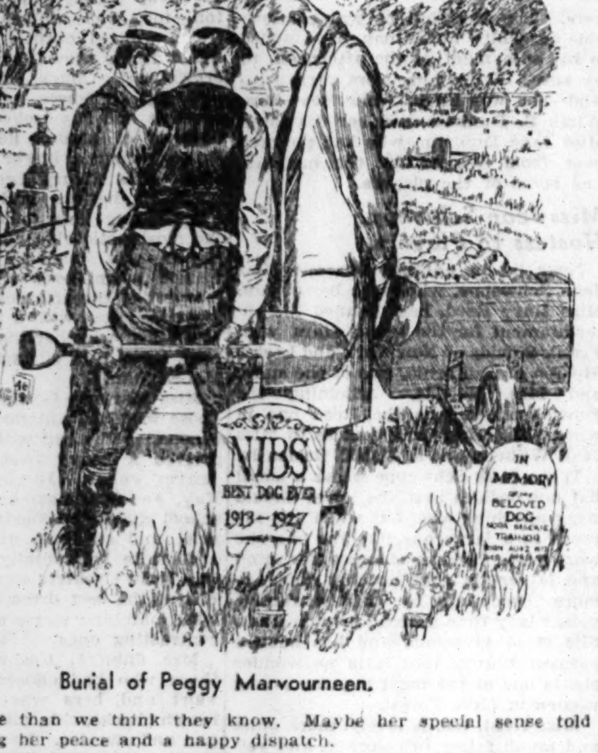
Saturday night.

If Hilda really dreaded the prospect of being grilled by Bray this afternoon, then probably her peace of mind has been restored. The ordeal has been postponed. For this reprieve a careless motorist, name unknown, is unintentionally responsible.

Down in Hither Hills state park this anonymous savior drove headlong into Capt. Bray's car, as Capt. Bray about 1 o'clock was tooling back from the point, and then drove away leaving the victim lying in the wreck of his rig, with a sprained ankle and a dislocated shoulder—to list his principal injuries, as retailed on to me. Some good Smaritan picked him up and, since he was in considerable pain, carried him straight on through here to Stacy's private infirmary at Watermill, just this side of Southampton, where he now is and where he is likely to remain for several days at least—a very impatient patient indeed, so I am reliably informed.

I think, in the morning on our way up the island to inter old Peggy, that I shall drop in at the sanitarium to commiserate with the shut-in. About dusk tonight I finished her. Putting it off, I figured, only would make it harder for me, so I summoned my resolution and went and did the job alone, since tenderhearted Abe absolutely refused to have a hand in the task or even to be present while it was performed.

Poor faithful old girl—she lapped out her tongue and languidly licked my hands while I was adjusting the chloroform cone over her nose. Maybe dogs know more than we think they know. Maybe her special sense told her I was giving her peace and a happy dispatch.



Burial of Peggy Marvourneen.

Anyhow, it's all done and over with—all except the funeral. Peg's soul has gone where the souls of all good dogs go, and her body, snugly coffined in its fine casket smelling of clean white pine that Abe carpentered for her, is lying on the floor of our little workshop store room out by the kennels. And since they say the better the day the better the dead, on tomorrow she shall have a proper funeral up there at Westbury, with Abe and I officiating as the chief mourners and the active pallbearers.

It's nearly midnight. I'm going to bed.

Sunday, October 23, 4 p. m.

I changed my mind about stopping to see Bray on the west bound run to Westbury this forenoon. Abe and I got away about 10 o'clock, with the boxed carcass behind us in the back of my second-hand station wagon and once started, we drove straight through to the graveyard. But on the way back, I halted at the infirmary in Watermill. Bray's shoulder wasn't dislocated, he told me, but badly wrenched. He said if it turned out that his ankle joint was only strained and not actually sprained, he hoped to be hobbling out of there within forty-eight hours, but added disconsolately that the doctors were threatening to keep him cooped up for at least a week longer.

"'Twould never do, Gilly," he went on, "for me to be tied down here when the case is due to take a critical turn any minute. From the old days, you yourself should be the one to remember that more times than not, just when a snarl such as this here one seems to go dead on you, that's a sure sign it's fixing to break out in a fresh place."

I told the captain about the burial—how I took the spade from the sexton's helper and myself filled the hole, and how Abe insisted on having a share in the last rites and so had shaped up the small mound and tenderly smoothed the clods down with his hands.

"Well," he said, "I had only the honor of a brief acquaintance with the deceased, but you know, Gilly, as well as any one, what my feelings are. A mate that's gone leaves a gap behind and it's no matter whether that one went on four legs or two. So may those bones rest undisturbed right where they are 'til the judgment day!"

"Amen to that," I said, holding a straight face to match with his seeming seriousness, and shook hands with him on his wish.

I had Florence on the telephone after I got back to Bridgeton. There was no news except that Gregory's father had arrived to find Gregory's convalescence still further advanced. Florence said she liked the older Mr. Thorpe very much and she hoped he was going to like her. To which I said that if he didn't he absolutely was the most unappreciative man that had ever come out of the state of Ohio. She asked me if I had seen Sabino yet and I told her that because of the Westbury trip and all, I had not looked for him but meant to do that same the very next thing.

So, about 4 o'clock I rode over to Cresap's. Durkee I saw at close hand and Larkin at a distance but purposely avoided making inquiry touching on Sabino's whereabouts from either of them. Down at the boathouse I stumbled on old Verity. Sunday is supposed to be his day of rest. There are stories that the third Mrs. Verity is somewhat of a nag and her husband prefers to spend his leisure hours elsewhere than at home. He was pottering about, making a large manual show of a very small amount of manual exertion. I asked him where Sabino was.

"Ain't seen him nowheres today," he stated. "Come to think about it, I can't rightly say ez I've seen him since yistiddy. Seems like, fur some reason, these here detectifs don't chivy him ez much or hound after him ez clos't ez whut they do the rest of us. He gads about and goes and comes purty much ez he pleases. And last few days— yes, yes, night times, too, seems like to me he's done more goin' than comin'. Now you seen him now you don't . . . Do you want I sh'd go look fur him, Mr. Redd?"

"Never mind," I said. "But if you bump into him you might give him a hail and tell him I want to see him."

Substantially, that is all for the sixth day of our goried muddle. It will be a week tomorrow night since Uncas Cresap was killed. By my retrospect, though, it sometimes seems as though it all started only a few hours ago, and then sometimes it seems as though it had been months since the mystery of it began alternately flaring up and dimming down.

Right now it has flickered to a faint glimmer. Bray would have it that this impassé may be the calm before the tornado renews itself—and frequently Bray is right.

And then again, Bray is wrong.

Monday, October 24, nightfall.

But this time Bray was right!

Within the compass of less than twenty-four hours, and all since my last entry here, these three things, telescoping one into another so fast they followed, have avalanched to the forefront of this grisly travail:

Florence has disappeared.

Sabino likewise has disappeared.

And Hilda, detected in the act of trying to disappear, is a prisoner.

Approximately at or about 6 o'clock this morning, before any others beneath that roof were awake, Hilda slipped out of the Cresap house, presumably by way of the back stairs and the service wing. She was dressed as though for travel and she carried a small bag which afterwards was found to contain a change of garb, a nightgown and toilet articles. When she set out though her kit contained one other article. That article was a compact, paper-wrapped bundle.

Girls Want to Know Families of Their Beaux

BY DORIS BLAKE.

You'll have to take the girls around to "meet the folks," boys, if you want to convince them you're not a trifler.

It's surprising how many girls report on this particular little oversight on their suitor's part. "I've been going with him six months—but have never met any of his family," they say. "Or, I've been going around with him a year or two—and no family introduction."

Personally, we think this a smart appraisal on the part of young women. A man keenly, vitally interested in a girl normally would want to take her round and show her off to the family. And a girl contemplating a man seriously, naturally would like a little insight into his family life. She's not going to escape them later, and it's fair enough for her to ask to know his relatives now.

Of course, we understand that because a boy doesn't take his best girl around to see his mother and father and brothers and sisters, it's no indication he's a trifler. There may be reasons in his mind, real or imaginary. He hates to be teased. Also, he dreads the family comments. They're often critical beyond all reason. His attitude is self-protective rather than any insinuation toward the girl.

But marriage success records prove that compatibility with the family is a scoring point, though not always an imperative one. And, another arguing point in the girls' favor is that one can learn much about a boy, or girl, from the family relationship.

The girls are getting pretty smart about whom they are committing their futures to, you see.

We doubt if there enters with boys as often as with girls the fear that their family is not impressive enough. Girls are apt to be more snobbish, or maybe it's more fearful, if they think their beau is on a social strata a notch or two above their own. But it's a mistake to try to keep the family under cover. Because they can't be kept so eternally.

MINUTE MYSTERY

By H. A. RIPLEY

[Copyright: 1933: By The Chicago Tribune.]

AN UNEXPECTED VISIT.

Prof. Fordney pushed back the chair in which Hector Connor sat—dead; lifted a blank piece of monogrammed stationery from the mahogany surface of the desk, and under it observed through his pocket glass some fingerprints. Beckoning to Sergt. Jackson he requested: "See if these prints are Connor's."

He then examined the temple wound in the dead man's head, noticed the unusually large hands in his lap, looked down at the automatic on the floor, and turned to Dr. Milton.

"He died instantly, of course?"

"No doubt about that," replied the physician.

"All right, Mercer, go on with your story," the criminologist said.

"There's really not much to tell. My uncle, whom I haven't seen for over a year, unexpectedly visited me this afternoon to congratulate me on my engagement. We came into the library here and after talking a while he said he wanted to write a letter. I laid a piece of stationery on the desk for him and he sat down to write, but before doing so pulled a letter from his pocket, slit it open with the paper knife, and sank back in the chair with a strange expression on his face. Before I realized it he took that gun from his pocket and shot himself. I rushed over, but saw he was already dead, so . . . ."

"Pardon me, professor, those prints are Connor's all right," interrupted the sergeant.

"Were you two alone at the time?" questioned Fordney.

"Yes."

"Touch anything?"

"No."

WHY DID THE PROFESSOR SAY SO?

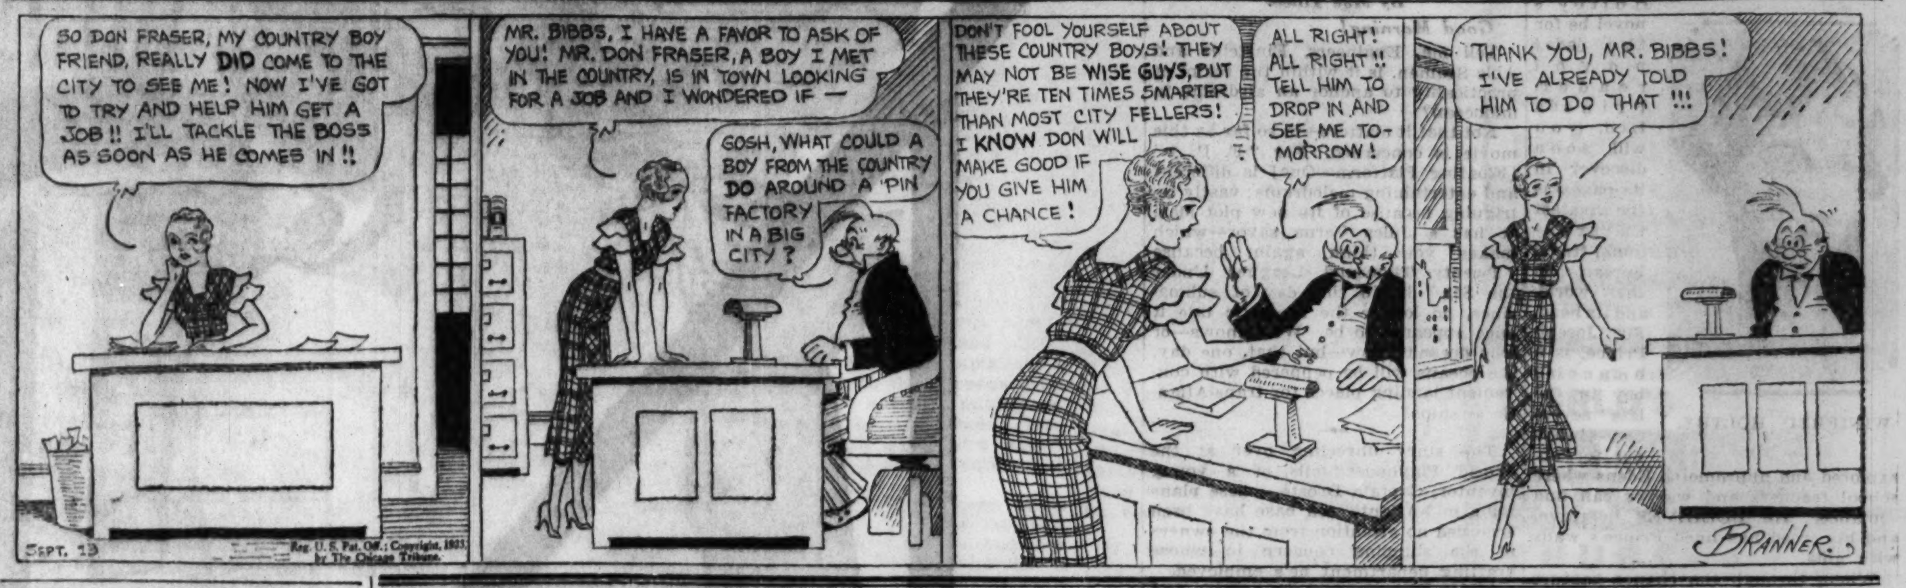
[See solution on page 37.]

Mothers:

have you a FUSSY little APPETITE in your home?

Refuse everything you prepare? Object to food they should eat for health's sake? Here's an easy solution to the problem: . . . serve CREAMETTES, a delicious macaroni product sold at all grocers. Children love CREAMETTES for its delicious taste, and it's a food growing children need. Try CREAMETTES! Two big packages only 15c.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: A Fast Worker



SO DON FRASER, MY COUNTRY BOY FRIEND, REALLY DID COME TO THE CITY TO SEE ME! NOW I'VE GOT TO TRY AND HELP HIM GET A JOB!! I'LL TACKLE THE BOSS AS SOON AS HE COMES IN!!
MR. BIBBS, I HAVE A FAVOR TO ASK OF YOU! MR. DON FRASER, A BOY I MET IN THE COUNTRY, IS IN TOWN LOOKING FOR A JOB AND I WONDERED IF — GOSH, WHAT COULD A BOY FROM THE COUNTRY DO AROUND A 'PIN FACTORY' IN A BIG CITY?
DON'T FOOL YOURSELF ABOUT THESE COUNTRY BOYS! THEY MAY NOT BE WISE GUYS, BUT THEY'RE TEN TIMES SMARTER THAN MOST CITY FELLERS! I KNOW DON WILL MAKE GOOD IF YOU GIVE HIM A CHANCE!
ALL RIGHT! ALL RIGHT!! TELL HIM TO DROP IN AND SEE ME TO-MORROW!
THANK YOU, MR. BIBBS! I'VE ALREADY TOLD HIM TO DO THAT!!!

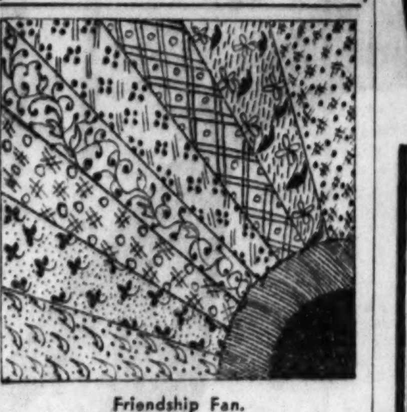
Shared Material Adds Sentiment to Pieced Quilt



Friendship Fan.

BY NANCY CABOT.

In piecing the "Friendship Fan"—it is strictly a pieced block and not appliqued—you must beg your friends to furnish a little scrap of this or that gingham, or perhaps swap a bit of yours for a bit of theirs. Because to be a true "Friendship Fan" each rib of the fan should be cut from a piece of material that has been donated by some friend. You may, of course, buy enough different kinds of material to piece a block and produce the same effect, but it won't have the same sentimental appeal.

For a quilt pattern of this design, send 5 cents in stamps or coin to Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, printing your name and address clearly. Or call at the Tribune Public Service Office, One South Dearborn.

Looks 10 Years Younger Brushes Away Gray Hair

Now you can really look years younger. With an ordinary small brush you just tint those streaks or patches of gray back to your natural shade—whether blonde, brown or black. It is so easy to do—at home—with Brownatone. Over 20 years success. Guaranteed harmless. Active coloring agent is purely vegetable. Defies detection. No tell-tale "dyed" look. Cannot affect waving of hair.

No need to guess. First cut a lock of hair from your head and apply a little of this famous tint. If Brownatone does not give your gray, streaked, dull or faded hair its natural color, youth and luster, your money back. Only 50c.

Benefit Ball of Chauffeurs to Be Nov. 22

Date to Be Night Without Parties for Society.

BY JUDITH CASS.

IF a debutante ball is planned for the evening of Nov. 22, most of the guests will have to walk or treat themselves to taxis. On that evening all of the chauffeurs who drive for gold coast families are to hold their annual ball in the gold room of the Congress hotel.

To date there isn't a party on society's calendar for the evening and it is a safe guess that nothing . . . at least nothing more than a few small and informal dinner parties . . . will be planned. The chauffeurs have looked ahead and chosen it as an "off" night and now their masters and mistresses are interested in giving them a gala time by leaving them unhampered as far as routine duties are concerned.

This year the ball is to be an unusually brilliant affair, Tony J. Ruggio, the president of the Chicago Private Chauffeurs' association, which sponsors it annually, explained yesterday. The member who is responsible for working out all of the details is "Barney" Graff, whose employers are Mr. and Mrs. William E. Hill of 3500 Lake Shore drive.

Just as in days gone by when it used to be the coachmen's rather than the chauffeurs' ball, the proceeds will accrue to the benefit of the sick and disabled members of the association or those widows who have been left without support.

It was the late Mrs. Potter Palmer's coachman who usually planned the party in the horse and buggy days. After the advent of the auto Oscar Nordberg, who for many years wore the wine colored livery of the late Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, was the ball's master of ceremonies. Six months after Mr. Norberg retired from Mrs. McCormick's service he died.

Junior Tennis at Onwentsia

It may be mere coincidence that Lake Forest's youngest tennis stars played the first round of finals in their annual Onwentsia tournament yesterday and will finish up today, but it seems to us quite premeditated. They want to steal just a little bit of the limelight away from their grownup brothers and sisters and mothers and fathers who are so enthusiastic about the current Davis cup matches on the Onwentsia court.

Yesterday little Anita Smith, the Lawrence D. Smiths' young daughter, took the girls' championship away from Marie Hulburd, whose parents are the Forest Hulburds. With scores of 6-3, 4-6, and 6-4 she won two sets out of three.

There are two classes for the boys with Marshall Hughes matching Frank Farwell this morning for the championship in class B and Charles Spaulding playing either young Leslie Wheeler or Clifford Leonard for the class A trophy. First Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Leonard must match their racket abilities to see which will be the better opponent for Mr. Spaulding.

When all of these championships are finished up this morning there will be a consolation tournament for all of those young stars who entered the competitions, but didn't get as far as a silver cup.

Mary Adams, Edith Farwell, and Adelaide Taylor will be the girls playing off. Otis Carney, Henry Preston, Milton Hughes, and Anthony Ryerson are the young men who will "accept consolation" in class B, and "Hobie" Taylor, Noyes McLennan, Richard Poole, Mansfield Hughes, Albert Dick, and "Johnnie" King those who will try for consolation prizes in class A.

Josephine Irwin Will Be Bride

Mrs. Arthur A. Small and Mrs. Robert R. McCormick will be taking a trip to Washington soon to attend the wedding of their niece, Miss Josephine Irwin, to Capt. W. Mason Wright of the field artillery, United States army. Miss Irwin telephoned her two aunts as soon as she landed in New York Monday from China to tell them of the engagement and to invite them to the wedding, the date for which isn't definite yet.

Miss Irwin, who is the daughter of the late Maj. Gen. Le Roy Irwin and Mrs. Irwin, wanted to wait until she saw her mother in Washington before she decided when she would be married. Since she motored to Washington yesterday from New York, Mrs. Small and Mrs. McCormick expect to hear from her soon as to when the wedding will take place.

Capt. Wright is the son of Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Mason Wright of Georgetown, and he and Miss Irwin's brother, Maj. Le Roy Irwin, are friends, just as their fathers were before them. Capt. Wright and his bride will sail for his new post in Panama immediately after the wedding.

Service Club Party for Debutantes.

Every one of this year's debutantes is convinced that today is the beginning of the winter season. At 3 o'clock this afternoon Mrs. John Dern is going to introduce them to the officers and board members of the Service club, which means that the club's annual revue is in prospect and that all of the debutantes will soon be putting in long, hard but joyful hours of rehearsal. The party is to be held at Mrs. Dern's Winnetka home.

Mrs. Marshall Field arrived in town early yesterday and after registering at the Drake hotel left immediately for her first visit to A Century of Progress. The lovely Mrs. Field has come from Scotland by way of Belmont Park. Because her visit is to be very brief and because she wants to spend most of her time at A Century of Progress the parties her many friends here would like to have for her have to be curtailed. When not in town Mrs. Field will be with Mrs. Clifford Rodman in Lake Forest.

Traveler Brings News of West.

A traveler just back from a western trip brings news of many Chicagoans who are summering in California and New Mexico, also of former Chicagoans who now live in the west. The Charles H. Thornes, who used to live here and now have a beautiful place on top of a hill in Pasadena, are on a trip to Australia, from which they will return to Pasadena early next month.

Our reporter tells of meeting the Thornes' daughter, Mrs. Robert H. Andrews, in a market in Pasadena, looking as attractive and as charming as she used to when as Betty Thorne she was a belle on the north shore.

The Allan Kempes of Lake Forest, who went west last winter on a trip and were so delighted with the "wide open spaces" that they still are there, have had a house in Santa Barbara this summer. They took it so that they could swim every day, but Mrs. Kempe confided to our informant that it had been so cold all season that they had been in the ocean exactly twice.

Mrs. Kempe's mother, Mrs. F. Edson White, has been visiting them, and they all are planning to drive back to Chicago in Mrs. White's car the end of this month.

Mrs. Harold L. Ickes, who has been spending the summer on their ranch near Gallup, N. M., has been in Santa Barbara visiting the John Oakleys. She will be in Chicago soon, however, for a short stay before going on to Washington for the winter.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ricker and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth, and Miss Peggy Hambleton are at home from a fortnight's visit with the William B. Greenlees at their ranch, the Prado Verde, at Abiquiu, N. M. Mrs. Greenlee, who is Miss Hambleton's aunt, and Mr. Greenlee will not return until the middle of October.

Reception at Fair for Consular Corps.

One of the nicest parties of this A Century of Progress season will be held this evening when Illinois' official hostesses receive the fifty members of Chicago's consular corps and the commissioners of the foreign nations participating in the Fair at a reception in the Illinois Host house.

Fair days of '93 are to be reconstructed for many boys and girls and their mothers and fathers at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon when grandmother's day is observed on the Enchanted island at the Fair. Mrs. Rufus C. Dawes, Mrs. Edward F. Hines, Mrs. Frank G. Logan, and Miss Florence Youngblood are to award a prize to the person who comes in the most attractive gown of that day. After this Miss Herma Clark of THE TRIBUNE staff is to give a short program of readings portraying the period.

Board members of the Sunbeam league are to meet for the first time this fall at 11 o'clock this morning at the Stevens hotel.

The Lake Geneva Garden club will wind up its activities for the year with a meeting this afternoon at Black Point, the Lake Geneva summer home of Dr. and Mrs. Otto Schmidt. Mrs. Benjamin M. Stout is to give a program of songs after the business meeting.

All of those who have received little black and white cards inviting them to a coffee fiesta at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Fair are wondering just what the affair is going to be. The fiesta, given by the commissioners of the government of Costa Rica to A Century of Progress is in celebration of the 112th anniversary of the republic of Costa Rica.

Clifford Rodman, Mrs. Russell Kelley, Mrs. John Paul Welling, Mrs. George A. Ranney, the Harold Strotzes, Mrs. Press Hodgkins, Mrs. Paget Cady, Miss Edith Behr, Mr. and Mrs. William K. Meyers.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Welles, Mrs. Samuel D. Rowe and her daughter, Kitty Lawrence; Miss Betty Rowe, Mrs. Hathaway Watson, Mrs. Edward Harris Brewer, Mrs. Augustus A. Carpenter, Mrs. J. Dorr Bradley and her daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Carpenter; the Charles W. Dempsters, the T. Philip Swifts, the Wesley Dixons, and the James A. Cathcarts.

From the south side had driven a party composed of the Kennath Sponsels, the Carl Defenbaughs and the Lyle Harpers. Miss Jean Hyman, Miss Jean Wingfield, Miss Susan Badgerow, and Miss Betty Slaughter were among the many who had neglected to get reserved seats beforehand, so had to sit in the bleachers facing the sun. It is expected that every seat will be occupied for this afternoon's matches, too.

"The Pickle Parade"—a booklet containing 18 recipes for making pickles and relishes—is on sale at the Public Service Office, 1 South Dearborn street, for 2 cents. By mail, 3 cents, stamps or coin. Address mail requests to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune.

BY MARY MEADE.

"Sailing, sailing . . ."

And now even the salads are going nautical! Have you seen them? The latest ones I've adventured with are pickle sailboats and fish-pond salads—great finds for the hostess with a yen for something "quite other" for "cool of the evening" party dinners and suppers. They're equally at home upon set tables and buffet service effects, at after-the-swim pantry raids, and between lulls in the bridge battle. Or with variations they may turn themselves into most exciting decorations for children's parties.

So let's have a sailboat salad for a starter. Simply slice a large dill or sour pickle in half lengthwise, boat fashion. Attach a square piece of fairly stiff white paper to toothpicks for the sail, and use two or three of these masts for each pickle boat salad. The number depends on the size of the pickle.

Which brings us down to the sea. A platter of your prize potato salad or a gelatin salad floating your favorite ingredients will do to sail the pickle boat upon. To make the ensemble even more convincing—and hearty—add ham, rolled and arranged around the edge of the platter, to represent logs. Sprigs of crisp parsley make good fillers in between the logs. If the event is a party for young runabouts bright paper sails add just that much more zest.

And so we come to:

FISH POND SALADS.

With a dash of imagination and a little practice most realistic fishes, turtles, and cunning tadpoles may be cut out of pickles. Bits of pimiento or green pepper may be attached for the eyes, mouth, tails, and legs or fins. A small platter of clear lemon gelatin makes the best pond, and an excellent center of attraction at a buffet supper table. The effect is most convincing if some of the figures are sunk into the gelatin as it is stiffening. When firm, turn out the shallow mold onto crisp lettuce leaves and on its smooth pond's surface place small curls of lettuce or red cabbage mounted with cross-sections of carrots, beets, or radishes cut in flowerlike forms. You now have a shimmering green pond sailing bright water flowers and their foliage. Wee turtles and froglets made from pickles should lurk around the leafage at the edge. Either a grown-up party luncheon or a youngster's party will acclaim lustily such a centerpiece.

But all the news isn't about nautical salads. Pickle dolls are also stepping out into society these days. Children love them—practically to extinction!—and now about-to-be-marrieds as well are chortling over them at prenuptial parties around town.

PICKLE DOLLS.

For the body use one-half of a sour pickle cut crosswise. An onion pickle attached with a bit of toothpick makes the head. The eyes, mouth, nose, and such features arrive in the form of bits of pimiento or ripe olive and are also fastened on with bits of toothpicks. Or tuck in a clove or two for some of these anatomic details. Arms are of toothpicks or bits of properly cut pickle. For a man doll simply notch the pickle to change the pickle skirt to trousers.

If said dolls are to go to a before-marriage party decorate them to represent the bride, groom, and attendants. And if you have a real flair for cutting up make your pickle parade in numerous intimate stages—the young enamoreds at the altar, keeping house, bouncing the next generation, and even a warning tableau of the young wife waiting up nights for hubby. (Wee midget pickles make very lovely rolling pins!)

Suit Powders to Individual Type of Skin

Variety of Complexions Precludes Rules.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

One cannot lay down any rules about powder colors for this woman and that. The smartest ones figure that out for themselves. They experiment and match, or maybe choose a powder to heighten the normal skin tone or neutralize it.

But one of our better makeup authorities tells me the average complexion requires a cream powder; the older woman, a creamy pink shade. A blonde should take a creamy natural; a brunette looks better with rachel or a mauresque, and often may use a deep cream with great effectiveness.

Sallow complexion is better off with a pinky natural powder. A flushed face may be toned down with a powder in which a greenish tint is incorporated. The deeper ochre and yellow shades are best with olive or sun tanned skins and also may be used by those with too pale complexions, especially in the latter case if there is too much contrast between the color of the face and that of the hair.

There seems to be a difference of opinion here about women buying several shades of powder and mixing them for their individual complexions. As compared with the Frenchwomen, ours are not so adept at mixing nor at arriving at the right shade. This, because we lack their long experience, not because of any native lack of aptitude.

Then, too, the type of rouge on lip and cheek has to be taken into consideration with powder use, and to a large extent the kind of frock that is going to be worn. I mean the color of the frock. A certain odd shade of brightish blue recently seen threw all out of kilter the makeup color scheme of a girl who looked lovely using it with a brown outfit.

There is so much beauty aid within these makeup cosmetics they are worth putting considerable study into. I'm thinking of a rather homely girl who has earned quite a reputation with her skill in working out her makeup scheme. Her makeup has made people realize she has beautiful eyes and a frank outline of a large mouth with a grand color for her lipstick not only makes the mouth attractive but the teeth appear shades whiter.

Women need not be too amateurish about all this makeup business. All the good houses now have in stores girls schooled in this branch of the beautifying art.

Women from 40 Suburbs See Work of Red Cross

From forty Chicago suburbs, 150 women gathered yesterday at the Chicago headquarters of the American Red Cross at 616 South Michigan to plan their activities of the coming winter and to be able to visualize the distribution of the articles they handle. A tour of inspection took the group through the workrooms in the Michigan avenue offices and then through the various floors of the Red Cross warehouse on East South Water street. James B. Forgan Jr., chapter chairman, welcomed the delegates.

Looking Inward Part of Process of Growing Up

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

The author of a well known work on psychology was talking to several mothers in those interesting few minutes after his lecture, before he left the platform.

"The most satisfying thing I ever heard any one say about the book was said to me by a mother," he stated.

"'My young daughter,' she said, 'sat up until midnight reading your book.'"

"But," objected one woman who had been listening closely, "don't you think that would tend to make a child introspective?"

"They're going to be introspective, anyhow, when they're adolescent," answered the psychologist. "It's better for them to know something about how their minds work, to understand themselves, than to be in a fog. I believe a book like that, written simply for the layman, leads them to know and help themselves."

It is an interesting idea to speculate on, whether you would act on it or not. The man and woman who remember their own adolescence know how much their thoughts turned inward at that time. The parents who are close to their boys and girls have glimpses of the concern their inner life has for them.

Many people are inclined to feel, "O, that sort of thing isn't wholesome. They ought to be occupied with school, parties, athletics and having a good time."

Part of that is true. Boys and girls in their teens should be kept busy, mentally and physically. But it is not true to say they mustn't feel and think, wander and dream, and turn their thoughts inward. This introspection is part of growing up, and anything that helps them to understand themselves more clearly is good for them.

If they start talking to you about themselves, their thoughts and feelings and fears, don't try to change the subject to tell them to put such thoughts out of their minds and have a good time. Instead, let them talk it all out; discuss it with them, and help them as best you can.

If you're interested in the idea of giving your son or daughter a book on psychology, you might read "Unmasking Our Minds," by David Seabury. Never give a young person a book of this nature that you haven't read yourself. Sometimes a good plan is to read such a book together.

ROSS WINS 15 ROUND BATTLE FROM CANZONERI

MICHIGAN STAR WINS MEDAL IN NATIONAL MEET

Sawyer, Minnesota Student, Has 142.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 12.—Four days of play—the four big days—still remain in the 37th national amateur golf tournament at Kenwood Country club, but as far as the folks in this town are concerned the show already is a riotous success. Johnny Fischer is still king of the Queen City.

The home people would like to have taken the grandstand apart at the 18th green this afternoon when Johnny came marching home with a record score of 141 to win the qualifying medal for the second consecutive year.

They Knew It All the Time.

These Cincinnati golf fans have had a hunch since the tournament started yesterday that Johnny could do it. The presence of such persons as Ross Somerville, the defending champion, and Johnny Goodman, winner of the national open, meant naught to them. Johnny Fischer, the tall boy born and raised in these parts, was the man for them, the greatest golfer who ever hailed from Cincinnati.

Johnny rewarded them yesterday with a tidy 72. This afternoon as he and a gallery of nearly a thousand home towners came out of the haze hanging over the 18th tee, the word was flashed to those on the final green that the Fischer boy was bound for a 68 if he could make himself a birdie.

That Fischer boy then made two perfect shots to the green, but his four foot putt for a three wandered an inch by the cup. He nudged it in for a par, a 69, and the lowest qualifying score ever made in the 37 years' history of the tournament. The militia, which has been patrolling the course for two days, finally had to go to work to restrain the natives and save the boy.

A Dozen Tie.

In setting a new mark for the qualifying round in the amateur, Fischer lowered by one stroke a record held by himself, Bobby Jones, and E. Clark Corkran. Corkran established the record at Merion in 1924. In was equaled by Jones at Minikhada in 1927, and at Merion in 1930. Johnny tied it again at Five Farms last year. Only three others in the history of the event have been able to win the medal in successive years. Walter Travis did it in 1900, 1901, 1902, 1906, 1907, and 1908; Chick Evans in 1912 and 1913, and Bobby Jones in 1926 and 1927.

Fischer's 141 was not the only record written into the books today. So earnest were the young men, and not a few middle aged gentlemen, striving for the 32 places in the match play round that 12 of them will be forced to arise at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning to compete for the last 12 of those 32 places. The previous record for the playoff battle was ten, set at Beverly in 1931 and tied at Baltimore last year. Today's 12 tied with scores of 150.

Only a stroke back of Fischer was another collegian, Pat Sawyer, 20 year old Minneapolis star, and if this were football Johnny would win the little brown jug. Fischer is from the University of Michigan and Sawyer from the University of Minnesota. Pat shot a great 70 today, which added to his 72 of yesterday qualified him with 142.

Champ Is Third.

Ross Somerville, the champion from Canada, took a 73 today after tying for yesterday's lead with a 70. Tied for fourth place at 144 were 20 year old Jim Milward of Nakoma, Wis., who equaled Fischer's 69 today; Gus Moreland, former western cham-

Talking it Over

BY ARCH WARD.

A HABIT sometimes is a terrible thing. Take the White Sox. They have become so accustomed to a second division berth in the American league standings even the acquisition of three men like Simmons, Haas, and Dykes could not change their fortune.

The Sox finished the 1931 season in eighth place. They could have been no farther back of the leaders and remained in the country. In 1932 they were seventh and this year, if they maintain their current pace, they will wind up sixth.

Whether you are good at figures or not, you can see at a glance that the boys are getting there. Only five years to a pennant.

With a little luck, of which they seem to have none, the Sox could leap to second or third place next season. For several weeks they gave every indication of doing it this year. Then came the injury to Fonseca and the collapse of the pitching staff.

Though the standings belie the statement, the Sox made considerable headway this season in their efforts to build up a team their following deserves. They now have a foundation on which to work. They have at least half a dozen players who will match the league's best and they have a manager who has done surprisingly well in the face of discouragement.

The Sox would become a pennant threat in 1934 if they had two or three reliable pitchers, a hard hitting catcher and another first baseman. That sounds like a sizeable order, but it is trivial compared to other years.

The first base situation already may be adjusted. Zeke Bonura, a recruit from Dallas, looks promising and there is a strong probability that Fonseca's injured leg may permit his daily appearance in the lineup. Sox followers are not counting too heavily on Bonura. While he has made a good record in the Texas league, the south side has been disappointed several times by standouts from that organization. Selph, Blackerby, Randy Moore, and Shires illustrate the point.

Pitchers are the crying need. And they are not to be found in the Western league or the Mississippi Valley. The Sox policy of bringing in a crowd of minor leaguers expecting them to make good in major league company is wrong. Either they must buy outstanding double A players or men within the league.

It takes money to buy the pitchers the Sox need. You can't get good talent paying a few dollars down and promising to return the player or cash by May 1 of the following year.

AUSTRALIAN CUP PLAYERS LEAD U. S. STARS, 2 TO 1

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The Australian tennis players took a two to one lead over the Americans in the exhibition series which opened yesterday on the Onwentsia club courts. Each team won a singles match and Australia was victorious in the doubles, as well.

In the first engagement of the day Adrian Quist put the invaders in the lead by defeating Keith Gledhill, 3-6, 6-2, 6-3. Then Frank Parker squared things by beating Vivian McGrath, 6-4, 6-2, but in the doubles the Australians forged ahead again when McGrath and Jack Crawford vanquished Parker and Frank Shields, 6-8, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

At the beginning of his singles match, Parker was aggressive but erratic and McGrath, playing conservative tennis, stepped out to a 3-0 lead. McGrath won the next game but Parker turned on the pressure and squared the set at 4 all.

Frankie Comes Back.

McGrath's two handed backstroke was carrying little power and was proving useful only to drop an occasional soft shot just over the net. The Milwaukee youngster won the next two games and the set, 6-4.

After dropping the opening game of the second set, Parker took full commond of the situation. Baffling the Australian with a steady barrage of forehand and backhand drives and slices, he drew away to a 4-1 lead. Parker was checked momentarily as he lost the next game, but he came right back to take two more and the set, 6-2, terminating the match.

Quist Wins Two Straight.

The first set of the match between Gledhill and Quist was largely a baseline duel. The service of each was ineffective until the fifth game, when Gledhill stepped away to a 3-2 lead.

Quist steadied as the second began and took two games in a row. The American rallied and drew up on even terms at 2 all, but Quist came right back to take four straight games and the set, 6-2.

Gledhill tired as the third set progressed and Quist quickly drew away to a 4 to 1 lead. The Australian's 6-3 victory in this set gave him the match.

Australians Start Fast.

The fastest work and the hardest hitting of the day was done in the doubles match. Before the Americans could get their strokes working, the Australians had run up a 4-0 advantage. Then Shields and Parker took five straight games. Again the Australians forged to the front, going into a 6-5 lead, but the Americans took three consecutive games and the set, 8-6.

The Australians won the next two sets, playing mostly on the defensive.

Then in the fourth set, the Australians took the offensive, going to the net repeatedly and compelling the Americans to change their smashing game to a lobbing one. Crawford and McGrath responded to these lobs with powerful overhead smashes and ran out the set, 6-3, terminating the match.

Today Crawford and Shields will meet in one of the singles matches and Wilmer Allison will be pitted against Don Turnbull in the other.

In the doubles George Lott and Lester Stoefen will play Turnbull and Quist. The first match will start at 2 p. m.

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT NOW

Barney Ross proves to New York that he is the world's best 135 pound fighter by repeating his victory over Tony Canzoneri. Last night he won in 15 rounds, just as he had done in 10 rounds three months ago.

Otto Strohmeier, Assistant Maroon Coach, in Hospital

Otto Strohmeier, assistant football coach to Clark Shaughnessy at the University of Chicago, entered Passavant hospital Sunday night for observation, it was learned last night. Strohmeier, a former Maroon quarter back and star of Chicago's 9 to 0 victory over Princeton in 1921, is believed to be suffering from an acute infection, which, it is feared, will prevent him from helping coach the Maroon varsity for the greater part of the coming season.

CAMILLI HELPS WARNEKE BEAT PHILLIES, 2 TO 0

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Adolph Camilli, the recent import, furnished the power that enabled Lon Warneke to ride to his seventeenth victory of the season yesterday. The big Italian man from the west coast whacked a triple just when it meant something and the runs resulting from it proved enough to let the Cubs close their year's business with the Phillies with a 2 to 0 triumph. It was the fifteenth beating for the Quaker City crowd in their 22 games with the Chicago troops.

Although winning, the Cubs did nothing startling with their bats. They collected four hits off Ed Holley, who once was one of them, in the first four innings and then went into almost total eclipse. After that they made only one safe tap and that didn't show up until the eighth when Frank Pearce was pitching. However, Holley's excellent performance went for naught because the lengthy hit by Camilli followed a single with one out.

Warneke Sails Along.

The pitching of Warneke was so effective that he might have gone on indefinitely had it been necessary. In the first inning he was called on for some heroic work to get himself out of a tight spot. But thereafter he did an excellent job of restricting the Phillies to one man on the base lines at a time. Starting with the second inning the Phils sent only five men to first base, one on a pass. Four of these never went any farther than the first stop. One of them reached second. The only other time the middle bag was soiled by foreign footsteps was in the opening inning.

The Phils helped themselves to a couple of hits in the first inning and this proved to be their only serious threat. Bartell singled to left after Fullis had flied to center. Klein's high bounder eluded Warneke for a single. Hurst was suppressed on strikes and Davis grounded to Hack for a force play at third. Cuyler picked up a single for the Cubs in their opening half, but it didn't come until after two were gone and he was erased in an attempted steal.

Cubs Get Busy.

Schulmerich was handed a walk to start the Phils' second, but before he could work around to the plate the side was retired. Then the Cubs got busy. Stephenson opened the home half with a healthy drive that Klein caught only after bouncing off the right field screen. Demaree followed with a single on which Bartell made a great stop in deep short. Camilli drove Holley's first pitch into left center for three bases, Demaree scoring. Hartnett's fly to Fullis let Camilli run home.

Double plays kept Warneke away

In the WAKE of the NEWS

OLDTIME BASEBALL.

AT this time, when Cubs have only a mathematical pennant chance and when White Sox have no pennant chance, let's go back to 1906, when Cubs and White Sox decided city and world title in the same series for the first and only time in Chicago baseball history, then recall an unusual aftermath.

That 1906 series was perhaps the most hectic in which teams ever competed for the world's championship, largely because both teams were from the same city, and there was intense partisan rivalry between followers of the then west siders and south siders. Cubs were advance favorites at odds of from 8 to 5 to as high as 3 to 1. Individually they rated better than Manager Fielder Jones' team, but the White Sox emerged victorious for the world title, 4 games to 2.

Following the world series barnstorming squads from both teams were formed. While these squads did not compose full championship roster, they were representative enough to attract spectators. At that time Jimmy Callahan, one time member of both Cubs and White Sox, owned and managed a strong semi-pro aggregation which played at Logan Square and adopted that name. Games were booked with the barnstormers and Logan Squares were victorious in each game on successive days before large crowds. Callahan pitched against White Sox, holding them to 3 hits, and Long Tom Hughes against Cubs, yielding five hits.

BOX OR SLUG, BARNEY PROVES HE'S CHAMPION

Two Judges Divided, Referee Decides It.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 12.—A tough looking little fighter came to town from the provinces this evening and showed New York how he did it that time he licked Tony Canzoneri for the lightweight championship of the world in Chicago earlier in the season. Barney Ross, who used to fight for little trinkets of no great value as a member of the Chicago Golden Gloves team, stood through 15 rounds in a return fight with the Italian, who looks like Babe Ruth seen through the wrong end of a telescope.

He won the decision, retained the championship which Canzoneri fought desperately to win back, and showed more fight and knowhow and much more of that youthful rubber and bounce than even Canzoneri himself, who is one of the most quarrelsome fighters now in practice and also full of professional knowing and courage.

Ross Boxes or Slugs.

When Canzoneri wished to box, Ross boxed with him, and when it was Tony's pleasure to spread his legs, lean in and punch like a longshoreman, Ross could do that, too. Ross fetched the fight to Tony most of the first ten rounds, popped him with a left jab which was an inch or more longer than Tony's, slugged him in the body with a left, which sometimes seemed likely to go right on through and bulge out in back, and made Tony miss many a wild right swing.

Canzoneri was penalized three rounds in the score of Arthur Donovan, the referee, for punching below the foul line, but that does not mean, of course, that he would have won these rounds in Donovan's score even if he could have kept his leather on the fairway. It simply meant that regardless of anything else he might do in each such round he couldn't win.

Low Blows Make No Difference.

The eighth would have been Ross' round anyway, for he outfought Tony in that one. The sixth, which Tony forfeited for unethical practice, was not much of a fighting round and could have been scored either way. The ninth, the last of the three rounds which Donovan arbitrarily took away from Tony, was a wild brawl in which Canzoneri outslugged the Chicago boy and might have won if he had minded his manners.

The judges divided in their opinion, and when it developed that Harold Barnes had voted for Ross and George Kelly for Canzoneri, Donovan's decision awarded the victory to Ross. Barnes is the judge who was the only official to see and call the foul when Jack Sharkey dropped Max Schmeling with a low punch at the Yankee stadium a few years ago with the heavyweight championship dependent on his courage in his judgment.

Canzoneri Lands Solidly.

There was one very unfortunate turn of events for Canzoneri this evening. This occurred just as the bell banged to end the eleventh round at which precise instant Tony's left glove came over in a hook so fast it gave smoke to clip the Chicago boy square on his chin. Ross' head snapped back as though it might sail on over the outfield wall for a home run, and his legs seemed to wilt as he staggered back a stride. He was out of position and probably momentarily out of his mind, but he certainly was not out of luck, for the bell saved him just as Canzoneri was ready to pour the cavalry through the hole.

This was the first time Ross had fought more than ten rounds, and although Canzoneri had had his weak moments on the way to the tenth, it was the professional belief that from the tenth round on, Canzoneri, with his experience and knowledge of pace,

KENTUCKY FOLK THROWN DOWN BY CAPTAIN RED

Fanfern from Virginia Wins Lincoln Fields Feature.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Folks from Kentucky who were in the crowd at Lincoln Fields yesterday didn't have much cause to be hilarious. They had gathered at the track to see Captain Red, noted Kentucky mud runner, win the Grant Park purse, which was the feature. They not only were there to see him win, but also were there to bet on him.

Overnight rains had turned the running strip into a sea of mud. It was dry on the surface, but deep in goo beneath. It was just the sort of going Captain Red fancies. "How can he lose?" the Kentuckians asked.

But he did lose, and to make the medicine all the more bitter for the Kentuckians, Fanfern, a 3 year old filly from Virginia, turned up as the winner. Kentuckians never like to see horses from the old dominion state beat their prize thoroughbreds.

Captain Red Runs Last.

Captain Red refused to extend himself at any stage of the journey and was a disgraceful last when the seven furlong battle ended.

Taking the lead from the beginning, Fanfern did everything but fly over the muddy course. Only one horse threatened her. One Chance made challenge after challenge, his greatest bid coming in the last furlong, but he still was three-quarters of a length back of Fanfern when it ended.

Yonkel, which had quite a few backers, finished third and Sherab was fourth, beating out Captain Red in the last strides.

Kacala Scores Double.

It was Fanfern's third victory of the season in eleven starts, but she has won in all sorts of going and shapes up as one of the most useful horses in the Audley farm band. She is a daughter of Dunlin-Rock Fern, and was ridden by Jockey Kacala, who rounded out a double by having won on Bill Orange in the race preceding the feature.

Bill Orange was also at home in the going, but all the spectators expected him to be. They made him the favorite at odds on and he wound up by paying $3.14 in the mutuels.

Concisus Extends Bill.

Bill had his work cut out for him, and it wasn't until they were within the shadow of the finish line that he was able to get to the front. Concisus from Val Crane's Wild Rose Farm stable made all the pace for him and didn't give up the struggle until right at the end.

Clyde Van Duesen, Kentucky Derby winner of a few years ago, tried to win another race as the program ended. The muddy going should have been just to his liking, but he finished third.

Captain Danger after leading all the way was a handy winner by four lengths over Lahor.

Reports from New York are that Hadagal, which races for Warren Wright of Chicago, will be one of the favorites in the renewal of the Futurity at Belmont Park on Saturday. A party of Mr. Wright's friends will see the colt perform in New York in the richest race in the world. The Futurity will have a gross value of about $105,000.

Hadagal was second in the Arlington Futurity, didn't seem to fancy the going at Saratoga last month, but has been performing in sensational fashion over the Futurity straightaway course at Belmont.

The brilliant Indian Runner has said goodby to Chicago race fans for the season. With others in the stable of D. A. Woods of Benton, Ill., he arrived at the Havre de Grace track in Maryland last night. Jockey A. Tipton also traveled east with the horses.

Dog Owners Get Entries Ready for 23d Annual Show

BY BOB BECKER.

Dog owners in the middle west are getting out the special combs, brushes and other canine beautifiers as the outstanding Chicago dog show of the autumn season nears. This is the 23d annual combined specialty show of the Western Specialty association on Oct. 21 and 22 in the First Regiment Armory, 16th street and Michigan avenue.

Each member club of the association sponsors its own show. Among the clubs which are promoting a breed specialty show for this exhibition of blue blooded canines are the Central States Airedale club, Western Boston Terrier club, Chicago Collie club, Doberman Pinscher Club of America, Cocker Spaniel Club of the Middle West, English Springer Spaniel Club of the Central States, and Chicago Wire and Smooth Fox Terrier club.

In all there are 15 clubs representing fifteen clubs which are working to make this a World's Fair bench show. The cocker spaniel organization plans to award a special World's Fair gold medal to each cocker exhibitor in commemoration of the exhibitor's allegiance to the breed. Mrs. Arthur N. Vogel of West Long Branch, N. Y., will judge the cockers, and indications are now that at least 150 dogs of this breed will be showing their points in the show ring.

One of the novelties which the cocker spaniel enthusiasts are going to stage at the show involves special classes for children's dogs. The spaniel club has asked Miss Priscilla St. George of Tuxedo Park, N. Y., to come to Chicago to judge these classes. Miss St. George, although only 14 years old, already is a celebrity in the cocker spaniel field and the owner of a kennel.

Another interesting personality among the judges will be a German authority on the doberman pinscher, Herr Fritz Muller, president of the doberman pinscher organization in Germany. Mr. Muller has been engaged to look over this breed in the forthcoming show and judge them according to the old country standards.

JOHN MILL, suited by the going and beginning fast, drew away from ST. NAZAIRE when approaching the turn and maintained his speed gamely but won a lucky race. ALL HAIL, well up from the start, rallied after reaching the stretch, then suffered a hemorrhage and was badly distressed while going the final eighth. SWEET LASSIE began slowly, saved ground much of the trip, and faltered after three-quarters, but was best of others.

†Field. Time, :24 4-5, :50, 1:17, 1:45 2-5. [Daily double paid $21.42.] Two dollar mutuels paid: Her Elegance, $7.62 straight, $4.32 place, $3.82 show; Wait Not, $5.84 place, $4.30 show; Belle Weidel, $6.66 show. Winner trained by W. Pinch. Went to post at 3:16. At post 3½ minutes. Start bad from gate. Won driving; second and third same.

HER ELEGANCE, fractious at the post, but away well and steadied along until reaching final five-sixteenths, where, responding to mild pressure, she quickly drew away from MR. SWIFT and, wearing down WAIT NOT, won drawing out. Latter, taken into the lead, drew into decisive command before going a quarter, was well rated, and held on fairly well, but was not good enough. BELLE WEIDEL, far back for three-quarters, closed fast.

FOURTH RACE—Seven furlongs, out of chute. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time, :24 3-5, :49 2-5, 1:15 4-5, 1:29 3-5. [Weather clear. Track heavy.] Two dollar mutuels paid: Bill Orange, $3.14 straight, $2.54 place, $2.28 show; Concisus, $3.94 place, $3.48 show; Red Casino, $3.58 show. Winner trained by owner. Went to post at 3:43¼. Off at once. Start good from gate. Won driving; second, third same.

BILL ORANGE, taken back when CONCISUS came over after leaving the chute, failed to narrow leader's advantage when under pressure on stretch turn, but held on well and, overtaking CONCISUS when latter weakened, won drawing out. CONCISUS bore over sharply in first quarter, had good speed in the going, but weakened after three-quarters. RED CASINO weakened in stretch, but was best of others.

FIFTH RACE—Seven furlongs out of chute. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

Time, :24 2-5, :49 1-5, 1:14 3-5, 1:27 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Fanfern, $9.08 straight, $4.32 place, $2.98 show; One Chance, $4.66 place, $3.32 show; Yonkel, $2.46 show. Winner trained by J. F. Patterson. Went to post at 4:08. At post ½ minute. Start good from gate. Won driving; second and third same.

FANFERN, aided by splendid riding and away fast, was steadied along to the stretch turn, where she drew away slightly and, holding on gamely, stalled off ONE CHANCE. Latter, also well in hand until reaching final five-sixteenths, held on gamely and under stronger riding might have gotten up. YONKEL dropped far out of it and made up some ground when entering stretch, only to weaken in late stages.

SIXTH RACE—Five and one-half furlongs. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25.

| WITCHES NIGHT [G.Miller] | 108 | 1 | 4 | 5¼ | 6³ | 8 | 8 | W.F.Axton | 60.64-1 |

Time, :24 2-5, :49 3-5, 1:01 3-5, 1:08 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Bitty Bit, $11.06 straight, $6.52 place, $3.42 show; Dogmata, $7.12 place, $4.02 show; Prince Drake, $2.78 show. Winner trained by owner. Went to post at 4:33¼. At post 4¼ minutes. Start good from gate. Won driving; second and third same.

BITTY BIT, well up from the start and on outside throughout, stood pressure gamely and, wearing down PRINCE DRAKE and SAFE AND SOUND, just lasted. DOGMATA saved much ground and, closing strongest of all, was wearing down the winner. PRINCE DRAKE had speed from the start, was under mild restraint to stretch and, holding on gamely, would have been closer up but for lacking room near end.

SEVENTH RACE—Mile and one-eighth. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time, :25, :51, 1:17 3-5, 1:45 2-5, 1:59 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Captain Danger, $15.08 straight, $5.56 place, $3.18 show; Lahor, $3.64 place, $2.50 show; Clyde Van Dusen, $2.62 show. Winner trained by P. Kelley. Went to post at 5:04. Off at once. Start good from gate. Won easily; second and third driving.

CAPTAIN DANGER, suited by the going and well ridden, went to front under steady restraint, easily withstood LAHOR'S bid after reaching stretch, and came away fast when latter weakened in final eighth. LAHOR, saved off the pace, rallied to strong pressure but weakened badly in final eighth. CLYDE VAN DUSEN dropped far out of it and came around distressed horses in last three-eighths.

CHICAGO FRIENDS CELEBRATE WITH CHAMPION ROSS

Tony Fought Great Bout, Says Barney.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 12.—"Tony put up a great fight, didn't he?"

These were Barney Ross' first words after he had followed a flying squadron of police and friends the length of the Polo grounds to the dressing room from the ring where he had just whipped Tony Canzoneri. Perhaps it was the first chance Barney had to catch his breath, for from the time he went to his corner at the end of the 15th round he was a center of action.

There was no loitering in the ring. Momentarily Ross and his joyous handlers clustered along the ropes, facing the battery of cameras and motion picture operators, but it was only for an instant. Canzoneri, who had refused to shake hands with Ross when the title changed hands in Chicago three months ago, made no effort to congratulate him tonight.

Cheer Chicago's Champion.

Almost before the crowd realized it, Ross had left the ring. The police cleared a path through the throng which shouted congratulations to the former Chicago Golden Gloves champion.

Once safely in his dressing room, Ross reclined on the rubbing table where two hours earlier he had waited calmly for the summons to the ring to defend his lightweight championship.

"Tony put up a great fight, didn't he?" Barney said.

"Why give him any credit," one of the party growled. "Wasn't he hitting low all night?"

Defends His Opponent.

"That was all right," Ross defended. "He didn't intend to hit low and he only hurt me once."

What Ross didn't know at the time was that Canzoneri's low blows cost him the bout. The judges were divided in their opinions, and the referee, Arthur Donovan, in handing in his card for Ross—8 rounds to 4 with 3 even—stated that he had taken the sixth, eighth, and ninth rounds from Canzoneri for low punches.

"Tell the folks in Chicago," Barney said in reply to a request for a statement, "that it feels great to keep the championship. I am glad not only because I won but also because I won in New York. New York now knows that I whipped Canzoneri fairly last June when I took his title.

"Fifteen rounds went faster than I thought they could," Barney added. "I felt that I had the strength to fight that distance, but when you never have done it, you can't be certain. I was much stronger in the last three rounds than Canzoneri."

Loses Track of Rounds.

"What was the hardest punch you received?" we asked.

"I don't know," was his answer. "I was hit hard several times when Tony threw his right hand at my head, but he never landed full or I wouldn't have been able to finish. You know that. One loses track of the rounds and what has happened when the fighting is continuous. If my seconds had not told me before each round, I wouldn't have known what round was coming up."

By this time, scores of Barney's Chicago friends had crashed through the police guard. To each Barney held out his hand. He sat on his rubbing bench, grinning as his visitors overwhelmed him with congratulations. Then he had his shower and rub down and an hour later he was at his hotel playing host to all who gathered to celebrate his victory.

Canzoneri Camp Gloomy.

Over in Canzoneri's dressing room, less than 100 feet away, a blanket of gloom surrounded the challenger and his managers. Tony and his manager, Sammy Goldman, kept their thoughts to themselves. A friend patted Canzoneri on the back. Tony had lost and there was nothing to say. Twice defeated, without assurance that he would get a title fight for months, if ever, Canzoneri knew he was through.

Judge George T. Kelly—Canzoneri won 1, 3, 4, 5, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, and 15. Ross won 2, 6, 7, 9, 14. None even.

Judge Harold Barnes—Ross won 1, 4, 5, 7, 8, 11, 12, 13, and 14. Canzoneri won 2 and 9. Even, 3, 6, 10, and 15.

Referee Arthur Donovan—Ross won 1, 5, 6, 8, 9, 10, 13, and 14. Canzoneri won 2, 4, 11, and 15. Even, 3, 7, and 12.

HOLD HORNER 5 MILE BICYCLE RACE SUNDAY

Gov. Horner's special 5 mile bicycle race will be held at the Humboldt park bicycle bowl on Sunday. Of special interest is the annual duel of Freddie Guth, outdoor track champion in 1932, and Jerry Rodman, runnerup in 1932. These boys will be given close competition by Eddie Triest, Illinois state champion in 1932, Anly Englehart, junior state champion in 1930, and a number of others.

Jackie Sharkey and Young Geno to Fight Tonight

Jackie Sharkey, Minneapolis, Minn., featherweight, and Young Geno of La Salle, Ill., will meet in a 10 round contest tonight at Northwest stadium, 4848 Irving Park boulevard. Sharkey has won eight straight matches. Geno defeated Joey Bozak in his latest appearance.

Pete Verri vs. Benny Kane [4].
Carl Scalise vs. Joey Bozak [4].

Young Stuhley, Kewanee, Ill., 152 pound boxer, has signed to meet Jack Moran of the west side in a six round match Sept. 22 at Cicero stadium. Stuhley and Henry Rothier have accepted terms for an eight found match at Davenport, Ia., Tuesday.

Sharkey Gets Vicious Again; Pounds Mates

Boxing fans yesterday were divided on the probable outcome of the King Levinsky-Jack Sharkey 10 round bout at White Sox park Friday after the fighters concluded their respective workouts.

Sharkey came out of his lethargy of Monday and yesterday bombarded three sparring partners for four rounds with all of the spirit and energy he displayed last week. He appeared anxious to make a good showing. After time was called in the fourth round, his second with Chester Matan, the former champion unleashed a vicious two handed attack that made the partner clinch.

Levinsky seemed the same as ever in a four round drill with two sparmates, except that he probably is in the best condition of his career. He was wide open and his swings to the head were just as wild as ever.

King Three Pounds Heavier.

The Boston fighter's weight was announced at 201 and Levinsky's poundage was said to be 204. This may be their weight when they weigh in at the Illinois boxing commission Friday afternoon.

Fred Gardner, former state athletic commissioner, watched both men train yesterday. He said that Sharkey is boxing better than he did in either of his title matches with Max Schmeling at New York.

"In the Schmeling contests Sharkey concentrated on left jabs to the face, but yesterday he indicated that he will rely on hard punching Friday," Gardner said. "Another unusual thing is Sharkey's change from a stand up boxer to a weaving, aggressive puncher."

After Sharkey finished yesterday at Trafton's gymnasium the fans went to Kid Howard's gym to watch the Chicagoan, whom they hadn't seen in the two weeks he had been training at Grand Beach, Mich. Most of them were of the belief that Sharkey would win.

Williams Is Floored.

The King looked to be in good form for one and a half rounds against Ray Williams. He dropped the latter in the middle of the second. Near the end of the round he cornered the sparmate on the ropes and opened a two handed fire to the head and body. It looked as if he would score a knockout, or at least another knockdown, when suddenly Williams retaliated with a flock of lefts and rights that befuddled Levinsky.

Levinsky battered Ed Wills in the final two rounds. Left and right swings were flying all over the ring and at least 50 per cent of them landed on Wills' head, body or arms.

The majority of the local critics pick Sharkey to make a success of his comeback against Levinsky, which he hopes eventually will bring him a third encounter with Champion Primo Carnera and a chance to regain the title he lost to Carnera at New York June 29.

The minority who pick Levinsky maintain that the King is too strong, has too much stamina, is gamer than his opponent, and has powerful allies in youth and ambition.

Promoter Sammy Wolff yesterday announced that the show may draw 25,000 and receipts of $75,000. Since Monday there has been a rush to the ticket offices in various parts of the city. Last night there was $15,000 in the counting room. An additional $10,000 is expected before the gates open at Sox park Friday evening.

TONELLI BEATS BROWN IN SIX ROUND BOUT

Laddie Tonelli, Marseilles, Ill., welterweight, defeated Honey Boy Brown, Indianapolis, in the six round windup bout of the weekly professional show at the Western stadium, Devon and Western avenues, last night. Clem Reed, also of Indianapolis, was awarded a decision over Roosevelt Haines in a four round bout.

ROSS WINS AND SHOWS NEW YORK HE IS CHAMPION

Masters Canzoneri in 15 Round Battle.

would outnumber Ross and win with a punishing finish. Ross also seemed either weakened or to ease himself now and then, but he met and beat Tony in a slugging fight in the thirteenth and fourteenth when his weakness, if any, should have been bringing him down.

Forces Canzoneri to Hold On.

In the fourteenth Ross was more violent than he had been any time on the long hard way to the semi-final round. He fired his left into Tony's body in the first collision so hard that the glove made a sucking sound when he yanked it out. Canzoneri wanted to maul in this one, and Ross obligingly stood up there with him and whaled him in the center with both hands until Tony couldn't trade any more and had to grab hold.

Ross indicated in the first round that he was in no mood for stylish gestures and such frivolity, but wished to indulge in some crude fist fighting. He came inching out, flat on his soles, with his mitts held high, and walked past a hard right to the head and left to the body to throw in two rights to the chin himself. Most of the time after that, although there were intervals when Tony took the initiative away from him, Ross was crowding Canzoneri and showing little respect for his reputation or the weight of his punches.

Ross Gets Out of Position.

Both of them were wild, but Canzoneri, with his finer ring presence, never flung himself or allowed himself to be maneuvered out of position as Ross did several times. This is a crudity which will put Ross in the way of serious damage one of these nights unless he learns better, but he probably will learn. He was quick on the rebound and too confident of his strength to cower, however, so he snapped back into his stance each time before Tony could move and met him, punching.

Barney had a way of rolling with Canzoneri's swings at his head which eased the force of many an otherwise dangerous clout, and he probably discouraged and certainly made himself a problem to Tony when he accepted his hardest punches without outward concern.

Ross Can Take It.

In the ninth round, one of those in which Canzoneri hit him low, Ross was rammed in the body with a number of hard punches, which would have bent him over if he hadn't had plenty of iron in his backbone. In this one, too, Tony got him on the ropes and warmed his chin with many a slam much harder than the little tag on the jaw which brought down Al Singer when Tony won the title. But out of every row in which he found himself being smacked around, this Ross, with his fine, pushing strength and his fortunate innocence of any awe, came back fighting and there never was a moment when the ex-champion could feel at all sure of him.

The fight brought about 40,000 citizens to the Polo grounds and the gate receipts were a little over $103,000 gross.

Confirms Claim to Title.

Ross confirmed his title to the championship which had been disputed ever since he beat Tony and took it away in the Chicago Stadium in June. The patrons made no serious protest at the verdict, which seemed to agree with their judgment, although, of course, a few of them loosed some hoots and one moist party hopped up into Canzoneri's corner wishing to punch it out with the referee. A house detective pushed this one sharply in the abdomen with his knee and slid him down the steps.

The fighters had weighed in for the prizefight commissioners downtown late in the afternoon. Canzoneri was only a hair's weight over 133 pounds, but Ross weighed 135, exactly, and a drink of water might have made a welterweight of him.

Al Roth of New York licked Nick Scalba of Chicago in a featherweight fight, which was a Golden Gloves alumni event. They went six rounds at a canter. Scalba enlivened his canter with a couple of staggers as Roth flogged him on the head to establish the margin of victory.

George Getz, the prizefight commissioner, had come on from Chicago to see that no outrage befell Ross, who is one of his constituents, or if one should befall him to see how it happened. Joe Triner, the chairman of the Illinois commission, was present also, but Lackey McFarland, the third member of the Illinois board, had gone to Washington on business connected with his Joliet, Ill., brewery and was not known to have torn himself away in time to attend the evening's show.

PIRATES BLANK DODGERS TWICE; TIE WITH CUBS

Win First Game, 1-0; Take Second, 2-0.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 12.—(AP)—The Pirates clambered back into a tie with the Chicago Cubs for second place in the National league today by beating the Brooklyn Dodgers, 1 to 0 and 2 to 0, in their final double header. The Pirates finished 7½ games behind the idle New York Giants.

Heinie Meine and Waite Hoyt turned in 18 innings of runless pitching. Meine held the Dodgers to five hits and Hoyt went one better by granting only four.

DIES OF INJURIES SUFFERED ON FOOTBALL FIELD

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Noot Wilson, 19 year old freshman at Howard college, died late today from injuries received a few hours previously in football scrimmage with the varsity eleven.

Wilson, whose home was at Guin, Ala., collapsed on the field as the team started down the field for a kickoff, William H. Bancroft Jr., freshman coach, said.

Physicians said he died of concussion of the brain and hemorrhage of an artery.

SCHOOLBOY DIES IN UTAH.

'Seek Zeke' Is Watchword of Suffering Sox

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 12.—"Seek Zeke" today became the war cry of the shuffling White Sox when Zeke Bonura, rookie first baseman due from Dallas, failed to show up.

As per an old Philadelphia custom, today's scheduled game between the Sox and the Athletics was called off shortly after dawn because of a heavy fog which hung over the city at 5 a. m. Confronted with a perfect afternoon and a day off, the Sox were free to make a canvass of all railroad stations in the hope that Zeke's trail could be picked up. It was thought possible that Zeke had fallen in the hands of sharpers and the posse was prepared to rescue Zeke and bring the local Townsend Zanders to justice.

Come Anyhow, Zeke.

One Bonura clew had Zeke in New Orleans suffering from a sore finger. Efforts were being made to reach him there and request him to report sore finger and all. Practically every member of the team has misery, anyhow.

As previously reported, there isn't much that Zeke can do for the cause of the Sox, except for a new focal point in the drear Sox landscape. That is why the Sox seek Zeke.

A double header with the Athletics is to be played tomorrow afternoon.

The patriarch idea, which has produced whatever pitching class the Sox have shown on this bleak trip of theirs, will be in effect as never before this season. Sam Jones, aged 42, will pitch the first game and Urban Faber, just turned 45, will pitch the second.

Sox Buy Two Players.

Cain and Mahaffey are slated to furnish the opposition, which, of course, is intent upon increasing the A's present winning streak to eight.

Observers with the Sox, who did not join the Bonura posse, spent the day reading pieces about how teams other than the Sox have been busy purchasing the cream of the minor league pitching crop—Weaver by the Browns, Lee by the Cubs, Marcum by the As, etc., etc. Later in the day it was revealed the Sox were not lagging in the replacement drive. Lee Stine, a right hand pitcher, has been purchased from the San Francisco team of the Pacific Coast league, and Paul Gregory, who was sent to Milwaukee in midseason, will rejoin the Sox at Boston. Manager Fonseca also was advised of the purchase of Outfielder Stoneham of Tulsa.

Warneke and Camilli Beat Phillies, 2-0

from possible trouble in both the third and fourth. Fullis opened the third with a single over short and the twin killing was consummated on Bartell's smash to Hack. Klein then fanned. The other double play was perpetrated in the fourth after Davis had handcuffed Jurges with a sizzling single after one was out. The Cubs also had to submit to a double play after Warneke had opened their half of the third with a single to center.

Cuyler Gets No Help.

The good ship Philly sprung a leak in the fourth. This furnished the best part of the Cubs' attack with an opportunity to do something worth while, but they flopped. Cuyler opened with a bounder to McLeod and was safe when Hurst dropped the throw at first. Stephenson then was tossed out by McLeod, Demaree lined to Fullis, and Camilli rolled softly to Hurst.

As soon as Pearce showed up for work in the eighth the Cubs came through with a hit, their first since Warneke's single in the third inning. The hit was the work of Hartnett, who barely beat the throw because of a brilliant stop by Bartell in deep short. Jurges tried to sacrifice, but his bunt popped foul into Hurst's hands. Then Warneke grounded to Bartell and the Phils completed their third double play of the afternoon.

The leading Giants will be here today for a double header, the first pair of a series of six games. Guy Bush and Charley Root will do the pitching for the Cubs. Roy Parmelee and Carl Hubbell are the probable Giant starters.

RED BIRDS BEAT MILLERS, 6-2, IN SERIES OPENER

Columbus, O., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Columbus defeated Minneapolis, 6 to 2, in the first game of the playoff for the championship of the American association before a crowd of 4,000, which was held down by threatening weather. The Red Birds collected eight hits off Petty, Tauscher, and Glenn, who pitched for the Millers.

Guest Shoots 90 to Lead in Oak Park Golf

Women members at Oak Park Country club entertained in their annual Hoot Mon tournament yesterday, guests present bringing the entry up to 100.

A high gale swept the course and made low scoring impossible. Miss Marjorie Russell of La Grange, a guest, led in gross with 45—45—90; Mrs. Melvin Jones, Lincolnshire champion, had 46—48—94, while Mrs. Donald Egbert of La Grange was third among the visitors with 47—48—95.

The members were led by Mrs. George C. Davis, who had 47—49—96. Mrs. W. W. Hodgson, vice president of the W. W. G. A., had 50—50—100 and Mrs. F. W. Kushel, formerly Oak Park champion, 55—49—104.

Miss Marjorie Russell, La Grange, 90—8—82; Mrs. Donald Egbert, La Grange, 95—11—84; Mrs. Harry Spear, La Grange, 99—10—89; Mrs. Paul Walker, Chicago Golf, 111—22—89; Mrs. Frank Justin, Edgewood Valley, 113—22—91; Miss Louise Fergus, Glen View, 109—16—93; Miss Connie Howe, Chicago, 113—33—80; Mrs. C. E. Pritchard, Elmhurst, 106—24—82, and Mrs. J. J. Brown, River Forest, 109—24—85.

pion of Dallas, Tex., and W. R. Long Jr., 29 year old Austin, Tex., bank clerk. Goodman, like Somerville, had a 73 today for 145. His card was matched by Frank English of Denver, Colo., who shot a 70 today to tie the open champion for fifth place. English is a former University of Illinois baseball star.

If there be any doubt that the current amateur tourney is one of the most exciting ever held, consider the following items from today's play:

A record low for qualifying was established when the first 36 low scorers had 150 strokes or less. The previous low was established last year at Baltimore.

George Dunlap of New York, twice intercollegiate champion and a semi-finalist in the 1933 British amateur, after shooting a grand 71 yesterday found his putter on a strike today and wound up with a 79, which forced him into tomorrow's playoff.

Big Guns in Playoff.

The five former champions competing in the tournament found a hard row to hoe, although three of them still have a chance in the playoff. Jess Sweetser, paired with Somerville, made a game effort today but it fell short. The champion of 1922 took a 79 yesterday and did it in 72 today for a 151, one too many for the playoff. Jess Guilford, winner in 1921, took another 76 for 152. The surviving trio, Chick Evans, Max Marston, and H. Chandler Egan, all will have to get up early for tomorrow's playoff, each finishing with 150.

Sidney Noyes Jr., former Yale star from Ardsley, N. Y., after taking a 78 yesterday and going out in 40 this afternoon, returned with a 31, the lowest nine of the tournament, to qualify with 149. He missed a short putt for a birdie on the 18th.

Leland Hamman, the Texas bantamweight, who made such a stir in this year's western amateur, also made a great try, but wound up with 156. Hamman had 79 in the first round and needed 45 to get around the first nine today, only to come back in 32.

Match Play Today.

The match play bracket will open tomorrow with two 18 hole rounds, the eight survivors meeting at 36 holes Thursday. The semi-finals Friday and the championship match on Saturday also will be 36 holes.

Chicago is certain of at least two representatives in the match play, and possibly four. Jack Westland, western amateur champion from Sunset Ridge, finished comfortably with 147, while Hunter Hicks of Bob o' Link, captain of last season's golf team at Dartmouth, shot a 73 today for 149. Chick Evans of Edgewater, and Ira Couch of Chicago Golf, still have a chance in the playoff, each finishing the 36 holes in 150.

The Early Birds.

The 12 who will play off for the remaining eight places in the match play include Marston, Egan, Evans, Couch, Dunlap, Maurice McCarthy, Cleveland, O.; Eddie Held, Jamesburg, N. J.; Nicol Thompson, Toronto, Ont.; Spencer Overton, Baltimore, Md.; Will Gunn Jr., Wallingford, Pa.; R. M. Grant, Hartford, Conn., and Chris Brinke, Newtown Square, Pa.

Fischer's round was nearly perfect. He reached the turn in 34, two under par. He was hammering the card relentlessly, matching par seven times and collecting birdies at the sixth and seventh. At the former he knocked a stroke off par by running down a 12 footer, and rammed one in from six feet at the seventh. Four more pars followed and then he came to costly grief for the first and last time when he wound up back of a tree with his tee shot and was forced to play safe coming out.

His Recoveries Are Great.

The wind bent his drive at the 244 yard 16th, but he got on with his second and sank a 15 foot putt for his par. His second shot to the 17th was trapped, but he escaped with his third, dropping the ball eight feet away for a putt which he sank for a birdie. His iron shot to the 18th struck the corner of the green and it appeared it might bounce off, but instead the backspin carried it in toward the pin, the ball stopping four feet from the cup. His putt for a 68 and a 140 trickled an inch by the cup.

SETS TRACK RECORD.

Topeka, Kas., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Emory Collins of Regina, Sask., automobile racer, set a new record today for the half mile dirt track at the Kansas free fair in 28 seconds, 1 second under the old mark.

Long Is Just Short Fellow on Good Time

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 12.—His name is Long but they've called him Shorty since he was in grade school. Until last night he was just a name—W. R. Long Jr. of Austin, Tex.—on the big scoreboard of the National Amateur golf tournament at the Kenwood Country club. But when he came in with a 72 to tie Johnny Goodman, Gus Moreland and Johnny Fischer for third place at the end of the first 18 holes the people in the press department began to get inquisitive.

Today they watched to see if he would crack on the first nine, but he didn't, knocking down a par 36. Then he added another 36 coming home for his second 72 of the tourney and a qualifying total of 144.

He Is a Shorty.

Shorty's consistency was all the more amazing when it was learned that it was the first national amateur in which he had competed. He attempted to make the big show last year, but failed. In the Texas elimination round of 1933, however, he tied Gus Moreland at 147.

The nickname Shorty fits him perfectly, for he scales 150 pounds and stands only 5 feet 6 inches. He's 29 years old and a graduate of the University of Texas, where his father retired recently as auditor. He began playing golf about eight years ago and competed with the university team. Last year he reached the final of the Texas state tournament, only to run into Moreland.

It's Just a Lark.

He is employed as a bank clerk in Austin, is married and has one son. When a Texas friend who hadn't seen him in years inquired how he had become so good at golf, Shorty replied, "Why, there's nothing to it. If you like a game, you just like it and play it, that's all."

BEARS BRUSH UP PASSING ATTACK FOR ALL-STARS

All the Backs Are Taught Pitching Tricks.

The Bears will have a powerful passing attack for Saturday's game with the Notre Dame All Stars, yesterday's practice at the Logan Square baseball park indicated.

Last year Bronko Nagurski was taught to throw passes and he is continuing this season as on aid to Red Grange, John Doehring, Keith Molesworth, and Carl Brumbaugh. In addition a fine passer is available in Gene Ronzani of Marquette, the new back field candidate.

Ronzani proved to Coach Halas' satisfaction in the game with Cicero last Sunday that he has a strong arm and a good eye for distance.

They'll Have to Watch Bronko.

With all of the backs able to pass, Halas will have something no other club in the circuit is believed to have. Last year every time Nagurski took the ball, during the early part of the season, it was a foregone conclusion that he was going to run with it. This year he will be in a position to cross up the opposition more frequently.

Bill Hewitt is a fixture at end, but the fate of Charles Malone, Texas A. and M.; Bob Gonya, Northwestern, and Bill Karr, West Virginia, is still to be decided. Tackwell is a capable wingman and a veteran who is likely to stay put, while Paul Franklin, who has recovered from the effects of an automobile accident, is another handy lad at end play.

STARS STRESS SPEED

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—One of the most intricate attacks ever used by a Notre Dame team is being planned for the Notre Dame All-Stars, who will meet the Chicago Bears at Soldiers' field Saturday afternoon. "We have to combat weight and experience with speed and deceptiveness," Heartly [Hunk] Anderson, coach of the All-Stars, said today.

His words were borne out in signal drills this morning and this afternoon in which the forward pass, lateral pass, and spinner and trick plays were used effectively.

Line Is Heavy Enough.

Very few of the regulation Notre Dame line plays are included in the répertoire of the All-Stars. The plays with which the Irish teams plug away at the line in an effort to shake loose a back field man will not be included. Instead, Anderson will rely on the line to hold long enough to get the light, speedy backs into the open for passes.

The line will average well over the 200 pound mark. Tommy Yarr at center was over 200 as a captain of the 1931 team. Jim Harris is slightly under 200. Frank Kerjes, Harris' running mate at right guard, weighs 207. Al Culver and Joe Kurth, both around 215 pounds, will play tackle.

New York, Sept. 12.—Trading in United States government bonds on the stock exchange today reached $1,853,000, the heaviest for a single day in more than a month. In the over-the-counter market, where the bulk of the trading in our government's issues is done, considerable activity also was reported.

Prices, however, which have been climbing steadily since the treasury's financing program for Sept. 15 was published last Friday morning, turned reactionary today, losing 1-32d to 8-32ds point; with the exceptions of the first and fourth liberty 4¼s, which were up 4-32ds and 6-32ds respectively.

See Redemption Postponed.

Heavy buying on the part of banks and corporations has been inspired by the failure of the treasury to make mention of plans for retiring the first liberty 4¼s in December. Many banks had held themselves in readiness for a major piece of treasury financing as of Sept. 15, so that the resultant rise in government bond prices has represented to some extent a releasing of pent-up demand. The next uncertainty, marketwise, is whether the treasury will elect to announce by Oct. 15 the calling of the $6,268,095,250 of fourth liberty 4¼s in whole or in part on April 15, 1934.

Other Bonds Rally.

The recovery in domestic corporation bonds extended today and to some extent leading foreign loans participated in the advance. The trading pace was more active on the recovery, the turnover approximating 10 million dollars. The maximum gains for the active domestic issues, however, did not amount to more than a point or two.

In the railroad group about the most strength was noted in the obligations of the Baltimore and Ohio, International-Great Northern, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, New York, Chicago and St. Louis, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, and Union Pacific.

Trading in the foreign loan group was enlivened by the rapid bidding up of the market for Dutch East Indies, French government and municipal, Swiss government, and City of Antwerp bonds.

Anchor Cap.

Investors' Guide: What does Anchor Cap manufacture? What information can you give me on it?—C. M.

Answer: Anchor Cap corporation manufactures metal and molded caps for containers, largely for the drug trade, jars, bottles, gaskets and sealing machinery. Its chief source of sales are packers, chain stores and food products companies.

Net profit for the first half of 1933 was $260,000, including a $7,000 credit on Canadian exchange fluctuation, or 69 cents per common share, against net profit, after $9,000 debit on Canadian exchange fluctuation, of $242,000, or 61 cents per common share, for the corresponding 1932 period. The improvement, slight as it was, was due to profit in foreign exchange.

Net income in 1932, before foreign exchange adjustments, was $379,000, or 76 cents per common share, about half of 1931 net income of $784,000, or $2.54 per common share.

On June 30, 1933, cash of $418,000 compared with total liabilities of $397,000. Current assets were $2,268,000. Working capital was $1,807,000, against $1,681,000 the year before.

At the end of August, 1933, President Stewart stated that business of the corporation so far in the current quarter was running ahead of that in the preceding quarter and in the corresponding quarter of 1932. "A good part of the business is in anticipation of higher prices and does not represent actual consumption," he said. "We are not accepting orders at present prices for future deliveries."

There is no funded debt. Capitalization consists of 31,718 shares of $6.50 no par preferred and 227,408 no par common shares. The common pays 15 cents a quarter.

Universal Trust Shares.

Investors' Guide: At present I receive only a very small return on my Universal Trust Shares bonds. The coupons call for a much higher rate than I now receive.—Mrs. N. B.

Answer: These investment trust shares are not bonds. They are certificates representing ownership in a group of underlying common stocks.

As originally set up there was a reserve fund amounting to 60 cents for each investment trust share. The purpose of this fund was to stabilize distributions on these shares, maintaining a fixed rate in the event dividend receipts on the underlying stocks fell short of expectations.

Dividend receipts did fall under expectations and the reserve fund was exhausted with the July 15, 1932, disbursement. Distributions now represent the prorata share of cash dividends, both regular and extra, on the underlying shares and proceeds of sale of all rights, stock dividends and split-ups, less the operating fee of 1-365th per cent of the liquidating value of the shares per day.

GRAINS DECLINE WHEN INFLATION TALK SUBSIDES

Early Upturn Reversed; Wheat Off Fraction.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Less talk was heard regarding prospective inflation yesterday and while the grain markets averaged higher early on scattered commission house buying, the finish was easy and at the inside levels of the day. December wheat sold up 1⅛ cent at the extreme and touched 89¼ cents but dropped to 87⅛ cents shortly before the close and finished at 87⅜ to 87⅛ cents. Net losses were ½ to 1 cent with May leading.

Corn was off 1 to 1⅜ cents with December closing at 50⅛ to 50⅝ cents. Oats were ¾ cent lower with December closing at 39⅛ cents. Rye was higher early but finished ⅞ to 1¼ cents lower with the December quoted at 72¼ cents. Barley was ⅛ to ⅝ cent lower with December at 54½ cents.

Minneapolis Market Watched.

Grain markets were rather easily influenced throughout the day and there was not the snap to the buying that was so much in evidence on Monday. Wheat traders paid considerable attention to the Minneapolis market, where mills were reported good buyers. There also was buying attributed to removal of hedges against grain destroyed in the elevator fire at St. Paul on Monday.

Talk prevailed of large flour sales having been put through in the northwest but the total was not given. However, the cash wheat situation was reported as gradually hardening, and in the last few days sales of 110,000 bushels of ordinary No. 1 hard winter have been made at Kansas City to mills at equal to 2 cents over Kansas City December delivery.

The movement to terminal markets from the country is small in the winter wheat area and out of total primary receipts of 983,000 bushels Minneapolis and Duluth received 747,000 bushels.

Crop Reports Disregarded.

The American and Canadian government reports on wheat, issued late Monday, failed to have any material effect either here or abroad. Winnipeg futures finished unchanged to ⅝ cents lower, with the close at the "pegged" prices. Liverpool was 1⅛ to 1⅜ cents higher, an advance in sterling having some effect in lifting prices. Buenos Aires was somewhat firmer despite reports of further rains in part of Argentina. The northern zone, which has been suffering from dry weather for five months, received the least precipitation.

Scattered reports were received yesterday from various parts of the corn belt indicating that considerable damage was being done to the new crop by the continued dry and hot weather.

Indications are that considerable Canadian rye will be shipped into the United States despite the import duty of 15 cents a bushel. Winnipeg messages reported good buying of the October delivery at 19¾ to 20 cents under the Chicago December option by shippers who were sending carlots of cash rye into the United States. Duluth reported 6 cars of Canadian rye received yesterday.

WOOL MARKETS

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—Full one-half of the 1933 domestic clip has moved into manufacturing channels, wool men said today. A cheerful sentiment not equaled in years was prevalent in the entire wool trade. The dealer was said to be making money, the mill owner saw profit ahead under the new code, clothing manufacturers were working overtime to fill orders, and retailers were clearing for delivery.

The following quotations are on grease basis for Ohio and similar wools:

HOME LOAN BANK REPORTS AUGUST PROFIT OF $25,385

$8,467,846 Paid Out at End of Month.

BY AL CHASE.

A substantial operating deficit has been wiped out and the Federal Home Loan bank of Evanston, has been established on a satisfactory earning basis, according to A. R. Gardner, executive vice president, who last night made public a financial statement of that institution. Although the first loan to a member institution was not made until January, 1933 [the bank opened for business Oct. 22, 1932], on Aug. 31 there were $8,467,846 in outstanding loans.

A. R. GARDNER. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

The operating statement shows a gross income of 34,230 for the month of August and a total of $139,186 since the bank has been in operation up to Aug. 31. The profit from operations for August was $25,385 and for the entire period, $68,369.

The total outstanding loans, amounting to $8,467,846, are divided as follows: short term, $144,500; one year, $6,240,196; ten years, $2,083,150.

Capital Goes to Work.

"There is every indication that the bank's initial capital of $15,000,000 will have been put to work in the home financing field in the states of Illinois and Wisconsin before the end of 1933," said Mr. Gardner.

He twice calls attention in his report to the rather common error of the public in confusing the Home Loan bank with the Home Owners' Loan corporation. He quotes President Roosevelt: "These two institutions work hand in hand—the corporation being transient and designed to relieve pressing and unusual needs and the bank being permanent and designed to make provisions for current and continuing needs."

And then he adds this comment of his own: "The clearing away of the wreckage and debris of unsound, reckless and dissolute finance is a tremendous undertaking. If business and industry are to be weaned away from the soft nipple of the nursing bottle of governmental relief and restored to private enterprise, it must be accomplished through mediums of a permanent character designed to attract, supplement and properly safeguard the investment of private capital rather than to supplant it with government funds.

A Permanent Institution.

"The Federal Home Loan bank system is such an agency and it should not be confused with the Home Owners Loan corporation, the Reconstruction Finance corporation and other similar temporary organizations whose activities and corporate existence are to cease with the passing of the present emergency."

William G. Donne, Illinois state manager for the Home Owners Loan corporation, also made public yesterday some figures regarding his organization. In the six weeks the Chicago office has been in operation more than 150,000 applications have been asked for by distressed home owners. The other seven branch offices in Illinois have distributed 50,000 applications.

More than 200 applications have been approved for loans by the Chicago office and in addition there are 16,000 applications now receiving final attention before being approved for loans.

COTTON RAISERS URGE INFLATION, MINIMUM PRICE

Columbuia, S. C., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Immediate currency "expansion," lifting of the processing tax on cotton, and other emergency steps to raise the price of cotton were urged by a massmeeting of farmers and agricultural leaders here today.

The assembly in a resolution also called upon the federal administration immediately to set a "minimum price for cotton of 15 cents per pound." It endorsed the tentative plan of Secretary Wallace for production control in 1934 and 1935 but urged it be put on a bale instead of an acreage basis. Production next year, under the resolution, would be limited to 9,000,000 bales and in 1935 "as may be determined by the secretary of agriculture."

The appointment of committees from all the cotton states to call upon President Roosevelt and urge immediate action was called for.

Home Owners Loan Bonds Binding on Corporation

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Attorney General Cummings, ruling on the validity of bonds of the Home Owners' Loan corporation, said he found the bonds "binding obligations" of the corporation. The opinion also said that "payment of interest on such bonds will be fully and unconditionally guaranteed by the United States, and that they will be tax exempt to the extent provided in the home owners' loan act of 1933."

Chicago Chapter of A. I. B. Opens Season of Courses

The Chicago chapter of the American Institute of Banking held its first meeting of the 1933-34 season at the Morrison hotel. Courses which will be offered to bank employés this season were explained to prospective students. The institute is the educational branch of the American Bankers' association.

ROOSEVELT ASKS INFLATION AWAIT RECOVERY TRIAL

Opposes Change in Money Asked by Harrison.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—Despite the urgent recommendation of Senator Harrison of Mississippi, chairman of the senate finance committee, for "rational inflation" of the currency to stimulate industrial activity President Roosevelt is still opposed to any new and radical financial policy until the recovery program has been thoroughly tested.

The attitude of the President became known after Senator Harrison, in making his recommendation during a conference with Mr. Roosevelt today, had reviewed the trend of recovery in the southern states and insisted that currency inflation should be entered upon without delay to prevent the slowing up of business. He said business is working with difficulty under the NRA program and it is hampered by lack of credit. The senator had previously expressed similar sentiments in Mississippi.

Confers with Law.

According to administration advisers President Roosevelt believes that inflation of the currency may not be necessary beyond the government buying government securities in the open market if the banks become more liberal as to loans. It is understood that he so informed F. M. Law, the new president of the American Bankers' association, who called on him today in company with Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the R. F. C. Mr. Law assured him that the bankers of the country were with the administration in its recovery program and intended to accord ample credit facilities to industrial borrowers.

In the meantime the government is studying plans to strengthen the credit structure. If it becomes apparent within the next week that the banks are not coöperating sufficiently with industry as to loans the government will act in a very deciding way, administration advisers say. Reports received at the White House today are to the effect that banks in certain sections of the country are loosening up on credit.

Harrison States Views.

After he had presented his currency inflation recommendations to the President Senator Harrison declined to indicate the former's reaction to the suggestion. He also would not say which form of currency inflation he had favored.

"I think that commodity prices have got to be increased and some rational inflation more than we are doing now must come about," he added. "I presented my views clearly and I am hopeful of seeing the administration act within a reasonable time. Controlled inflation would help the nation's banking structure and the farmers to market their crops. If I could direct things I would direct them along that channel."

WESTERN UNION REPORTS SHARP EARNINGS GAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 12.—With gross revenue in July about $1,200,000 in excess of that reported for the like 1932 period, the Western Union Telegraph company realized a net income of $714,540 after charges and taxes, whereas a year ago a deficit of $810,396 was incurred after similar deductions.

Operating profit for the month, after expenses and taxes, totaled $1,242,716, contrasted with an operating deficit of $281,382 for July, 1932.

With the addition of the July net income, the total earnings available for the capital stock for the first seven months aggregated $3,359,189, compared with a deficit of $945,041 for the corresponding period of 1932.

The net income of $3,359,189 for the first seven months of 1933 is equal to $3.21 a share on the capital stock, while in the like 1932 period the loss after charges was $945,041.

OIL OUTPUT OFF 29,450 BARRELS A DAY LAST WEEK

New York, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Daily average gross crude oil production in the United States decreased 29,450 barrels in the week ended Sept. 9, totaling 2,691,950 barrels, the American Petroleum institute's weekly summary said today. Daily average production east of California decreased 41,350 barrels to 2,179,850 barrels.

Refineries operated at 71.5 per cent of their capacity, with daily average runs of crude oil to stills at 2,367,000 barrels. In the preceding week refineries operated at 72.1 per cent and daily runs totaled 2,384,000 barrels.

Daily average cracked gasoline was 428,000 barrels, compared with 468,000 barrels in the preceding week. Imports of crude and refined oils at principal United States ports totaled 617,000 barrels, against 1,230,000 barrels.

U. S. STARTS TO EXPORT WHEAT UNDER SUBSIDY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—The agricultural adjustment administration announced its intention to subsidize the exportation of 30,000,000 to 35,000,000 bushels of stored wheat from the Pacific northwest and, if need be, to sustain a maximum loss of $7,000,000 in the process.

GEORGE PEEK.
[Acme Photo.]

The wheat will be sold in such world markets as can meet the contemplated price of from 15 to 20 cents below the domestic level. But it is expected that most of it will go to China, Japan, Ireland, Spain, Portugal, and the Philippines. All transactions are to be cleared through the North Pacific Export Equalization association to be set up under the plan. All having stored wheat in that area to sell will be free to participate.

Law Provides for Subsidy.

The $7,000,000 subsidization involved is to be undertaken in accordance with a provision of the agricultural adjustment act which was written into that document just prior to its passage at the last session of congress by George N. Peek, administrator-in-chief for the farm recovery program.

It is the chief aim of the new scheme to remove the burdensome wheat supplies now stored in the Pacific northwest, which recently have seriously threatened the price structure of inland markets. Removal of this threat would, therefore, tend to bolster wheat prices in the United States. At the same time domestic prices, as a whole, would be kept considerably above the world level.

Officials of the agricultural adjustment administration will leave Washington tomorrow for Portland, Ore., where a hearing on the plan has been scheduled for Friday.

Make Marketing Agreement.

The plan will be embodied in a "marketing agreement" with the newly established export association under the terms of the adjustment act.

"Primarily," said an announcement by the adjustment administration, "the agreement has been proposed in order to increase the return to Pacific northwest wheat producers, whose prices have been threatened by an acute surplus in that region.

"The agreement is also designed to help carry out the terms of the international wheat agreement whose purpose is to remove surpluses from the world market. The United States' export quota under the international agreement is 47,000,000 bushels.

"The agreement was submitted by Pacific northwest interests themselves. It provides for reimbursing exporters for the difference between the American domestic price paid to producers of wheat and the lower world price."

No Echo of Farm Board.

It was emphasized by officials of the administration that the position of the government under the new plan will bear no resemblance to that which it acquired through the stabilization operations of the now defunct farm board. In the present case, the government will only reimburse the export association for any losses it sustains in selling the wheat abroad for less than the cost to it of the supplies to be moved.

It is provided in the marketing agreement between the export association and Secretary Wallace that within 48 hours after proof of export has been furnished, the adjustment administration will reimburse exporters for any financial losses sustained in the transaction.

Funds for financing the surplus stocks are to be obtained from the 30 cent per bushel processing tax on flour milling, which went into effect several months ago. From each 30 cents received from this source, 2 cents is being earmarked "in order to provide a fund for removing burdensome surpluses."

N. Y. Marts to Close Early Today for NRA Holiday

New York, Sept. 12.—New York security and commodity markets will close at noon or shortly thereafter tomorrow in observance of Gov. Lehman's proclamation of a "Blue Eagle" half holiday. Banks will be open throughout the regular business hours.

Reveal Ways U. S. Capital Flees Abroad

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Washington authorities estimate that between 500 million and 1 billion dollars of American capital has fled this country since the abandonment of the gold standard last April.

Much of this money has gone to Great Britain. There it has become a great problem, according to Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, chairman of the United Kingdom delegation to the British commonwealth relations conference, who voiced his fears Monday night in Toronto.

The British are uneasy about their having on hand all this capital, which is volatile and may be withdrawn on short notice.

The influx of these funds, says Viscount Cecil, "appears to be actuated by a desire on the part of the depositors to find the safest place possible to house their assets."

This being the case, the Britishers fear, and probably justly so, that if the pound should begin to slip there would be a sudden withdrawal of these hundreds of millions of dollars of American funds.

Most of the American money that has fled abroad since last April is deposited in British banks. Another substantial portion is believed to have been invested in British securities.

A checkup among bankers discloses that Americans who desire to do so have little difficulty in shipping their funds abroad. Once transferred to London or Paris these funds can quickly be transferred into pounds or francs and either deposited in French or British banks or invested in the securities of those countries.

The Federal Reserve banks, at the direction of the treasury, are supposed to keep a close watch on the export of American capital and prevent the flight of capital from this country.

The administration, however, has been extremely lenient in enforcing these restrictions. An American determined to transfer his funds abroad has little difficulty in doing so.

There is no means by which the amount of capital exported can be measured, but it is believed that the largest part of the balances built up in London and Paris during the last few months represents the proceeds of goods exported by American corporations.

Normally exporters would collect the proceeds of their foreign sales in the currency of the importing nation, convert them into dollars and bring them back home. Recently, however, due to uncertainty about the dollar, many of them have not converted their sales into dollars but have either deposited the money abroad in francs or dollars or have converted it into gold for hoarding in the belief that as currencies slide downward the gold will appreciate.

An individual who has no goods to export could probably buy foreign balances from an exporter and have them transferred to his own account in a foreign bank.

Another way of sending capital abroad is believed to have been followed by many Americans traveling to Europe. They apply to their banks for foreign funds in excess of their travel requirements and use the extra money to build up balances abroad.

How much money is being taken abroad in this way bankers say there is no means of ascertaining. To prevent this type of capital export they say it would be necessary either to prevent foreign travel entirely or to send a federal agent with each traveler to check up on each dollar he spends. And in order to prevent exporters of goods from building up foreign balances it would be necessary to put a stop to all exports.

Meanwhile, the gyrations of currencies of the various nations in foreign exchange continue to hamper foreign trade and diminish tourish business.

Banks report that foreign travel, due to uncertainty of money relationships, is gradually drying up. Americans are reluctant to visit gold standard countries especially because their money buys 30 per cent less than it did while the United States was still on the gold standard.

Business men hesitate to make commitments over national frontiers because of the fear that what they make on their sales may be offset or more than offset by a sudden change in currency ratios.

"Foreign trade," says one banker, "is in the same difficulty as a town without a bank. There is a scarcity of adequate circulating medium and great uncertainty.

"The speculators make the quotations on exchange transactions, and these quotations change from day to day. Because gold is not permitted to pass frontiers currencies are just so much paper and nobody knows their true value."

Drying up of foreign travel and foreign trade is causing American banks to curtail their foreign branches. The Bankers Trust company of New York, it was learned yesterday, next week will give up its Paris office, the business to be taken over by J. P. Morgan & Co.

CALUMET AREA STEEL COMPANIES GET RAIL ORDERS

Officials of Calumet Steel companies yesterday announced receipt of a $1,100,000 steel rail order from the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad—said to be the largest order of its kind since 1929.

The Inland Steel company will roll 10,642 tons for the railroad, while the bulk of the remaining 16,200 tons will be rolled at the Gary works of the Illinois Steel company.

The Graver corporation also has announced receipt of an order for 750 tons of steel plate to be used by Hiram Walker & Sons of Walkerton, Canada, in the construction of a new distillery at Peoria, Ill. Steel for the plates will be made at the Indiana Harbor and Gary mills. The same company also has received a contract for 200 tons of steel for pontoons by the Great Lakes Dock and Dredge company.

Inflation Talk Sends Dollar to 70.21 Cents

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 12.—The idea that some kind of more vigorous inflation is in prospect for the United States within the next few months penetrated to Europe today with the result that the speculative element sold dollars for pounds, knocking the prop from under the American currency in the foreign exchange market.

The dollar fell into a tail spin, dropping from 71.79 cents at last night's close to 70.09 cents at today's opening in New York. This represented a decline of 1.7 cents overnight, the sharpest slump since the Saturday before Labor day. At the close the dollar was worth 70.21 cents in terms of French gold.

The rush of the speculative element and probably also of timid holders of capital was for sterling and away from both French francs and dollars. In consequence the price of sterling in London rose from 82.09 francs to the pound last night to 82.87 today.

Pound Advanced.

In terms of dollars the pound rose 4⅝ cents to $4.59 at the New York opening to $4.56¾ at the close.

The price of francs in our currency advanced more rapidly, for the reason that dollars were more heavily sold than francs. The franc price advanced overnight from 5.46 cents to 5.59¼ cents, up more than 13 points. It touched 5.60 cents and than wavered between that figure and 5.59 cents for a time, closing at 5.58 cents.

The feature of the market was its nervousness, resulting in swings of several points for the French franc between bids or offers. Both bids and offers were frequently withdrawn before a transaction could be made.

Trading Light.

The amounts bid for or offered were moderate in size, ranging mostly from £5,000 to $10,000 for sterling and around 250,000 in French francs. Speculation was on a moderate scale.

With the advance of sterling in relation to the gold currencies, the price of gold in London fell from 128 shillings 9½ pence yesterday to 127 shillings 7 pence today.

Owing to the weakness of the dollar in terms of gold the price of that metal here was set at $29.21 an ounce, up 11 cents from yesterday.

ICKES TO PROBE PRICE BOOSTS FOR GASOLINE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—Reports of increasing gasoline prices in various parts of the country, which have come to the attention of Secretary of the Interior Ickes, the oil code administrator, are to be promptly investigated by his office.

Secretary Ickes said today that if he found these prices were too high or that they were out of line with other oil prices, he would "do something about it." Just what the "something" will be, he did not disclose.

The problem is, to a considerable extent, one of differentials. It is now receiving the attention of the planning and coördinating committee set up under the code as the principal advisory agency to the administrator.

CHICAGOLAND CREDIT SITUATION IMPROVES; OLD DEBTS BEING PAID

J. F. O'Keefe, secretary of the Chicago Association of Credit Men, announced yesterday on the basis of a survey that the credit situation in the Chicago territory has greatly improved.

The examination into credit conditions involving Chicago manufacturers and jobbing houses was made by M. E. Stern, manager of the collection division of the association. Mr. Stern interviewed a cross section of 300 of the 1,500 members operating major businesses in the metropolitan area.

His findings were that "many large and small claims which have been hanging fire for months and years have been cleaned up; that there is a tendency on the part of debtors to pay up; and that many old accounts have been marked 'paid in full' when, a few months ago, a partial payment was not even expected."

Mr. Stern added that "nationally there is far less resistance to collections than at any time during the last three years. Everywhere the ratio of collections has spurted. During the traditionally 'tough' month of August far more cash was available than the 72 collection divisions of the National Association of Credit Men had thought possible."

AUGUST BUSINESS OF DEPARTMENT STORES IN GAIN

Chicago Area Sales Rise Sharply.

The value of department store sales for the twelve federal reserve districts for August, 1933, was not only considerably in excess of their value in the like month of last year, but increased over value in July by more than the estimated seasonal amount, according to preliminary figures released by the federal reserve board.

Chicago department stores, participating in the benefits of purchases by World's Fair visitors, showed an exceptionally high recovery, gaining an estimated 30 per cent in August over August of last year on the basis of incomplete figures. Federal reserve reports show that the Chicago stores, running against seasonal trend, gained 8.5 per cent in July over the previous year and 0.5 per cent in June.

Department stores in the entire seventh federal reserve district in which Chicago is located, gained 21 per cent for August over the preceding year. This 21 per cent gain is in contrast with a 1 per cent loss in July.

Value of Sales Rises.

The board's index which takes into account both the number of business days and the seasonal changes, was 75 in August, 1933, against 71 in July and 68 in June, on the basis of the 1923-1925 average as 100.

The value of sales for August was 16 per cent larger than that in August, 1932, according to the preliminary statistics. Conversely, the aggregate for the first eight months of the year was 10 per cent less than in the corresponding period of 1932. The figures are based on the reports of 456 stores in 214 cities of the country.

The department store sales in all twelve of the districts showed gains for August in comparison with sales in August, 1932, ranging from 2 per cent for the San Francisco federal reserve district to 42 per cent for the Cleveland. On the other hand, all the districts showed decreases for the eight months' period amounting to 4 per cent, the smallest, in the case of Dallas, and to 13 per cent, the largest, in the case of Boston.

| District— | Per cent increase. | Stores. | Cities. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Boston | 16 | 50 | 26 |
| New York | 9 | 55 | 26 |
| Philadelphia | 17 | 35 | 15 |
| Cleveland | 42 | 33 | 12 |
| Richmond | 22 | 49 | 20 |
| Atlanta | 25 | 20 | 15 |
| Chicago | 21 | 58 | 29 |
| Minneapolis | 12 | 16 | 11 |
| St. Louis | 23 | 20 | 10 |
| Kansas City | 21 | 24 | 14 |
| Dallas | 29 | 25 | 10 |
| San Francisco | 2 | 71 | 26 |
| Total | 16 | 456 | 214 |

Department store sales in the Chicago district declined 10 per cent for the period Jan. 1 to Aug. 31.

RICHMAN BROS. BOOST MINIMUM PAY ABOVE NRA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., Sept. 12.—The Richman Brothers' company, clothing manufacturers, has gone the NRA regulations one better by raising the minimum wage above the figure set by the industry.

The company has established a minimum of $16 a week, compared with $14.50 established for the industry, and has raised piecework and hourly rates by 10 per cent. The company has readjusted its 44 hour week to conform with the new 36 hour schedule, but is temporarily working on a 40 hour emergency schedule.

U. S. Asks Easy Credit, Curbs Security Sales

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 12.—Inconsistency of a federal policy of encouraging banks to be more liberal in the extension of short term credits to business and at the same time preventing another branch of banking from financing the normal requirements for long term loans through the securities act was pointed out today by Col. Allan M. Pope, former president of the Investment Bankers association. He spoke before the annual convention of the Financial Advertisers' association.

"The securities act of 1933," Col. Pope said, "placed upon all long term borrowers such drastic requirements that the officers, directors, and even the stockholders of those public utilities and industries that desired to borrow are subjected to the definite possibility of lawsuits, which they may have to defend at great cost, very possibly on matters beyond their knowledge, very possibly on matters technically allowed by the securities act.

Long Term Borrowing Stopped.

"The result, since the passage of the act, is that no long term borrower has been willing to apply for registration with the federal trade commission for authority to issue any loan which is proper for an investment banker to underwrite with the possible exception of a small number of authorizations applied for by investment trusts.

"In other words, public utilities, commercial and industrial concerns now offer no securities to the public through underwriters. No necessary refunding of maturing obligations can be accomplished. If this keeps up great numbers of defaults and bankruptcies are bound to occur. No new long term money for capital requirements is being obtained by industries today except for generally speculative enterprises."

Wants Commission Sales Barred.

Abandonment of the practice of distributing securities through salesmen working on a commission basis was urged by Col. Pope. This revolutionary step was proposed to restore the confidence of the public in the "real value to it of the retail investment banker."

Col. Pope upheld the American method of distribution of securities through investment bankers and declared the British system, so often proposed for substitution here, could not possibly work.

The difficulties placed in the way of investment bankers by the securities act were also discussed by Robert E. Christie Jr. of Dillon, Read & Co., nominee for president of the association for the coming year. He pointed out that the commercial banker finances the current business of the country.

N. Y. EXCHANGE ASKED TO MOVE TO NEW JERSEY

Newark, N. J., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Reiterating his invitation to the New York Stock Exchange to locate in this city, Mayor Ellenstein today said Newark is ready to present inviting inducements to the exchange to accept the invitation.

In Trenton former Gov. E. C. Stocks, hailing the possibility that the exchange might move to New Jersey, urged action by the state chamber of commerce to aid bringing this about.

Senate President Emerson L. Richards offered the use of the Atlantic City convention hall without charge until such time as the exchange could provide other quarters. He asserted there would be no stock transfer tax levied similar to that proposed in New York City.

Marshall Field & Co. Appeal Court Tax Decision

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Marshall Field & Co., Chicago merchants, today filed with the Illinois Supreme court an appeal from the decision of the Cook county court upholding increased 1930 tax assessments on its Merchandise Mart property. The company paid $55,501 and appealed the balance of the $305,572 tax bill on the increased assessed valuation.

AIDS OF R. F. C. SEEK TRUSTEE FOR C.&E.I. ROAD

Act to Safeguard U. S. Interests.

Representatives of the Reconstruction Finance corporation went into the Federal court yesterday to take steps to protect the corporation's interests as a creditor of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railway company, now in voluntary bankruptcy.

Appearing before Judge John P. Barnes, Attorney C. W. Clay of Washington requested the appointment of Kenneth F. Burgess, a New York attorney, as an "impartial trustee" of the road. He also asked that all outstanding contracts of the C. & E. I. be reviewed by this trustee and further that he immediately formulate and present a plan of reorganization.

The C. & E. I., controlled through stock ownership by the Van Sweringen interests of Cleveland, took advantage of an opportunity last April to enter bankruptcy under the new law which permits operation to continue without the appointment of a receiver. Charles T. O'Neal, who was appointed president in 1931, continues to head the company and to operate it.

Owes R. F. C. $5,000,000.

First pointing out that the road owes the R. F. C. more than $5,000,000, secured by the deposit of $8,000,000 of its prior lien bonds, Mr. Clay averred that O'Neal, as an associate of the Van Sweringens, was not a proper person to plan a reorganization. Such a reorganization, if the interests of bondholders as well as stockholders are to be cared for, should be made by an impartial person, the attorney held.

His review of the financial situation of the road showed that it had outstanding $12,000,000 of prior lien bonds, $34,000,000 of general mortgage bonds and $45,000,000 of preferred and common stocks [$100 par]. Fixed charges, he added, had not been earned in any of the last three years, largely due to the loss of coal tonnage from southern Illinois. Also, Mr. Clay said, the C. & E. I. has extremely high charges and low earnings.

Attorney W. H. Lyford, representing the railroad, objected to the appointment of a trustee. There was no objection, he said, to a review of the contracts by the court, nor to a reorganization plan being proposed, although such a reorganization at this time was manifestly unwise.

Pays Charge Up to May.

"We paid all interest charges on the fixed debt up to May, 1933," he continued, "when there was a default in the payments due on the general mortgage bonds. We suffer from general conditions and a loss of traffic. If the average earnings of this road in the last three years had been up to the average earnings for the ten years prior to 1931, there would have been enough, with operating expense what it is now, to pay all fixed charges, 6 per cent on the preferred and 15 per cent on the common."

Judge Barnes took the matter under advisement, informing the attorneys that he probably would announce his decision in a few days.

Loan Is Opposed.

It was recalled after the hearing that when the C. & E. I. went to the R. F. C. last October for the last loan, carrying the total up to $5,840,000 from the government corporation, Commissioner Charles D. Mahaffie of the interstate commerce commission objected. In view of the failure to earn charges since 1929, he said: "It seems clear that attempts to support it by further borrowing are futile and only postpone the time when a reorganization and scaling of fixed charges will be essential." The majority of the I. C. C. approved the loan, however.

The C. & E. I. operating deficit in 1932 was $3,767,000, and in 1931 was $3,957,000. Another Van Sweringen road in bankruptcy under the new law is the Missouri Pacific.

USERS OF GOLD FORCE TREASURY TO RELAX RULES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—Forced by protests from industrial users of gold to revise its regulations, the treasury department today further relaxed its control over sales and exports of gold. One of the revisions permits practically free trading in gold scrap.

Gold which has been fabricated and become scrap may be sold without license by any one to any licensed purchaser of the precious metal, but to no one else, the treasury ruled. These sales need not be conducted at the official gold price which the treasury is setting every day, according to the revised ruling, but the price may be determined by buyer and seller.

This relaxation was forced by dentists, jewelers, and other artisans, who have been forced to pay the relatively high world price for gold since the treasury began quoting an official American price based on world quotations.

While the treasury announced its revised rules the official price of gold, as quoted by the treasury, recovered slightly. It advanced from $29.10 an ounce yesterday to $29.21 an ounce today.

Seat Prices on Exchange Here Advance

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The price of seats on the Chicago Stock Exchange advanced sharply yesterday as news was received that New York City had voted to impose further heavy taxes on its already tax laden stock brokerage business.

Brokers here were confident that the action of the New York board of estimates will cause the rerouting of much business that formerly was executed on the New York exchange to the Chicago market. Definite evidence of this was seen in the number of inquiries received yesterday from New York about Chicago exchange seats.

One membership was sold at $6,500, an advance of $1,000 over the previous sale price last week. The inquiries from the east were the most active in several months.

There are 50 stocks, including some of the most important of the nation's industrial shares, which are now listed on both the New York and Chicago exchanges. By executing transactions in these issues through the Chicago exchange, traders will escape the onerous taxes imposed in New York.

To Aid Trade Here.

It is believed that other companies seeking to dodge the heavy taxes on transfers of their securities will seek to list their issues on the Chicago exchange.

The latest New York tax imposition will give substantial impetus to the revival in trading here of shares listed i nboth markets, it is predicted in financial quarters.

Under the new tax in New York there will be a total tax of 11 to 13 cents a share on stock sold, varying according to the value of the stock. The federal government collects 4 to 5 cents a share; the state of New York exacts 3 to 4 cents a share and the city now will take 4 cents a share. The only transfer tax in Chicago is the federal tax.

Conditions Grow Worse.

Conditions in New York have become steadily worse for the stock exchange. As the popular symbol of "big money" it has been the target in turn of every tax collecting agency, federal, state, and local.

In addition to the new transfer tax the stock brokerage firms were also saddled with a 5 per cent gross income tax. In Illinois and Chicago, where retrenchment has been started by the tax spending agencies, no such burdens have been imposed on the legitimate security business.

Listed in Both Cities.

Company—
American Telephone and Telegraph.
Associated Apparel Industries.
Auburn Automobile.
Beatrice Creamery.
Bendix Aviation.
Borg-Warner.

It is in these securities that the effect of the latest tax will be shown. The Chicago market is expected to get much of the business now executed through New York.

Assets of Lumbermen's Mutual Reported in Gain

Assets of the Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty company of Chicago increased more than 9.2 per cent, and cash surplus more than 16.5 per cent during the year ending June 30, 1933, James S. Kemper, president, reported before the semi-annual meeting of the directors and advisory board. During July and August the company has benefited from the marked improvement in casualty insurance, with premium gains averaging more than 15 per cent above the corresponding period of 1932, Mr. Kemper said.

NEW YORK JAMS ON NEW TAXES TO MEET COSTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 12.—Tammany jammed its new tax levies through the board of estimate today, despite protests from business interests, brokers, bankers, and insurance companies.

SAMUEL UNTERMYER.

The new levies are designed to raise in excess of $25,000,000 to provide money for unemployment relief and running expenses of the city and to avert municipal bankruptcy. Wall street bankers had shut down on city loans and the state treasurer had advanced $5,000,000 to tide the city over.

Today's action by the board of estimate, under prodding of Tammany hall, Mayor John P. O'Brien and Samuel Untermyer, is expected to pave the way for further bank loans. It is admitted, however, that another day of reckoning is coming after the fall election, when other short term debts become due.

Basis for New Taxes.

The tax bills adopted were:

A 5 per cent tax on the gross profits of all persons and corporations buying or selling stock market securities; estimated yield $5,000,000.

A 1½ per cent tax on the profits of all public utility companies in the city from customers within city limits; estimated yield, $8,300,000.

A tax of one-quarter of one per cent on the value of investments of all savings banks and life insurance companies having principal offices in the city and incorporated under New York state, to yield $6,400,000.

A stock transfer tax of 4 cents a share on each share transferred, limited to residents of this city only; estimated yield, $5,000,000.

Two Proposals Amended.

The tax on brokers and utility companies was amended to lay the levy on gross profits instead of gross receipts. Mr. Untermyer insisted the amendment makes no effective alteration in his program.

The insurance companies and savings banks won, through an amendment, exemption from their assets listed as taxable such city, state, and federal bonds as are exempt from other taxes.

The program was passed after a reading of an emergency message by Mayor O'Brien, the effect of which is to eliminate the seven day period normally elapsing before the board of aldermen, as the lower house of the municipal assembly, takes up consideration of the bills.

Mayor Supports Program.

In an address to the board of estimate urging favorable consideration of the Untermyer plan, the mayor announced his support of the bills, "regardless of possible retaliation at the ballot box," and vehemently called the attention of the members to their purpose—the relief of unemployment.

The city administration turned to new taxes only after Wall street bankers had shut off further short term loans, unless city expenses were cut and new revenue provided. There has been no cut in expenditures, but the Tammany administration appears to think it will get bank loans without impairment of the city's credit.

STOCKS RECEDE AS PROFIT LURE GUIDES TRADERS

Early Gains Wiped Out; Trading Expands.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 12.—Stocks had enough momentum left over from the previous day's rise to get through the first hour of trading today, but after that sellers were too numerous and the inevitable sag in prices set in. During the last hour the leading stocks sloughed off to the tune of from one to two points below Monday's high closings. The turnover exceeded 2,000,000 shares for the first day this month.

Profit taking centered largely in yesterday's favorites, such as U. S. Steel, N. Y. Central, American Telephone, and Chrysler. All of these closed off from one to two points, except American Telephone, which managed to keep an even keel.

Chrysler Loses Early Gain.

Chrysler was a feature of the motor group, crossing 50 for the first time this year, but closing at 48¼. General Motors pushed ahead on large sales and touched a new high for the year of 35⅝, but was caught with the others in late trading and closed at 34¼.

Rail shares as a group made an impressive showing, even during the early morning rally.

National Distillers and other alcohol stocks experienced the usual profit taking that usually has followed another favorable state vote on repeal. Oil shares were higher during a part of the day and some of the other groups managed to keep up.

Weakness in dollars continued to support the inflationary side of speculation, but not too much was made of it. There is little question but that the dollar and the pound sterling are being allowed to depreciate, and that the franc is being put under pressure as a consequence.

Inflation Moves Awaited.

The markets seemed to sense that significant moves in connection with the administration's financial policies were under discussion in conferences between President Roosevelt and his advisors at Washington. Fragmentary accounts of what was going on behind the scenes pointed to intensified effort to expand credit. However, currency inflation talk continued rife.

Wall street assumed the results of the discussions going on in Washington would be disclosed soon and that they would furnish stimulus for markets. Senator Harrison's announcement that he had urged a plan of "rational inflation" in a talk with President Roosevelt was accepted as an indication of the character, at least, of the topics under discussion.

Meanwhile, trade news presented a mixed picture. Bulls derived considerable encouragement from retail trade reports.

New York Employment Gains.

New York state's survey of employment and pay rolls for July 15 to Aug. 15, showed the best gain for the period since it began to compile statistics in 1914. Employment increased more than 6 per cent, the fifth consecutive month of the gain.

Retail buying of automobiles in anticipation of higher prices holds up impressively, so that September production is expected to make a substantial contra-seasonal advance.

On the other hand, NRA prospects were clouded by increasing labor unrest. The threat of a nation-wide soft coal strike was disturbing, considering the ramifications such trouble would have in steel and other industries.

BUTTER AND EGGS HIGHER

Talk of inflation helped butter and egg futures to a firmer close on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday, butter gaining ⅛@⅝c and eggs ¼c. The fact that the monthly cold storage estimate was issued after the close caused some waiting. Daily butter news remained less favorable, the four markets storing 576,000 lbs more than last year. The movement of eggs was fairly heavy, totaling 1,180 cases more than last year. New buying was somewhat improved in both markets, but selling was nearly as heavy. Sales: Butter, 78 cars; eggs, 162 cars. Prices follow:

RAILWAY TRAFFIC DECLINES OWING TO LABOR DAY

Further Increase in Coal Shipments Seen.

Railroad traffic dipped sharply last week as the result of the curtailment in industry arising from the observance of the Labor day holiday. At the same time individual reports suggest that the percentage gain over last year was not maintained at the rate prevailing in the immediately preceding weeks, reflecting, it is indicated, the less than normal traffic slump in the Labor Day week of 1932.

At the same time, preliminary statements reflect a further substantial increase in coal shipments last week, with the possibility that inclusion of the total tonnage may considerably influence the total comparative results for the week.

In all instances, loadings of the individual carriers were down sharply last week, but except in one or two isolated cases the totals were well above 1932.

Heavy Coal Loadings.

Reflecting the heavy coal movement loadings of the Lehigh Valley in the week of Sept. 9 were 25 per cent above those of the like 1932 period, whereas total loadings of all carriers have been running considerably less than 20 per cent above last year's aggregate.

Traffic of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific maintained a fair increase over 1932, the total for the last week amounting to 21,351 cars, against 25,256 in the preceding week, and 20,593 in the like 1932 period.

In the case of the Chicago and North Western, loadings for the week of Sept. 9 aggregated 20,425 cars, compared with 23,011 in the preceding week, and 19,979 in the corresponding week of last year.

Loadings of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy were also above 1932, totaling 20,356, compared with 21,961 in the preceding week, and 19,351 for the like 1932 period.

Wabash Handles 10,664 Cars.

The Wabash handled a total of 10,664 revenue cars last week, compared with 12,165 in the preceding week, and 10,045 in the like 1932 period. A total of 3,709 cars were handled by the Pere Marquette, a gain of 11.7 per cent over 1932, while in the preceding week the loadings of 4,392 were 19.6 per cent over 1932.

TOP HOGS REACH HIGHEST PRICE SINCE AUGUST 10

Market Improves as New U.S. Rules Go Into Effect.

The market for hogs improved yesterday as stringent rules slackened the flow of government pigs to most of the leading points. Following a comparatively slow and steady to 10 cents higher opening, gains of from 10 to 15 cents were scored, boosting the general average for the day to $4.05. This was the first time the price has been above the $4.00 line in more than four weeks.

Good action characterized the market on final rounds when some of the principal buyers found they were unable to fill orders. Quality was plainer than usual for a Tuesday and bigger premiums were being offered for the better grades of swine, some sales of "stick out" quality appearing out of line at times, particularly in the top classes of 240 to 300 pound butchers.

Highest Price Since Aug. 10.

Tops reached $4.65, the highest price paid for hogs since Aug. 10. The top has been up to $5.00 only once since June 3. The lowest daily top during this period was $4.25. During the corresponding period in 1932 daily top hog prices at Chicago fluctuated within a range of $3.40 to $5.55. The supply of market hogs at leading points this week, exclusive of pigs intended for the government, was about the same as a week ago, but heavier than in 1932 and 1931. During the first two days the eleven markets handled 164,000 commercial hogs, against 165,000 Monday and Tuesday of last week, 138,000 a year ago, and 120,000 two years ago.

Government pigs at the 20 leading markets yesterday dropped to 86,000. This total compared with 160,000 Tuesday of last week when supplies were overflowing the tanking capacity of the packers. Arrivals of pigs at Chicago at 27,000 were 2,000 beyond what the stockyards committee had issued orders for and this number was augmented by 10,000 nonpermit pigs carried over from the preceding session.

Packers to Take Pigs.

Special provisions were made yesterday to take care of as many as possible to keep them from coming on the open market. Packers were authorized to handle as many of the nonpermit pigs as they could, above their regular daily quota. It is hoped that most of the surplus pigs will be out of the way tonight.

Thus far, the 20 markets have slaughtered 2,500,000 pigs for the account of the government, but no reliable up to date figures were available from the other 63 places killing pigs. Some are estimating the total for the country close to 3,000,000.

Cattle Receipts Heavy.

Cattle receipts continued heavy yesterday and prices were steady to slightly lower, the majority of the steers selling within the range of $5.25 to $6.00 selling at shade discounts most of the day. Top sales were unchanged at $6.90, prime 1,512 pound beeves going to Sturtevant & Haley, a Boston concern, at this figure. Cattle are selling from 50 to 75 cents above the low point of the season and from 50 cents to $1.00 under the 1933 high day. At the high point of the year in May and June top steers were up to $7.60. Equal quality sold down to $6.25 in February and again in April.

The recent break in the lamb market curtailed the marketward movement from nearby farms and also stopped some of the incoming westerns at feed lots. Yesterday's arrivals were short of requirements and prices ruled strong to 25 cents higher, with larger local packers leading the buying. Both natives and westerns reached the $7.75 top.

STATE BANKERS VOTE APPROVAL OF DEPOSIT PLAN

Deposit Guarantees Are Favored.

State bank supervisors in convention here yesterday voted approval of the "$2,500 emergency formula" of the federal bank deposit insurance and named a committee to urge upon Washington authorities that state non-reserve member banks be given an even break in the administration of the legislation.

Endorsement of the emergency deposit guaranty—which was condemned here last week by the American Bankers association—was voted by the state bank supervisors following a vigorous defense of the legislation by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan. The junior senator from Michigan asserted that it was ridiculous to compare the proposed federal guarantee of bank deposits with the insurance experiments tried unsuccessfully in several states.

Raps Guaranty Plan.

The senator's espousal of the guaranty measure brought an answer from H. W. Koeneke of Kansas where the scheme was tested with dismal results.

Koeneke declared that 96 per cent of the state banks in Kansas have agreed not to go in under the federal insurance plan.

"You cannot by law insure good management," the Kansan asserted. "As long as human activity is subject to the ills of human frailty you cannot force its efficiency by mere legislation."

Vandenberg told the commissioners that he was sure the national administration would coöperate with the state authorities in seeing to it that nonmember state banks are given a fair chance to qualify. There is no reason to believe, he asserted, that the administration will insist on the "suicidal yardstick of liquidity which precipitated so much of the trouble last spring."

Lauds Federal Plan.

Comparing the federal guaranty with the state experiments, Senator Vandenberg said that the latter contained the seeds of their own destruction.

"The state guarantees involved purely localized risks which thus geographically invited the collapse. Federal guarantee insurance on the other hand faithfully reflects the cardinal principal of diffused risks which is the time honored reliance of all sound insurance in other fields."

He characterized as a "horrible mistake" the action of the A. B. A. in condemning the insurance plan when it knew that the plan was to be carried out.

HAND OF UNCLE SAM OBSERVED IN BUTTER MART

Traders Discuss Heavy Mystery Purchases.

BY PAUL POTTER.

The shadow of persistent and concentrated buying to stabilize prices of butter yesterday crept over the trading activities on the Chicago and New York Mercantile exchanges. The buying brought back memories of the federal farm board's activities in wheat and cotton to a trade which in those days sat by without federal interference.

The futures trading prices advanced on the butter market here ⅛ to ⅝ cents a pound, a rise of two days in a row being recorded in the face of an official government report that butter stocks in storage on Sept. 1 were the highest on record. Storage stocks, the government announced, were 175,187,000 pounds the first of the month, compared with 107,259,000 pounds a year ago and a five year average of 132,031,000 pounds.

Realize What Is Happening.

Traders in the nation's butter markets, where prices are set for the basic commodity of the dairy industry, the largest source of farm income, all seemed to realize what was taking place. When supply is greatest and demand light, except for the buying of two firms, and these in large amounts, there could be only one source of the optimism, they said. That source was two coöperative marketing agencies which have recently been given a liberal line of credit by the federal government through the AAA.

There were some traders who expressed doubt that the government could be again attempting to finance the purchase of large stocks of a farm commodity as the means of aiding farmers. They pointed out that Secretary of Agriculture Wallace had recently stated he could not approve a price boosting plan for the dairy industry unless it included some provision for controlling production.

Buys for Coöperative.

Yet the commission firm in Chicago doing the heavy buying declared its purchases were for the account of a large coöperative. The coöperative, it develops, is the Land o' Lakes Creameries of St. Paul, whose sales manager appeared in Chicago this week to announce to the butter world that his concern was buying heavily and that the butter would be sold "through our extensive contacts with public relief agencies."

In New York another firm was a consistent bull the last two days for another coöperative managed by Paul Betz, manager of the Farmers' Union Equity association. Traders declared no such persistent buying could be done without some understanding that the government could finance such a risky venture at this time.

The egg market, too, has held firm the last few days in the face of mounting reserve stocks, although no finger could be laid upon an agency for Uncle Sam which might be operating on the bull side. The government report issued yesterday showed egg stocks in storage Sept. 1 to be 8,941,000 cases, compared with 5,960,000 cases a year ago and a five year average of 8,768,000 cases. Egg futures advanced fractionally yesterday.

Seek Cheese Code.

Meanwhile leading cheese coöperatives' representatives were meeting at Madison, Wis., with appointees of Gov. A. G. Schmedeman in an attempt to establish a code for the cheese industry that would better prices and fix some means of controlling production. The American cheese industry has set up a code which yesterday was attacked by makers of Swiss and brick cheese. Secretary Wallace has told the cheese industry he wants one code for the entire industry.

American cheese stocks in storage Sept. 1 announced yesterday were 94,385,000 pounds, compared with 66,721,000 pounds a year ago and a five year average of 82,004,000 pounds.

U. S. DENIES MILLERS FLOUR INCREASE TO OFFSET PROCESS TAX

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—Milling companies and jobbers who have contracted to deliver flour to the federal government at a stated price will be granted no additional allowance for the processing tax the government is now making them pay, Controller General J. R. McCarl ruled today.

The Colorado Milling and Elevator company of Denver sought to charge the department of justice an additional $524.37 for 380 barrels of flour because of the processing tax it was being forced to pay. The controller general turned down the request.

The decision was in line with previous opinions from the controller's office. He has refused to allow manufacturers to increase government contracts in order to cover higher costs under the NRA or under other taxes imposed by the last session of congress.

As grounds for refusing the request of the milling company, McCarl declared that there are no appropriations under which the government has the right to pay out money for processing tax charges. He added that the contract between the milling company and the department of justice set a definite price of $3 a barrel which was binding on the company.

"The rule of statutory interpretation is that sovereign, as the law-maker, is not bound by the terms of statutes undess the law expressly so provides," McCarl explained.

Refined was unchanged. Refiners listed at 4.70c and second hands were offered at 4.60 to 4.65c. A fair withdrawal demand was reported but new business was moderate.

LARD IS STRONG

Buying of December and January lard generally attributed to short covering caused an advance of as much as 20 cents per 100 pounds, but packers sold freely on the advance, and the close was around the lowest levels of the day, with prices 5 cents lower to 5 cents higher, the latter on January. Bellies were unchanged to 2½ cents higher.

Cash demand was reported as fairly good. Cash lard was unchanged at $5.52, while loose was 5 cents lower at $4.85 and leaf was steady at $4.87½, while cash bellies were 25 cents lower at $5.50. Hog prices were sharply higher. This had some effect on cured product for a time.

COTTON IS HIGHER

There was no material pressure on the cotton market early yesterday and prices advanced around 15 points, with trade and commission house buying. However, southern hedging pressure increased toward the last and prices receded gradually to close around the inside figures of the day, with futures off 4 to 10 points in Chicago. New York was unchanged to 4 points higher and New Orleans unchanaged to 2 points lower. Spots were steady, with New York at 9.05 cents, New Orleans 8.75 cents, Galveston 8.65 cents, and Houston 8.75 cents. Liverpool closed 7 to 8 points higher.

WANTED—MALE HELP.

Miscellaneous.

IMMEDIATE EMPLOYMENT!

Draw a red ring around Wednesday, Sept. 13—at 2 p. m.—NO OTHER TIME—because a few men will be selected for something both profitable and permanent that exacts no money of them, but does demand faithful work and intelligent effort. These men will join many others who are from all trades, business lines, and professions, and are making good in this business.

We wish men like S. T., who came into this business some months ago, after years of department store experience, but with determination to master this line. At first Mr. T. started out modestly, but gradually he gained headway. You may start as he did—not expecting too much but willing to give the best in you. Finally Mr. T. reached a point where in 10 days he made $345.00. That is mighty fine money, especially when you KNOW that you are going to GET it—not at some distant date, but as you earn it!

There is room, also, for other men like T. L., who was a mechanic for years, and a good one, but wholly unfamiliar with this business. For some time he did not average better than $200.00 a month, but finally he began to increase, and he has had many $500.00 to $600.00 months in the last two years. He and his family demanded a certain standard of living, good autos, and the better things, and here was a business in which those things and a surplus could be earned. Perhaps YOU have all that he has. You might have MORE. Neither you nor we can tell till you TRY—in a SUSTAINED manner.

Ordinarily we invite only men from 26 to 47, but here is a man past 65—H. A. W. He makes a very fine living in this business, and we ask where a man of his years could hope to find equal independence in any other line. T. P. operated motor cars on the gold coast some years ago when fees were high and tips generous. He has had numerous $100 plus weeks here in the last two months, and will have still better ones. C. G. was a salesman formerly, and while he got a very good start in this work, it was some time before he began to click into big money as we taught him. Today he also has $110.00 to $135.00 weeks.

We might continue to point out examples but the important fact is that if you have the few sterling qualities required in this business, and if we believe you can do it as well as it should be done, there is a place here for you. H. H., an engineer who was employed on the surveys of some of Chicago's great modern bridges, did not think he liked this business after a start of two or three weeks, but he soon came back into it, and has had $72.00 days, and $140.00 weeks many times. You will have to get the hang of it as he did [and he will help you do it] and then you ought to succeed the way he does. But you can make a living income from the start.

We are now doing our biggest 1933 business, and this is our fourth consecutive record sales year. Our opportunity grows daily. We have 31 men right here whom we style "old-timers," who have been with us approximately one to seven years. It means independence to them. So will it mean independence to YOU. There are men nationally in this work, who are making multiple-thousands yearly, who own homes, and all else that is desirable—and who have never tasted one drop of the bitter dregs of depression—men who lost their jobs when the first crash came about four years ago, and made good at once with us!

There is room here for men who want something not affected by seasons—not a fad—not questionable, but sound, growing, dependable in every sense of the word. IF YOU believe you are one of these men, have a few good character references, preferably live at home, and are a real worker, then you are invited to call at the time first stated in this announcement—2:00 p. m. ONLY. Wed. Sept. 13—Room 215 at 1046 Wilson-av. My name is John H. Wright, and both Mr. "H. H." and I will talk to you. Be here on time, please!

FOR WEST SUBURBAN MEN!

If you live in Oak Park, River Forest, Forest Park, Glen Ellyn, Elmhurst, Maywood, Cicero, Berwyn, Riverside, La Grange, Hinsdale, Downers Grove, Naperville, Lombard or any other western suburb, and wish something both permanent and profitable, you are invited to call for an interview at the time and place stated below.

A young man, H. Van M., came into this business about a month ago and since has had two weeks of $100.00 each or better. No past experience—didn't even believe he could succeed. I will introduce you to numerous other men working with me who will show you remarkable moneymaking records, and who started from "scratch" the same as you—and with the same generous arrangement given to the oldest man here in Electrolux [not refrigeration].

I wish to see men with family responsibilities, good references, steady and dependable, and who know what work really means—the consistent, steady kind that piles up and pyramids! If YOU have that tenacity, there is an opening for you here, provided you are not under 25 or over 46. If accepted you must plan upon a two-day preparatory period, but without cost or obligation of any kind—and with an opportunity of making a living income while you are learning more about this business, which is one of the outstanding American successes of the past four years.

Be here any time between 9 a. m. and 12 noon, Wednesday, Sept. 13. Call at 4th floor, Lake-Marion Bldg., Oak Park, Ill. Ask for Mr. Wilber.
